Miss Frey Bride Of Mr. Brandt

DALLAS—At a ceremony on November 30 Miss Rachel Violet Frey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed B. Frey of Dallas, became the bride of Mr. Arnold Henry Brandt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Brandt of Dallas. The nuptials were performed at the Evangelical Mennonite Brethren church in Dallas at 8:30 o'clock. The Rev. Sam P. Neufeldt of Salem performed the double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums and candles. Miss Verda Hamon of West Salem and Miss Lenora Ediger, who wore pink tulle gowns and corsages of roses, lighted the tapers. Mrs. Elmer Frey sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Sam F. Neufeldt played the wedding marches and selections on the vibratone preceding the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white dress with satin bodice and full net skirt enhanced with satin corsages and a train. Her fingertip length veil was held in place with a crown of lace edged in satin. She carried a bouquet of pink rapture roses and bouvardia.

Miss Florence Frey of Dallas was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pastel blue satin dress with marquisette skirt and carried a bouquet of white Ophelia roses.

Mr. John Frissen was best man and ushers were Mr. Dan Wiers and Mr. Henry Warkentin.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Frey wore a black dress with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Brandt chose a brown dress and accessories and her flowers were yellow roses. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. A. Warkentin, wore black and a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors for the newlyweds. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered cake flanked by white tapers. Bouquets of mixed chrysanthemums were used about the rooms. Miss Helena Rempel passed the guest book and Miss Elvora Warkentin and Miss Irene Frey, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the gifts. Mrs. Pete Brandt, sister-in-law of the groom, cut the wedding cake.

The bride attended schools in Dallas and was employed at the state industrial accident commission in Salem prior to her marriage. The groom attended schools in Dallas and Kansas. After a honeymoon the couple will return to North Dallas, where he is in partnership with his father on a farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith (Barbara Kurtz) are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Sunday night at the Salem General hospital. The little boy has an older sister, Carolyn. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy O. Smith. Mr. Smith was released from the coast guard this fall.

University Pays Tribute To Salem Man

ATHENS, O., Dec. 3.—Tribute was paid to Donald A. Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Larson, 1865 Center st., Salem, Ore., who was killed in action on Saipan on June 15, 1944, at a memorial service held at Ohio university on Dec. 2. Larson, who was a second lieutenant in the marine corps, was one of the 201 former Ohio university students who lost their lives in World War II.

President John C. Baker invited the parents, wives, and other close relatives of the gold star men to the service in Alumni Memorial auditorium on the campus. Engraved war memorial certificates, in morocco leather cases, were presented to the parents and wives at a university reception to be held immediately after the service.

Speaker at the service was Dr. J. Harry Cotton, president of McCormick Theological seminary of Chicago, formerly pastor of the Broad street Presbyterian church in Columbus, Ohio. A lecturer in India, China, and Japan under the Joseph Cook foundation, Dr. Cotton saw military service in the field artillery during the first World War.

Proceeding the memorial service, the Cutler chimes, located in Cutler hall, the oldest college edifice west of the Alleghenies, were played. An 80-voice choral group provided music for the service.

Lt. Robert L. Hudson, 1190 North 15th st., Salem, served during the war on the attack transport USS Barnstable which saw action from Guadalcanal to Japan, and which is engaged at the present time in serving with the "Magic Carpet" fleet, helping to return high-point veterans to the states.

More than 250 aircraft carriers, battleships, cruisers and transports have been assigned to the "Magic Carpet" fleet, which is picking up prospective discharges from various points in the Pacific. The Barnstable, while assigned to occupation tasks, made two runs to Japan from Sept. 20 to Nov. 1, the first from Lingayen Gulf, in the Philippines, to Wakayama, Honshu, and the second from Mindanao, Philippines, to Hiro Wan in the Kure area of Honshu.

WHORLEY BURIED HERE
The body of Adrian Whorley, veteran of World War I who died November 23 in Portland, was brought to Salem, where it has been interred at City View cemetery. Whorley, who was a fireman first class in the navy, is survived by a brother, Albert Whorley, Newport, and a half brother, Hiram Cooper, Madrona, Calif. Final rites were held at Parker's Funeral home, Newport.

Robert J. Berger, GM 1/c, Seia, and other crewmen who served on the submarine chaser PC 824 have been commended for "quick thinking and efficient action" which saved lives of the 11 members of a B-29 crew.

The action took place north of Saipan when the sub chaser was en route to Iwo Jima. The B-29 was seen to circle slowly around the convoy to which the PC 824 was attached. Then her crewmen began to bail out.

As each parachute opened, a ship's lookout was assigned to it with instructions to never take his eyes from it. The ship headed toward the fliers and the damage control party made preparations for the rescue, bringing out heaving lines, rope ladders and hot coffee.

As the last man bailed out, the B-29 swerved and careened into the sea. Six fliers were aboard the sub chaser in short order, and the remaining five were picked up by other ships.

It was the second rescue mission for the PC 824 and highlighted her seven months in the Pacific.
