National War Fund Need Set At $115 Million

The final appeal for the National War fund will be made this fall, with the budget set at $115,000,000 in order to finance member agencies to liquidation or the end of 1946, according to advices today to Charles A. Sprague, president of the Oregon War chest, which raises the funds for National War fund in Oregon through the Marion County War chest.

Sprague stated that the National War fund had advised him that V-J day does not signify immediate end to the work of member agencies of the fund, with the exception of American Field service.

USO and USO-Camp shows must carry on their programs for service men until demobilization is an actuality, Sprague said. While it is expected there will be shifts and reductions in the USO budget, the work in the Pacific will have to be maintained at a high level and USO-Camp shows will face expanded programs for men in forces of occupation.

United Seamen's Service also will have to continue its work while the merchant fleets are engaged in bringing men and material home, Sprague said.

No immediate change is in sight for the budgets of the foreign relief agencies which are members of the National War Fund, he continued. He pointed out that President Truman, in his report to the people after his return from Potsdam, had made it clear that the people of this nation have a responsibility to aid the war victims of those nations which fought with us.

Devers predicted that it would be only a short time until there are four and six-lane highways extending from the Pacific to the Atlantic and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico.
