PORTLAND, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The Portland Beavers won their second straight game from San Diego tonight, 6-3, and raised their Coast League lead over Seattle's Rainiers to seven and a half games. The Rainiers lost their series opener to Sacramento.

Ad Liska, veteran Beaver submariner who has been trying to notch his 20th victory for two weeks finally made it tonight. He held the Padres to six hits while the Portlands were banging out 10 off Vallie Eaves, ace of the Padre staff. Eaves was trying for his 21st win.

Roy Younker and Charley English banged out homers for the Beavers, who now need to win only five more games to capture the 1945 pennant.

The Braves outfielder has, through most of the season, led both leagues in hitting, home runs and runs batted in. He also has a consecutive hitting streak which reached nearly 40 games. # Yearling Nets Golf Tourney Pairings Made; High $117,600 32 to Start in Salem Jaunt

NEWMARKET, Eng., Sept. 12.—(AP)—A world record price of $117,600 was paid today for a yearling thoroughbred by the Maharaja Gaekwar of Bhopal at the Newmarket annual September sale.

The colt is by Nearco out of Rosy Legend and is a full brother to Date, who won the British derby this year while representing Sir Eric Ohlson.

(The $75,000 is the recorded high for yearlings, although the Aga Khan is reported to have paid $85,000 for Peridoun in 1926 in a private transaction.)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Detroit's American League lead was shaved to a game and a half today when the Tigers divided a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics, copping the opener 7-4 at Bobo Newsum's expense, but dropping the second game in 16 innings, 3-2. The Washington Senators took a 3-1 win over

Fourteen Vets, New Skipper In Molalla Bucks' Grid Bag

MOLALLA, (Special)—Definitely down near the bottom of the heap in Duration league athletics the past few years, Molalla's Buckaroos, nee Indians, expect to do something about that uncoveted category this fall. Replete with new coach, youthful Don Wilson, comeback plans and 14 lettermen in a turnout of 35 grid aspirants, the Bucks intend making a mark in Duration touchdowning this time.

Wilson, who replaces Ellis Fauletta as skipper, officially opened drills this week. He has not announced what system his charges will use, but did say it wouldn't be the "T". The Bucks open at Estacada September 21, have nine games scheduled to date and are looking for another home tussle for Friday, November 16.

8000 Jam Stands as Annual Pendleton Roundup Opens Up

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Western rodeo stars and cowhands opened the Pendleton roundup today with a record 8000 spectators jamming the stands.

Results of first day competition: brahma steer riding—Willie Burton and Glenn Tyler stayed aboard. Northwest bucking contest—Seven of 19 cowboys were thrown. Outstanding riders were Cecil Bruce, Weiser; Lt. Bob Henry, Portland, Ross Dollarhyde, Lakeview.

Practice Woes Smack Vikings

The annual bug in most all prep footballing — failure to show up for practices regularly — has hit Salem high's touchdown troupe, reports Coach Tommy Drynan. Sixty-six aspirants turned out for the squad opening day, but since then the daily drills have seen only between 40 and 50 lads hiking through the prelin chores.

All of which has disturbed Drynan no end, for he must have the Vikings ready for game No. 1 in less than 10 days. The SHS'ers open here against Lebanon Friday night, September 21.

Oregon Golfer Leads Tourney

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Pvt. Bob McKendrick of Portland, Ore., with a three-under-par 71 took the lead at the halfway mark in the 36 hole U. S. army golf tournament, open to all service personnel in the United Kingdom today.

McKendrick shot a par 37 on the first nine holes then a four on the back nine in 34 to top nearest competitors by two strokes.

Sacs Pound Suds Elliott 9-5 Win

SEATTLE, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Sacramento hopped on Southpaw Glenn Elliott tonight to spank the Seattle Rainiers 9 to 5 in a Pacific Coast league baseball tussle, pushing the losers to seven and a half games behind the pace setting Portland Beavers.

SPORTSLIGHTNER

Sportie sorters: No pro football in the northwest this time (the Seattle and Portland "angels" are still trying to get respective shirts out of hock), so Dean McAdams, ex-Washington and Seattle Bomber whiz has signed on with the Hollywood Rangers. Baseballers aren't the only gamblers who never quit, wot? ... Add possibilities for Portland Beaver delivery from Phutli' Phillips—Charley Schanz. The ex-Salem flinger may be funneled to the Bevos in the Johnny O'Neil deal. His 2-w/0 15-10 record, even despite a hospital seige, doesn't warrant exactly a gilt-edged corner in the Philadelphia rebuilding plan ... Note from Salem ball leagues proxy Oliver-Huston, with attached clippings of Victoria B. C. sports sheet, hints that the Canucks in that city are paying the way for a possible Western International franchise at that. A Victoria newspaper is sponsoring diamond competitions for boys from 10 to 16 (much like our summer leagues here), and sporting goods merchants are dishing up the prizes. The competitions were the first staged in Victoria in more than a decade and are to be an annual attraction under the Victoria Baseball association. Huston comes to know of it because his wee nephew, Russell Chaloner, competed in the 10-12 years class ... The competitions, incidental, are called "Wooden Face" for reasons you'll probably have to take up with the Canucks. We've often heard the term "wooden head" as closely related to baseball and its men, but that "Wooden Face" is a newbie to us. The Canucks always did strive for the unconventional, even in baseball ... The Beavers are "in" for the PCL pennant, as conceded and thank the good Lord, but the real warring as far as the Bevo players are concerned is yet to come. The "Governors' Cup", an elaborate affair ordered by PCL Boss "Pants" Rowland engraved with facsimile signatures of Governors Earl Snell of Oregon, Mon Wallgren of Washington and Earl Warren of California, carries with it prize monies to the tune of $25,000. Winner of the Coast's own "world series" is to pluck off half of it with the three also-rans divvying up what's left. All of which means a double-jointed dogfight is due when the four clubs (Portland, Seattle, Sacramento and San Francisco, if you're a betting man) square off for the cup, and 25 G's ... So the gals 'n guys who have been missing all that sleep while rooting the Bevos to the pennant have some more missing to do after Sept. 23.

High School Coaching Job? All Yours, Sir

Oh not for the life of a high school coach, brother—you can have it. From what we've seen hither and yon lately as the prep skippers herd their touchdown hopefuls, mentoring the 'teen-aged masses is a profession unwanted by this sportie ... The poor guy stands alone as he greets half a hundred green peas one week and shudders when he looks forward to the opening game only two weeks hence. In the meantime he has nothing to do but clothe the greens, condition 'em, teach 'em that a touchdown, isn't a place to sit, show 'em how to knock somebody's brains out without getting their own knocked out in the process, tape up their wounds, worry over the elasticities of same wounds, chase down highly touted prospects who haven't yet got around to turning out for practice and, last but far from least, teach 'em the ins and outs of his particular system. All this and much more in no more than 30 or 40 hours of practice time ... Assistants? Mebbe one ... Gray hairs? Lots of 'em ... Public acclaim? Sure, if you win the championship or come close. Otherwise you're a bum who oughta be run out of town at least ... Publicity? Not much. The college coaches, with assistants to the right of 'em and assistants to the left of 'em and naught but high school-seasoned talent all around 'em, get most of the publicity ... Yes, you can have the job, brother. And to think a guy has to go to school and study for years 'n years before he can even sign his name "coach" !!!

Cordeiro Should Be No. 1 Wow, at Least

Camp Beale 13, College of the Pacific (Amos Alonzo Stagg) 7—but the Staggs are indexed as having less than nothing this year. Which means Oregon State may have plucked an opener win for itself when the Beales come north September 28. That is, if Lon Stiner & Co. come up with something more than nothing ... From the looks of communiques from Oregon and St. Mary's as to who gets one "Spikes" Cordeiro, the Hawaiian halfback had best turn out to be nothing less than another Tommy Harmon at least. His buildup in the taffy pull between Eugene and Moraga has been such that wherever he does wind up the lucky ones should get out the welcoming band ... If numbers mean anything, tab Albany's Bulldog as big spidee in the No-Name league this autumn. Eighty-two aspirants turned out for practice, the high water mark in the league and including Salem ... Only six lettermen and five seniors were included in the 82, incidentally ...

Zivic Bested In Houston Go

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Fritz Zivic stepped into the Coliseum ring tonight to take a 10 round punching from Paul Altman, Texas middleweight scrapper. After the third round it was all Altman.

The former world's champion welter from Pittsburgh carried his left at almost belt level and it was very few times during the evening that his right went into action. His best lead was his chin and Altman found it without a great deal of trouble.
