RESIDENCE LOOTED

While Mr. and Mrs. George Ekaggs were gone from their 420 Bush st. home between 7:30 and 9 p. m. Sunday, someone removed a screen and opened a front window which was unlocked to gain entrance to the house, searched three bedrooms, taking approximately $75 worth of articles and left, apparently by an unlocked back door, probably frightened when lights went on in a house next door, city police said Monday. Burned matches were found in the three bedrooms, from which a bedspread, one white blanket, an alarm clock, an electric clock, two watches and a dress were reported missing.
