Friday at Sweetland Vikings Prep For Bend '11'

In high spirits and minus a single casualty after their crash into the win column against Albany last week. Salem high's footballers went to work last night to shape up for the Bend Lava Bear visit next Friday night. The Vikings, who have apparently found that rock 'em sock 'em touchdowning was okeh after all, have every intention of making it two wins in a row.

Quite satisfied with the improvement his charges have shown, Coach Tommy Drynan will spend most of the practice week on more line blocking for his offense and anti-toxin for "T" formation and passes, defensively. Coach Claude Cook's Bears use the "T." Drynan was particularly pleased with the work of his ends and tackles against Albany, same being Bill Hill, Jim Barlow, Rod Province and Bruce Rogers.

Heavy scrimmages are booked for tonight and tomorrow night.

Footballing around: "Superman and the speed of light has nothing on Oregon's Leicht," "Everything is Jake at Oregon and Idaho has seen the Leicht" - - punnish leads for stories on the Oregon-Idaho game for sure. But after watching Mr. Jake Leicht (pronounced all same "light") during an afternoon grid chore, one is moved to giving with the extra-special stuff. Mr. Leicht is "T"-riffic, and that's no

"T" is right. Tex Oliver's "T"wist is nothing more than the "T" formation galloped off a single wing spread and is identical with the offensive employed by Coach Tommy Drynan's Vikings. How Mr. Leicht makes it go from his quarterback or left half (he takes turns at either spot) post is something to see. Of course he had a weak sister to ramble against in Idaho, but it will take a star-studded defense in any sense to stop him. Just watch him once to be convinced.

Leicht's ability to scoot 100 vards in 9.6 seconds in a track suit is readily explained just any time he takes off around an end. His change of pace is beautiful and unpredictable. He could be the guy who instigated the quip: "Stop and

Salem's Handicap Golf Tournament Cline, Chambers In Finals

If anyone keeps Walt (Junior) Cline from doing the expected - - win the current Handicap tournament at Salem golf club and therein lock up his fourth consecutive major tourney vic-tory on the South River road layout - - he'll be 10-handicapped Ted Chambers, the golfing meat packing man and president of the links' Men's club. Chambers tackles Cline in the meet's payoff heat this week.

Cline whacked his way into the finals Sunday with a 2-up victory over 7-handicapped Bud Thrush. Chambers had earned a finalist role earlier with a 2 and 1 nod over Bill Goodwin. The struggle for the title will probably take place next Sunday.

Floyd Baxter a share of first place in the Men's club sweepstakes tournament over the weekend. Stacey carded a gross 73 and Baxter a 78 in the handicap event. A previous net 69 carded by Stacey grabbed off third place for him also. Thirtyfive participants tried.

The entertainment committee has announced a tournament and club house supper for Men's clubbers next Thursday evening.

Achiu-Jones Tiff Tops Armory Mat Program Tonight

Studded with everything from a main event, with heat, to a Hollywood actor as referee, Matchmaker Elton Owen presents his weekly grappling party. tonight at the Ferry Street Garden. Another highlight will be the return of Ex-GI Joe Lynam, the dynamic 41st divisioner who wowed the customers in his first two appearances here this season and then hit the shelf with a seige of malaria. Okeh and in shape again, Lynam goes against hairy hombre "Gorilla" Poggi in the 8:30 p.m. opener.

"Th' Sneeze" Achiu and his jujitsu repertoire against darkie Rufus Jones, a match that has all the earmarks of being a hot one, Achiu practiced his nervepinching stuff on the Jones torso last week as the popular Chinese matman refereed the Jones-Dusette mix, and Rowdy Rufe didn't like it. In fact he disliked ft so much he whopped Th' Sneeze and got himself disqualified. Matchmaker Owen, sensing a natural for his next meet-

The semiwindup special sends newcomer Angello Martinelli, who made his debut a popular last week, against Glen one Stone, the burly Tacoma cop who hasn't grappled here in many months.

The referee - thespian is Pat McKee, easily recognized character actor. Player of tough guys in the flickers, McKee is also top referee for Hollywood Legion stadium matches and considers an arbiting jaunt through the northwest a perfect vacation. Once quite a grappler himself, he has little troubled handling the bad boys and doesn't mind living up to that reputation. One of his most recent picy tures is "Gentleman Jim." Mc-Kee refereed a card here two years ago.

Despite the added attractions, there will be no advance in admission prices for the partly, according to Owen.

Cadets Tabbed Top Grid Team 111 Sport 'Experts' Cast Football Poll

By Harold Claassen NEW YORK, Oct. 8 -(AP)- Army, mythical national champion of 1944, is the outstanding college football team at this stage of the present campaign, in the opinion of 111 sports experts who participated today in the weekly Associated Press poll, now entering its tenth year.

The Cadets, unbeaten since 1943, were rated tops by 86 of the voting scribes. Twenty of the remainder put the charges of Col. Earl (Red) Blaik in second place, with the rest of the ballots dropping them in either third or fifth position.

Giving 10 points for each first place vote, nine for each second and eight for third, the Cadets gathered 1076 points.

Navy, which gave army its toughest struggle a year ago and looms as the only one to test them this fall, was ranked second with 955 points, drawing 14 votes for first place. The remainder of the top ten

Stan Hack's Hit Off Trout Nets Win in Thrilling Game; Teams Rest Until Wednesday

By Gayle Talbot

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 .- (AP)-Stan Hack drove a blazing liner into left field in the 12th inning of today's sixth world series game, and when the ball bounced over Hank Greenberg's shoulder and rolled to the wall Billy Schuster scored all the way from first with the run that enabled the Chicago Cubs to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 7, and deadlock the classic at three victories apiece. #### Vikings Could Be Tough From Here In with 563.

Same villagers who watched the Vikings come through with surprise win over Albany Friday are still heralding the improvements shown by T. Drynan's kids. They looked like a ball club with a definite purpose against the Bulldogs, and not like the lackadaisicals who had previously impressed as being content to leave football's rockem sock-'em stuff alone. The line charged and hit low and hard both offensively and defensively. Everyone hustled. Drynan brought the club a long way during that one week of practice, and with a few more accessories added, SHS will be tough from here on out. Of particular note was the Vik blocking Friday. Albany's ends were mowed down regularly and ball toters got into the secondary after sweeping around the fallen wingmen. Had the quarterbacking been a bit more elastic and not so flooded with passes, the Drynans would have scored an even more impressive win we're sure. Even so, the team played like it had suddenly fallen in love with th game, and that could man some interesting evenings for Bend, Milwaukie, Corvallis, Astoria, Springfield - - and even Eugene.

> CHICAGO, Oct. 8 -(/P)- The three official scorers of the worlds series tonight reversed their decision on the play which broke up today's game, ruling that Stanley Hack of the Cubs had doubled in the 12th inning to score Bill Schuster with the winning run. Previously the scorers had decided that Hack had singled, with Hank Greenberg, left fielder of the Tigers, getting an error.

there to head off ground balls. It was one of those plays which will be debated in the baseball world for some time.

Regardless of whose fault it was, the sight of Schuster scampering home meant that the National league champions had fought off the "sudden death" that had threatened them and that the seventh and deciding game would be played down to the bitter finish on Wednesday. The teams will rest tomorrow while Wrigley field, doubtless, is being sold out again.

Today's loss, after one of the weirdest, wildest games in series history, brought shudders to Detroit fans, who twice before, in 1934 and 1940, had seen their league champions take a 3-2 lead in games and then go down to defeat before the St. Louis Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds, respectively.

It was the longest game in series history, consuming three hours and 28 minutes against the previous record of 2:54. It was full of loose play, the Cubs committing three errors and the Tigers two, and there was put on exhibition some of the dizziest base-running-anyone ever saw.
