Salem Catholic Schools Start September 17

The three Catholic schools in Salem will open September 17, starting the 83rd year in which the Holy Names sisters have taught Salem young folk.

Registration of high school classes will start September 10. A language placement test for freshmen will be given starting at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Sept. 10. Sophomores will register Tuesday, Sept. 11; juniors, Wednesday, Sept. 12, and seniors, Thursday, Sept. 13. Class work will begin Monday, Sept. 17.

Registration in the two parochial grade schools, St. Joseph's and St. Vincent's, will be held on Sept. 12 to 15 at the schools. The hours of registration will be from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The faculty of Sacred Heart academy will include 12 sisters, St. Joseph's school eight, and St. Vincent's school, seven sisters. The 27 sisters of the Holy Names live at Sacred Heart academy in quarters which in the old days provided room for "boarders" from the surrounding territory. The pupils lived at the academy while attending school there.

Speed Rises on State Highways

Travel pace on Oregon highways sloped sharply upward with the termination of gasoline rationing and lifting of the 35-mile-an-hour speed restriction, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell announced here Saturday.

Speed checks by the state highway department to rthe month of August this year compared with August, 1944, showed that whereas a year ago only 15 per cent of the drivers exceeded 48 miles an hour during August, 1945, approximately 39 per cent exceeded that speed.

Three per cent of the drivers drove at speeds in excess of 65 miles an hour in August, 1945. Farrell warned that the Oregon speed limit is 55 miles an hour.

Word Received of Death Of Dr. Claude Stump

Word has reached close relatives in Salem of the sudden death of Dr. Claude E. Stump, 63, of Kansas City, Mo., on August 26. Surviving in Salem are his mother, Mrs. Catherine Stump, a sister, Miss Hazel Stump, an aunt, Mrs. May Malone, and a cousin, Mrs. W. W. Woodruff, all living at the latter's home, 2707 Brooks st.

Dr. Stump was a practicing physician in Kansas City for many years, a member of the Missouri state neurological society and a Mason. He died of a heart attack while on a fishing trip. Dr. Stump's wife died June 22, 1945.

U.S. National Bank Boosts Capital Stock

A recent special meeting of the shareholders of the United States National bank of Portland resulted in action to confirm an earlier proposal by the board of directors of that institution to increase the bank's capital stock, it was announced Saturday by E. C. Sammons, president.

The action will bring about an increase in the bank's capital stock from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000 and an increase in surplus from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000, and provide the bank with a paid-up capital and surplus of $18,000,000 and undivided profits of approximately $4,750,000.

The action also marks another in a long line of capital expansions for the United States National since its organization in 1891 with a capital of $250,000. Deposits and capital structure have grown from $177,090,911 and $11,352,265, respectively, on June 30, 1941, to $508,589,564 and $18,412,840 on June 30 of this year.

Sammons said the bank's revised structure would be adequate for many years to come, and would "place the United States National bank in an advantageous postwar position to meet the demands for credit."

"We are delighted," commented D. W. Eyre of Salem, vice president, "to receive this news of the bank's increase in capital structure. We are confident that it will enable us to give even more complete service to our customers in the critical years ahead."

Claims Fall Off—Unemployment claims, both new and continued, fell off materially in the second postwar week, the state unemployment compensation commission reported here Saturday. New claims dropped from 2170 the previous week to 1640 while the benefits load went down to 650, following 822 checks the first week after the Japanese surrender.

The irregular lines of the downtown New York streets are due to the fact that for 30 years no street plans were laid out and colonists built their cabins where they liked.

Dr. Thompson Retiring From Business Here

Dr. Will J. Thompson, who has practiced optometry in Salem for 25 years, announced Saturday he had disposed of his business to Dr. E. E. Boring, and that he and his wife would retire to their 16-acre place at Riverdale on the Willamette "to just take things kind of easy, and do the things we want to do whenever we want to."

Dr. Thompson, a native of Wyoming, Canada, is a graduate of the Northern Illinois College of Optometry. He came to the United States when seven years old.

"We've had this step in mind for some time, but didn't want to walk out on old patients during the war emergency," he said Saturday. Now, the Thompsons will devote their time to hobbies such as raising horses, boating, fishing and art work—both have done considerable painting.

Their daughter Mrs. W. J. Mannion, has a home near theirs. Their son, Lt. Will J. Thompson, Jr., who has been with Patch's army in Italy, France and Germany, is expected home soon. Dr. Thompson said he would continue his active memberships in the Salem chamber of commerce and the Kiwanis club.

Man Unhurt in Truck Wreck

Edward O. Monaghan, who figured in a truck accident on Thursday at Woodland, Calif., was visiting the home of his mother, Mrs. Nourse Radcliffe, at 1790 South Capitol st. Saturday.

According to Monaghan's version of the accident, the trailer on the transport truck which he was driving, broke loose and wrecked a truck which was following. He was at first reported injured, but told his mother that neither he nor the alternate driver with him, was hurt.

Boy to Hookers—Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Hooker, 456 N. 18th st., became the parents of a baby boy at 2:35 p.m. Saturday at Salem Deaconess hospital.

Meeting Postponed—The regular Monday meeting of Townsend club number 2 has been postponed because of the Labor day holiday.

Traffic Safety Contest Winners Announced

Klamath Falls, Grants Pass, Prineville and Bandon topped their respective population divisions in the 1945 Oregon cities safety contest at the end of the first six months. Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., announced Saturday.

In the first division, Klamath Falls was followed by Astoria, 1944 winner, in the second place with Medford third. Grants Pass was first in the second division with LaGrande second and Coos Bay third. Prineville was first in the third division with Dallas second and Lakeview third.

Bandon led the fourth division with Union second and Vale in third place.

Mrs. Rose Emma Gwinn Passes

Mrs. Rose Emma Gwinn, long-time resident of the Salem area, died at a local hospital on Saturday morning after an illness of several years.

Mrs. Gwinn was the daughter of Joseph and Isabel Hamilton Simon, and was born on June 3, 1870. Her father was a pioneer woolen mill man and farmer. She and her mother planted hops on the family acreage, among the first to be planted in the area, and were pioneers in the industry here.

Rose Simon was educated in Salem and graduated from Willamette university. Besides being actively engaged in farming, she also served in an executive position in a mail order firm in San Francisco for a number of years.

She married J. A. Gwinn, a steamboat man on the Columbia for many years and a member of the river improvement service of the government from 1888. They were married on Christmas day, 1924. In October, 1928, Gwinn severed connections with the federal service and came to Salem to live. He died several years ago.

Surviving Mrs. Gwinn are a brother, Charles Franklin Simon, an aunt, Mrs. C. W. Pugh of Clearlake and a niece in California.

OREGON CITY, Sept. 1—(AP)—J. K. and Ethel E. Elder, Portland, have sold a timber tract near Molalla to Crown Zellerbach corporation for about $20,000, it was announced today.

First National Has New Field Representative

The First National Bank of Portland announced Saturday the addition to its staff of Lewis C. Morse of Albany, as a special field representative throughout the Willamette valley. Morse has been co-partner of Kelly Feed & Seed company of Albany and also had 15 years of experience in the turkey production field in Oregon, Washington, and California.

He first became interested in turkey production while working for the Albers Milling company of San Francisco in 1930. In 1937, he came to Oregon and grew up with the industry in this state. Turkey production in Oregon ranked fourth among all states in 1944 and this year it is to be in second place.

Morse is making his headquarters at the Albany branch of the First National bank of Portland but is consulting with and advising farmers throughout the Willamette valley who are raising and intend to raise turkeys and produce turkey eggs and poulters.
