Silverton City Dads Hear Group Protests

Fire and Law Enforcement Problems Plague Councilmen

SILVERTON—Two communications, one from the Lions club, signed by Olum Larson, secretary, recommending that two firemen be on duty at night, and one from the American Legion, signed by Pat Grogan, commander, requesting the refund of $5 from the city for an additional license fee charged after midnight on Halloween, took up the greater part of the city council meeting Monday night.

The Lions club request protested conditions under which local firemen work and referred to Silverton's recent fatal fire, stating speed was all important at the time of a fire. Council members championed the firemen in their quick response to the fire and said that in the specific fire referred to, the firemen were there with the greatest possible speed but that the fire was so far advanced when discovered nothing could have been done that the firemen had not done.

Robert Borland, city manager, was asked to obtain the firemen's opinion on retaining firemen at the station during the night, and the probable cost of such retention. His findings will be reported back at the December meeting of the council.

In reference to the legion's request, Victor Crossnickle, night officer, said that he had been informed the city officials desired that dancing stop at midnight and otherwise the fee for another day be collected. Councilmen agreed to back the officers in the law enforcement program, stating that they felt sure that the Legion members themselves were back of the city's law enforcement officers.

Suggestion was made that local dance laws be clarified and the council voted to make the city manager, Borland, Mayor George Christenson, city attorney Rex Alamo, a committee to formulate a new dance ordinance which will be discussed by the council at its December meeting.

The council also voted to give M. B. Ford, grade school principal, authority to supervise the placing of portable barriers on A street during such hours as school children are crossing this street to the play grounds.

Reports from the police judge showed that fines during the past month had totaled $60.25 while costs were $47.75.
