

Eagles Tip Milkers Oaks Pound Bevos For Jr. Ball Crown For 10 to 2 Victory

Coursey Pitches 5 to 2 Clincher

The Eagles, who replace Funland as champions of the league, got another beautifully pitched game for their clinching victory. This time it was Ray Coursey on the mound and he responded with a three-hitter. Tall Ray Carrow, Mayflower server who was knocked out in Sunday's 14-1 barrage, came back to hurl creditable ball last night. He gave up seven bingles but fanned eleven to Coursey's seven.

The champs drew first blood in the second frame on two errors and a wild pitch, added two tallies in the third on a walk and bingles by Loren Spence and Bill Ready, checked in with another in the fourth on Garner's hit and another error and ended the scoring in the seventh with a single counter on Coursey's hit, Shepherd's sacrifice and a bingle by Spence.

Walt Lebold's crew got its only two runs in the second and without the aid of a hit. Coursey's control wobbled momentarily and he walked two after an infield boot. The runs came in on two fielder's choices that followed.

The game wound up all play in the "A" division for the season. SPORTSLIGHTNER

Welcome home dept: Or, happy days will be here again soon now that the village sportsters are headed down the long road home. They number from "A" to "Z" and in the hundreds, and won't it be good to see them again after the months and years they've been gone. Dwight Aden, Wes Roeder, Owen Garland, Lee Shinn, Don Beaver, Johnny Kolb, Bob Sederstrom, John Varley, Phil Bell, Tom Medley, Bill Beard, Max Allen, Jim Russell, the Beardsley boys, Dave Compton, "Spec" Keene, Verne Gilmore, Harold Haux, Phil and Eddie Salstrom, Mike Miller, Mike Balkovich, Travis Cross, Don Barnick, Clint Cameron, Rex Adolph, Johnny Macy, Irv Miller, Bruce Williams, Otto Skopid, Dan Morley, "Dutch" Simmons, Rex Hardy, Ike Wintermute, Dwight Adams, Gene Stewart, Jerry Stone, Henry Singer, Tony Painter, Harold Olinger, "Scotty" Sebern, Jimmy Nicholson, Johnny Orave, Dick Weisgerber, Bob Irish, Bud Coons, Joe Murray, Warren Ling, Orv Mull, Keller Wagner, Lee Fallon, Sam Gallaher, Marv Wahlgren, Bob Warren, "Powder" White, the Ambrose boys, Ev Staats and Andy Zahare, just to give you an idea of how many there really are. And that's not naming nearly all who little by little will be returning to mold what's left of the local sports picture back to normalcy. 'Tis almost too good to believe.

But while being thrilled over the long-awaited homecomings, don't forget the costs paid since December 7, 1941. We have only to think of two, Jimmy Robertson and Russ Satter, to realize it will be a sober homecoming and an expensive one.

Didn't Think the Ol' Berg Had it in Her
From the looks of that 3-0 count over the favored Portland Duros in the state softy meet the other night, it also looks as if one "Pinwheel" Percy Crofoot was only playing around while getting his pitching ears pinned back in the village league last spring, wot? . . . Took the end of the war to do it, but we thought it would take even more than that for staid old Salem to bust loose at the seams as she did Tuesday night. There's life in the old gal yet. Now if a war would only end about once a week—Come to think of it, track coaches looking for prospects should have ogled the dashes dashed off for the likker shop when the whistles started blowing. Gunder Haegg, Paavo Nurmi, Jesse Owens—all of 'em would have had to hustle to beat any one of the natives to the counter. . . The Charge of the Light Brigade and the Oklahoma land rush rated second and third to that surge. . . Sherman's march through Georgia was a mere saunter compared with the battle of downtown State street Tuesday night, too. Our ears are still ringing. . . Casualties, too. You should've seen the gendarmes, MPs and SFs doing a land office business at High and Chemeketa. . . One GI was heard to remark: "Cripes, I thought the war wuz over. I'm goin' back to camp where it's safe!" . . . Another chirped: "Hell, I ain't goin' back till they come after me." . . . They came after him, all right. . . It was grand with a capital "G", all of it. And we're danged glad we weren't given the job of counting the Wednesday morn headaches. We can't count that far. . .

Salem Softies Battle State Tourny Strongies Tonight

Salem's surprising softball entry in the annual state tourny at Portland, not expected to do other than make it interesting for a few of the more potent Portland clubs, goes back again tonight at 8:30 o'clock for second round battling at Buckman field. Coach Bob Schwartz' outfit takes on the seeded Grimshaw Tires, first round winners over Astoria and pre-tourney pick as the team to beat for the title.

If the Salems can scout by the Grimshaws and reknowned Pitcher Archie Hamlin, the local hopefuls will take over at the head of the favorite's class. "Pinwheel" Percy Crofoot will likely toe the slab again tonight after his 3-0 job over the favored Duro-Lumps in Tuesday's opening round. Bob Knight will also be on hand for service. The balance of the Salem lineup will likely remain unchanged—Lu Singer, catcher; Ken Manning, first; A. Schwartz, jr., short; George Scales, third; and Norm Nellis, Del Campbell, Ken Filsinger and Ken Weisner, outfield.

Timely bingles by Manning and Filsinger were largely responsible for Salem's win in the opening round.

The team will depart at 8:30 p. m. today from the Square Deal radio store.

Warriors Slate Angels, Oaks

FORT LEWIS, Aug. 15—(AP)—After twiddling their thumbs during three-quarters of the baseball season, the powerful Fort Lewis Warriors have at last been able to obtain at least one afternoon of formidable opposition.

The Warriors, whose roster includes a dozen former major leaguers, will tackle the Oakland and Los Angeles clubs of the Pacific Coast league in a double-header here next Monday afternoon, it was announced here today.

Sgt. John Stepich, manager of the club, said he planned to send "Red" Embree, formerly of the Cleveland Indians, against Oakland and that Bill Fleming, ex-member of the Chicago Cubs, would twirl against Los Angeles.

Linksmen Plan 'Victory' Meet

It's Victory day for the Salem golf clubbers and their tournament today as the weekly Thursday play by the Men's clubbers calls for a "Victory Sweepstakes" outing. Tourny Committeemen Dr. George Hoffman and Harry Gustafson announce the tourny will be over 18 holes and that full handicaps will be used by players.

The post-tourny supper planned in accordance with last weekend's intracub team tussle has also been moded "Victory Dinner."

The Don Hendrie team, losers of the weekend match, will sponsor the dinner for the winning Bud Waterman team.

A banner turnout of tourneyists and diners is urged by the committee.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15—(AP)—The Oakland Acons turned the league leading Portland Beavers aside 10 to 2 tonight to even up their Pacific Coast league series one game each. The Oaks drove out 15 hits and batted two Portland pitchers from the mound.

The 15 Oakland hits were made doubly effective by six Portland errors while Pitcher Floyd Stromme stopped the locals. The Oaks started off in front with a run in the second, helped by Jack Tising's own error. They made another in the third, helped by Catcher Souza's wild throw and a passed ball. Thereafter the Oaks did about what they pleased.

The Beavers began substituting and threw in three new faces. Glenn Crawford went to second, relief pitcher Isador Leon from the Phillies and outfielder Nick Rhabo from Los Angeles. The teams will play a double-header Thursday night, starting at 7:30 p. m. to make up a lost date earlier in the season.

Baseball Bigs Meet, Legislate Aid for Returning Vets

By BUS HAM
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15—(AP)—Baseball got away to a running start today on its post-war planning by making room for returning veterans in the world series and other post-season play.

But before officials opened their two-day major-league meeting, Ernest Stewart, 35, youngest member of the American league umpiring staff, disclosed that he had been "fired" by Will Harridge, league president, as a result of a squabble over salaries.

The action on the war veterans, in the form of a recommendation, must be approved by the league, and will apply to the little world series. If a player comes back any time in September he can play in the series, and no limit was placed on the number of veterans each club may sign after Aug. 31, the normal deadline for establishing eligibility for such games. This waives the old world series player limit of 25 insofar as veterans are concerned.

The question of holding the world series was not discussed in two lengthy sessions, but officials said they were "proceeding on the assumption that it's going to be played."

The office of defense transportation has indicated that restrictions on sports travel will soon be sufficiently relaxed to permit such events.

Baseball reiterated its determination to also see that returning veterans enjoy the same status they previously held, plus any advantages they would have gained, had they not gone into service. Time in military service will be counted the same as if it had been spent in baseball, and will apply, in particular, to the baseball draft status of players.

The "firing" disclosure by Stewart, former University of Southern California athlete in his fifth year of big league officiating, was not involved in the joint sessions. He told a reporter that Harridge said he caused disension and was disloyal to some other umpires and the league. This he denied, saying his discharge resulted from his interest in trying to obtain higher salaries for umpires.

Bevos Release, Hire Players

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15—(AP)—The Portland Pacific Coast league ball club has released two Beaver players and added three newcomers to the club roster.

Spencer Harris, veteran outfielder with the club since 1934, and Clarence "Beak" Federmyer, young relief pitcher who joined the club at spring training camp last year, were released.

Newcomers are Glenn Crawford, outfielder, and young Isador Leon, a Cuban, both on option from the Philadelphia Phillies, and Nick Rhabo, southside hitter bought from the Los Angeles club.

Peace Brings Racing Marks

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(AP)—Racing crowds soared with the spirits of the victory celebrants today as four tracks lured more than ever before, and three of them set betting marks.

A record breaking crowd of 42,000 observed the coming of peace by wagering more than ever had been recorded on an eight-race program at a Chicago course. The day's total was $1,915,980 compared to the $2,012,018 which went through the mutuels on nine races July Fourth of this year.

Olinger '9' Cops 2nd Half Crown

Rallying from behind a 3-1 deficit in the third inning with a big 10-run inning which included a wide assortment of walks, hit batsmen and errors and Pitcher Steckley's homer with one on, the Olinger playground team yesterday dumped Capitola, 12-4, of the second half championship of the Pee-Wee ball league. Nelson Feels Pressure, Says Slump Due on Eve Memphis Go

MEMPHIS, Aug. 15—(AP)—Byron Nelson says he is beginning to feel the "pressure" of his 11 straight tournament victories and is expecting "a slump any minute."

"It may be this one," the blonde umbrella man from Toledo remarked today between practice swings for the $13,333 Memphis open, starting tomorrow.

"I wouldn't say I have been playing over my head," the former Texas caddy said, "but that's too good golf to stretch over 11 tournaments and I know it can't last." Shows No Slump Signs

Nelson showed no signs of a slump, however, as he toured the 72-par Chikawan course in a practice round. He played with Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Maine, and both were hitting the ball on the button.

Vic Ghezzi, Bob Cochran, Johnny Bulla, Tony Penna and others of the barnstorming crew took warmup tours but none expressed much hope for keeping Mr. Nelson from No. 12.

Bums Blasted 20-6 by Cubs

By the Associated Press
The Cincinnati Reds dropped their 12th and 13th straight losses in Wednesday's National league play at Boston when the Braves captured 13-3 and 10-5 victories. Redleg pitchers had little luck stopping the Braves batting attack which collected 13 hits in the opener and 18 in the nightcap.

The New York Giants also dropped a pair of games at the Polo Grounds, Pittsburgh taking the opener 11-9 and the nightcap 3-2. Nick Strincevich hung up his 11th victory in the second game. The Chicago Cubs added a half game to their lead and slaughtered the Brooklyn Dodgers at the same time at Brooklyn with a 20-6 victory. Hank Borowy was the winning hurler.

At Philadelphia the Phils collected an 8-5 lead in the opener with St. Louis but succumbed 7-0 in the second game on a three-hit job by Gardner.

In the American league the Detroit Tigers had their lead slashed to 2 1/2 games before 46,660 holiday customers when Washington's Emil "Dutch" Leonard hurled an 8-0 shutout with his knuckleball. Leonard racked up his 14th victory and beat the leaders for the fourth straight time. At Cleveland Steve Gromek gained his 15th victory as the Indians downed the Athletics, 8-3. The White Sox hammered the Boston Red Sox for two wins at Chicago, 5-1 and 11-0. A night game at St. Louis saw "Red" Ruffing handed his first loss of the season, a 10-4 licking by the Browns.
