

Bevin Asks U.S. Assistance in Europe Crisis

LONDON, Oct. 26 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today that Europe had been brought to near chaos by a deliberate Nazi plan, and faced disaster soon unless the U.S. Congress voted $1,500,000,000 to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Hunger and privation in Europe may bring "further prolific human loss more devastating than a gun or atomic bomb," he told Commons.

Bevin drew attention to congressional debate on funds for UNRRA, and declared "If that vote is not granted, UNRRA will be broke and the situation we have to face in a few weeks' time will be disastrous."

(President Truman has asked Congress to give $550,000,000 to UNRRA, the remaining portion of America's first authorized contribution of $1,500,000,000. Truman said that after this action was completed, he would ask Congress to authorize a second $1,500,000,000 contribution. This with the $550,000,000 would total $1,900,000,000, rather than the figure Bevin gave.)

Bond Drive Saleswomen Hear Greider

"The war isn't over — I'm here to tell you that men in hospitals are expecting from 130,000,000 Americans the same financial support that provided us with the best in fighting materials while we were out there doing that nasty job," Carlton Greider, Salem marine corps lieutenant blinded on Tinian, said Friday night.

Keynoting the organization meeting of Marion county war bond saleswomen at the Dairy Cooperative association hall, Greider declared that the finest in artificial limbs, in medicines and in physicians' services has been made available to American servicemen because the nation has been interested enough to invest in war bonds.

Mrs. Henry Kayser, county women's division chairman, presided at the meeting, where O. J. Miller of the Western Picture Operators' association showed moving pictures; John Hodgkins, assistant manager for the state war finance committee; Mrs. Ellen McVeagh, state women's division chairman; Thomas B. Purcell, publisher of the Gresham Outlook, and Douglas Yeater, Marion county war finance chairman, were among the speakers.

Cloud Returns To Crater Lake

MEDFORD, Oct. 26 (AP)—The mysterious cloud which several observers have reported seeing over Crater lake has appeared again, Park Superintendent E. F. Leavitt said today.

For the fourth time in three weeks, credible witnesses said they watched the strange smoke or gas cloud rise apparently from the lake surface. Latest report came from Mrs. Alice Thomas, the park storekeeper, who said she and her sister saw the cloud yesterday morning.

Leavitt believes the strange clouds may indicate a return of volcanic activity to the area.

Ley Denounces Anti-Semitism In Pre-Suicide Message

NERNBERG, Oct. 26 (AP)—Suicide Robert Ley, in a farewell "political testimony" released today, blamed Nazism's downfall on its vicious anti-Semitism and proposed a plan for Germans and Jews to reach "a complete reconciliation."

Ley, Nazi labor boss who hanged himself to escape a war crimes trial, asserted the Nazis themselves "must declare to our youth that it (anti-Semitism) was a mistake. The youth will not believe our opponents."

The 1200-word document, addressed "to my German people," was called "a terrific apology for his anti-Semitism" by Col. John Harlan Amos, U.S. interrogation chief at Nuerenberg.

Ley declared the "whole ex-

Coast Cities Plan Navy Day Celebrations

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26 (AP)—The navy holds "open house" tomorrow up and down the coasts of California, Oregon and Washington.

In what is expected to be the greatest Navy Day celebration in history, Pacific port communities will turn their populations out en masse in tribute to the ships and men who did so much in bringing the treacherous enemies of World War II to complete surrender.

Major fetes were scheduled at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle, but many another coastal city planned to go all out in the nation-wide observance.

San Franciscans, already overwhelmed by a series of navy parades and celebrations since V-J day, will be outdoors by the thousands tomorrow to witness the flight of 200 navy planes over the city. Later, while other thousands are visiting ships in the bay, a fleet of blimps which in wartime kept watch along the coastal waters, will sail over a holiday-crowded Market street. On Sunday a pleasure-craft salute to the fighting ships will feature a parade of some 400 yachts.

Seattle will be the focal point of the western Washington observance, with 60 carrier-based planes from Astoria demonstrating over the USC-Washington football game there at half-time.

Ships at anchor at Portland, open for public inspection, are the carrier Independence, cruisers Topeka and Amsterdam, destroyers Garrard and Woodworth, and the submarines Ictish and Hawkbill.

'Movie' Escape Attempt Fails

OREGON CITY, Ore., Oct. 26 (AP)—City police declared today they always get their man—with the help of deputy sheriffs, the fire department and a Crown-Willamette company tugboat.

Paul L. Honeycutt, 23, broke away from deputies last night, dashed to the superhighway just north of the Oregon City-West Linn bridge, and leaped 25 feet to a ledge. Unfazed, he dived into the water and reached a log raft.

Officers summoned a fire truck ladder and a tug and, after a half hour, apprehended Honeycutt. He was charged with drunk and disorderly conduct.

Oregon Profits On Liquor Deal

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 26 (AP)—Oregon will profit by at least $3,000,000 from its 1943 joint distilleries purchase with Washington, even if the states have to pay all federal taxes on the deal, a legislative investigating committee was told today.

George P. Lilley, liquor commission chairman when the purchase was made, said the "worst possible" that could happen would make Oregon liable for $2,500,000 in taxes. The commission already has counted $5,500,000 in profits, however, and the figure may reach $8,000,000 eventually, he reported.
