

Ticker-Tape Flows in New York; 6 Million Line Streets To Cheer Gen. Wainwright

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.-(AP)—The acclaim of New York's millions was heaped upon Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright today with a welcome so overpowering the hero of Corregidor found it "hard to take."

Along a 32-mile route from barge-dotted East river, through district to swank Fifth avenue, a police-estimated crowd of 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 persons roared a greeting to the 62-year-old four star general.

Ceiling Off on White Potatoes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.-(AP)—The OPA today announced suspension of prime ceilings on white potatoes for the period from tomorrow through Oct. 25.

The action, described as "the first move of the kind affecting an important staple food item," was taken after the department of agriculture had estimated the 1945 potato crop to be the largest in years — approximately 432,895,000 bushels.

Ceilings on certified and war approved seed potatoes are not affected.

OPA pointed out that in addition to the large crop expected, demands of the armed forces for potatoes have dropped off sharply.

Police Still Holding 2 Indian Youngsters

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.-(AP)—City police struggled for the third day today to locate the home of two Indian youngsters, found crying alone in a hotel room.

The 18-month-old baby girl was taken to a foster home. The 7-year-old boy, who knows only that his name is "Joe" and he lives over "that way" (pointing east) is being cared for by police matrons.

No Bids Received for Sewer Construction

EUGENE, Sept. 13.-(AP)—No bids were received for construction of sewers in the southeast portion of the city after the project was advertised recently, City Manager Deane Seeger told the city council today.

He had other bad news on construction—the city's swimming pool, for which $45,000 has been set aside, will not be built until costs come down.

Fire Chief Interrupted

ALBANY, Sept. 13.-(AP)—Fire Chief Don Hayne's talk on fire prevention was interrupted unexpectedly.

"Maybe I should have given this address earlier," he said to chamber of commerce officials as he rushed to his waiting fire truck.

—Maybe They Should Install Traffic Signals

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 13.-(AP)—Fishermen's tales of a new method of fishing in Wappapello lake are guaranteed not to be fish stories by conservation agents.

Fishermen say they use a boat, a strong light, get out into the spillway before the dam, make a lot of commotion in the water with paddles—and the fish, mostly bass, cooperate by jumping excitedly in the direction of the light. Two men say they got 40 pounds the other night that way.

The agents added that since the new system gained popularity the St. Francis river below the dam is lit up at night like Broadway.

Many Changes At Silverton Are Reported

SILVERTON.—Mrs. Gertrude Moen has returned from Dallas, where she went to be with her son, Julius Moen, who is improving following a major operation.

Wilma Hannan has resigned her position as assistant to Althea Meyer in the city water office, effective September 15. Miss Hannan will leave next week with Lt. Col. and Mrs. A. E. Berger for California.

She has been in the water office since March. Her successor has not been announced.

Mrs. Loyal Beals sustained a painful sprain to her ankle early this week when she slipped and fell on some cement steps. Medical attention was necessary.

Allice Jensen has had word that her niece, Mrs. Raymond Reed, is now with her husband in Beloit, Wis. How long he will be stationed there is not known.

Mrs. Reed, the former Vivian Bunes, at one time made her home here.

The WCTU will meet Friday at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. M. G. Gunderson.

Martin Hannan has been ill at the family home for several days. Mrs. Hannan, who has been in charge of the local farm labor office, is now at home and the office was closed this week.

SPY SUSPECT HELD

LONDON, Sept. 13.-(AP)—A Reuter's dispatch from Singapore said today British military authorities had arrested a man of undetermined nationality suspected of furnishing the Japanese with information which led to the sinking of the British battleships Prince of Wales and Repulse in 1941.

TOO MUCH LETTUCE

SEATTLE, Sept. 13.-(AP)—Guests at the Olympic hotel ate lettuce one day this week flown in from Alaska's Matanuska valley. However, it was strictly a one-day event, said hotel officials, since express charges alone were 60 cents a pound, or $36.24 for the two-crate shipment.

Frost Finishes Crop Growing In Some Areas

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.-(AP)—Frost ended the growing season in scattered areas of the state last week, and rain slowed harvest in others, the weather bureau reported today.

Spring grain harvest continued to progress, but corn was damaged in some localities by frost. Celery, onions, cantaloupes and watermelons were marketed. Rain delayed picking of hops early in the week but harvesting speeded up later. Similarly, peach picking was slowed.

Harvest of beans passed the peak. In northwest counties and along the coast, pastures were improved by rain but continued dry elsewhere.

12-Year-Old Boy Gives Out on Last Leg of Long Trip

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 13.-(AP)—A 12-year-old traveler was on the return leg of a more than 5,000 mile trip which was interrupted when he collapsed on the street here Monday.

The boy, Arthur J. Saturday of Savannah, Ga., will board the Union Pacific Challenger at 7 p. m. (MWT) under the guidance of the Traveler's Aid society.

With $52 he found in Savannah he rode buses to Los Angeles where his funds gave out. From there he hitchhiked to Salt Lake City.

Lifting Ceilings May Not Affect Spud Prices

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.-(AP)—Potato prices probably will not be affected materially by lifting of ceiling prices, C. R. Tulley, assistant state director for the U.S. department of agriculture said today.

The abolition of ceilings is scheduled within a few days. Tulley said USDA is pledged to support minimum prices for at least two more years, and that the current large crop will prevent prices from skyrocketing.

FUNDS NOW AVAILABLE

CORVALLIS, Sept. 12.-(AP)—Federal loan funds totalling $1,041,812 now are available to REA financed cooperatives as part of a three year program during which the government will spend $7,000,000 for construction and improvement of power lines in Oregon, the Oregon state extension service said today.

Turkey Improvement Assn. Votes to Continue Advertising

Oregon's Turkey Improvement association, voted at its fifth annual meeting held at the chamber of commerce rooms Thursday, to carry on the advertising program of the past year and increase the tax per bird from one-half to one cent per bird to cover the expense of the program.

Announcement was made that Price Schroeder will now be a fulltime supervisor for the official pulorum testing and flock selection program and that the state department of agriculture is now the official state agency. Heretofore, the Oregon poultry improvement board acted in official capacity.

The association recommended to the state department of agriculture that the pulorum control class for turkeys be eliminated and only the pulorum passed and pulorum clean classes be retained. This would mean that no reactors be permitted. Law now provides a tolerance of less than one per cent reactors.

In the president's report, C. R. Dear, Independence, called attention to the great improvement in Oregon turkeys since the advent of the improvement association.

He also pointed out that in 1940 the average weight of Oregon turkeys was 12½ pounds, while now that was "not considered good even for a hen."

Dr. C. E. Holmes, association supervisor, and Dr. E. M. Dickinson, chairman of the disease control committee, stressed that it was as difficult to find a poor flock this year as a good one in 1941, the first year of the association.

Mrs. Bertha Loveland Succumbs at Picnic

Mrs. Bertha M. Loveland, 405 South 29th st., died unexpectedly Thursday afternoon, while on a picnic at McMinnville.

Cause of her death was not actually known Thursday night, but other members of the Women's Relief corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, who were at the picnic, said that Mrs. Loveland suddenly became faint and requested to be taken to her car. She died a few minutes later.

The body was taken to the coroner's office in McMinnville and later brought here to the Clough-Barrick mortuary.

Among survivors are the widow, C. F. Loveland of Salem.

Government Asked to Aid in Mosquito Fight

PORTLAND, Sept. 13.-(AP)—The federal government was asked today to take a hand in Portland's mosquito menace next season.

In a request to Rep. Angell (R-Ore.), City Commissioner Dorothy McCullough Lee said she thought the problem could only be tackled on a regional basis. Mosquitoes here are a by-product of Columbia river floods, she said.

Rodeo Rolling At Pendleton

PENDLETON, Ore., Sept. 13.-(AP)—Performing before a colorful crowd of 11,000 Bill McMacken, Florence, Ariz., and Gene Rambo, Shandon, Calif., looked today as outstanding candidates for the championship of the 1945 Pendleton round-up.

McMacken, who already has two legs on the $5500 three-time winner trophy, and Rambo, who captured the trophy last year, were keeping a wary eye on two other sturdy contenders: Bill Lindermann, Red Lodge, Mont., leader for the nation's all-around championship; and his brother Bud.

Some of the wildest Brahma bulls ever entering the Pendleton ring tossed six of the nine contestants in second-day round-up events.

As a whole, Dickinson said, disease was not on the increase in Oregon. Pulorum control had been particularly effective. Paratyphoid control had not been quite as effective as yet, although, he added, it has "not become alarmingly widespread."

Stephen Adelman, secretary of the association and chairman of the poultry and egg committee was in charge of a packing demonstration, with representatives of the railway express, assisting.

Resolutions passed included one hitting at paratyphoid infection, recommending to the state department of agriculture and the state college experiment station that they assist in developing a program to quarantine and eradicate known sources of this disease.

Man Found Dead Under Salem Bridge

Clayton Edward Coon, about 34, was found dead Thursday afternoon under the south Church street bridge, apparently from natural causes, police stated.

The man had been employed at the state hospital here and before that in the Portland shipyards. His mother, Mrs. Sarah Lorene Coon of Princeton, Mo., is believed to be the only survivor.

The body was taken to the Clough-Barrick mortuary where Coroner T. M. Golden said he would make additional investigation.

Judge Opines On Divorces

SEATTLE, Sept. 13.-(AP)—Superior Judge James B. Kinne says he's cured divorces by handcuffing some couples to keep them together and by making others "fight it out with tooth-picks at 40 yards."

"But," added the judge, "you just can't make some people stay together—they're ornery."

Judge Kinne made the comment in connection with a current study of the cause of and ways to counteract the rise of divorces in King county. He said he recalled the day when a divorce was a scandal and suggested that people again be educated to believe that divorces are not decent.
