Seen and Heard . . .

By Jeryme English

WEDDING ECHOES . . . . . Memorable for its beauty was the marriage of Betty Simmons and James Haley last Saturday night at the First Methodist church . . . The reception which followed in the Mirror and Marine rooms at the Marion hotel was the first large formal event of the season, with everyone dressed in his best "bib and tucker."

Carrying out the all white color scheme were the pretty lace and marquisette dresses of the five attendants . . . Around their necks were single strands of pearls, gifts from the bride . . . The only touch of color was pink bouvardia in their nosegays . . . We especially liked the girls walking singly down the aisle . . . Many comments on Betty's gorgeous bouquet . . . a large fan of orchids, white roses and bouvardia, tied with white satin ribbon . . . Her exquisite gown was of ivory satin and a coronet held her veil in place.

Before a large basket of chrysanthemums and dahlias the bridal party received . . . The two mothers looked lovely in their gowns . . . Mrs. Roy Simmons' stunning gown was of French blue crepe enhanced with gold sequins and matching gloves with sequin trim . . . Mrs. Emma Haley wore a handsome model of black chiffon combined with lace and lace gloves . . . and both wearing orchids.

More of same . . . Greeting old friends at the reception were many out-of-town guests . . . Lt. Col. and Mrs. John J. Elliott came in with Mr. and Mrs. Palmer McDonald and Mrs. H. G. Maison, who has been in Portland while Colonel Maison was at Barnes hospital . . . Mrs. Elliott was striking in black jersey with gold trim and clever hair ornament . . . Mrs. McDonald also wore black studded with gold sequins . . . Mr. and Mrs. Abe Cohen, who formerly lived here, and Mr. and Mrs. James Clark of Seattle, also former Salem residents, were welcoming friends . . .

Barbara Barnett was escorted by her husband, Major Robert Barnett, who arrived two days before, walking into the house unannounced . . . Barbara knew he was in the states but not that close to home . . . She looked pretty in a black gown enhanced with lace and mouton coat . . . They came in with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bell . . . the latter stunning in a black gown with black tulle down the right side in back faced with American Beauty rose . . . over it she wore a silver fox coat . . . With Mrs. Arch Jerman was her son-in-law, Flight Officer Donald Plympton, whose wife, Wilma, was one of the bridal attendants . . . Mrs. Jerman wore a becoming gown of black with pink inset on the bodice . . .

As we walked about the reception rooms noted brunette Mrs. Harry H. Weinstein distinctive in a sophisticated Pattullo model of sapphire blue crepe with draped skirt and three matching flowers down the side and a slit in front . . . Mrs. Conrad Paulus' handsome gown was of seafoam and aqua crepe embellished with sequins . . . at the church she wore an ermine cape and muff and long white kid gloves . . . Mrs. Paul Hendricks attractive in a chartruse crepe with wide slit in front . . . Mrs. Breyman Boise wearing a becoming model of black with a black net apron which tied in back . . . the apron enhanced with varied colored sequins which she tells us she sewed on herself . . . Around her neck was a coral necklace and she wore gloves of the same shade . . .

Fred Reidy being welcomed home from the service and accompanied by his blonde wife, Stella, who wore black with pink feather hat . . . Lt. and Mrs. Vernon Barkhurst (Phyllis Adams) home again . . . He plans to enter the University of Oregon winter term . . . until then they are "vacationing" in Silverton . . . Two who assisted . . . Mrs. Wendell Wyatt in red jersey and Mrs. William Speirs in green crepe with gold trim . . . both young matrons are expecting their husbands home early this winter . . . Mrs. Forrest Simmons was lovely in black with matching gloves and daughter, Audrey, who greeted guests at the door, wore a plaid taffeta frock.

Honeymoon bound . . . Betty donned a smart black suit with small matching hat when she and Jim left on their wedding trip . . . They took the plane from Portland the next day for San Francisco and Los Angeles . . . As the newlyweds came down the stairway at the hotel Betty threw her bouquet . . . Barbara Compton was the lucky catcher . . . It is possible she will be the next bride as her fiancée, Harold Hutchinson, arrived in the states from Europe last week.

FASHION BRIDGE on Monday night when the Junior Woman's club members entertained with their annual fall benefit . . . The styles were shown first with bridge following . . . The club rooms were beautifully decorated with large bouquets of chrysanthemums, dahlias and marigolds. Competing with the models and looking equally as smart were Mrs. Talbot Bennett, over from McMinnville for the occasion . . . She wore a handsome costume suit of sierra blue fashioned with a three-quarter length coat trimmed in brown squirrel . . . Mrs. William Haslin, chairman of the successful affair, looked smart in a fuchsia suit and black hat with crushed crown and trimmed in ermine tails . . . Mrs. Adam LeFor was striking in a black dress worn with cameo necklace and bracelet and black felt cloche enhanced with black feathers.

Au revoirs will be said this week to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Currey (Norma Jean Gilbertson), who are leaving Thursday for Eugene to live. Mr. Currey, discharged last month from the army after extensive service in Europe, has taken a position on the Eugene Register-Guard and will attend the University of Oregon, working on his master's degree. Last week the Curreys vacationed at Neskowin.

Miss Selma Nepom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Nepom of Portland, whose engagement to Mr. Bernard David Brown, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Brown of Salem, was announced in Portland on October 14 at the Multnomah hotel. Mr. Brown has just returned from the European theatre of operations. No date has been set for the wedding.

Christening Is Today

At the chapel at Camp San Luis Obispo today William Connell Dyer, III, son of Captain and Mrs. William C. Dyer, Jr. will be christened. Captain and Mrs. Dyer and their son have been residing at Pismo Beach, Calif. since August.

The year and a half old boy will be christened by the Episcopalian chaplain, who went overseas and served in the famed Timberwolf division with Captain Dyer. The little boy's godparents will be Captain and Mrs. Kenneth Bell of Seattle, who also live at Pismo Beach. William Connell's grandmothers are Mrs. Harry Burnside and Mrs. William Connell Dyer.

Theater Arts group will meet Tuesday for a 1 o'clock dessert with Mrs. Charles McElhinny on Court street. Mrs. Leon Lassers will read "Wings Over Europe" by Robert Nichols and Maurice Browne, a play published in 1929 on the atom bomb. The play was revived recently by the Theater guild on its Sunday night broadcasts.

Eastern Star social afternoon club will meet for all day Red Cross sewing Tuesday at the Masonic temple. There will be no luncheon committee and members are asked to bring their sandwiches.

Miss Mann Will Wed Today

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Mann to Mr. Arlo Daryl Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Young, will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the groom's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Loris Young on South Commercial street.

The Rev. Dudley Strain, pastor of the First Christian church, will perform the ceremony before an improvised altar of pink gladioluses, white chrysanthemums, palms and tapers. Mr. Art King of Eugene will sing "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Wiley Young of Portland will be the accompanist.

For her wedding the bride has chosen a crystal blue suit with black accessories and a bouquet of roses and bouvardia. The couple will be unattended.

At the reception which will follow the ceremony Mrs. Russell Proudfit will cut the bride's cake and Mrs. Paul Barham will serve the ices.

After a trip to the coast the couple will go to Eugene to make their home. Miss Mann and her husband-to-be attended Salem high school. He has been in the merchant marine.
