Bill Klepper of the Portland Beavers brought to town Friday his boss, George W. Norgan of Vancouver, B. C., and his associate, Robert W. Fiddes, also of Vancouver, and Andy Cook of Portland. They looked over Waters ball park, which the Beavers' owners have acquired and decided on some initial improvements to be made at the grounds this fall.

Dasch Topmost "We look for the Western International league to resume next year," said Norgan, "and Legion Hitter will have the Salem Senators in there pitching. I believe the tieup with the Portland Beavers will work out fine. We are pleased to make the Salem connection and appreciate the fine response already given us."

Klepper said he would hire a grounds-keeper right away to look after the local park.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 10-(A)-The drawing tonight for first game opponents Saturday in the American Legion junior baseball Pacific northwest tournament pits the Portland, Ore., team against Boise; and the Vancouver, Wash., entry against Stockton, Calif.

The four coach-managers decided tonight that the tournament will be played with doubleheaders Saturday and Sunday evenings, a single game Monday evening and one or two games Tuesday evening depending on whether a seventh is necessary. Play starts nightly at 7 o'clock (MWT).

The four managers are Lindsey Campbell of Portland, Harold Vogelsang of Stockton, Harvey Havnes of Vancouver and Mel Nelson of Boise.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 10-(AP)-Don Barnes, chubby ruddy-faced president of the St. Louis Browns, relinguished leadership of the American league baseball club today to Richard C. Muckerman, St. Louis businessman, in a surprise move and said he would "stand on the sidelines for awhite."

Muckerman, a vice president of the Browns, was elevated to the presidency at a board of directors' meeting after which Barnes announced sale of his stock to Muckerman, who now holds shares representing 56 per cent of the total or the controlling interest. After Pennant-Got It

"I went into baseball, not as a business enterprise, but to give St. Louis an American league pennant," Barnes said, "and now that the Browns have won it and the club's financial position is favorable I feel my purpose has been accomplished.

He asserted the Browns' present poor showing in the American league race did not prompt his decision to leave the club. He said he has no future plans in the sports field except to continue as an enthusiastic supporter of the browns and "take a rest and stand on the sidelines for awhile." He mentioned a trip to Europe when war conditions improve.
