Nytons!

World's Most Sought After Item Sold Over the Counter in Hurry

By Maxine Buren

What "Sesame" meant to Aladdin "Nylon" seems to mean to the modern woman, except there isn't a genie to stand in fine for her. In Tuesday morning's paper, Montgomery Ward let the city know that there was a limited number of nylons on sale and immediately the routine of some

Mamma was going to get

1500 families was turned topsy

By 8:15: Mrs. Homer Plunkett was snuggled coully against Ward's front door, with Mrs. Chester Anderson, Mrs. Sam Speciatra, Mrs. Jerrold Henry and about 1494 others to keep her company. The line extended along the block and around the corner. There was a generous number of men in there, too.

A good strong girl with a good strong assistant had been assigned to take the money and pass out the 300 sealed envelopes. each marked with the size of the nylong it contained.

It was to be a production line

The clock struck 9:30, the doors opened, up stepped five women who had somehow got the doors before Mrs. Plunkett and her companions, rightful owners of first place in line. The five ursurpers stepped down the sisle at the head of the line and up to the counter with $1.20 outstretched. The saleswoman said disarmingly, "Will you step over here please." The ladies stepped, and first thing they knew, the rightful first customers were being waited on. As far as I know the five ladies are still waiting for a place in Stores are used to handling queues and the people in them. Three hundred pairs of stockings went over the counter in a very few minutes and a like number were on sale in the afternoon, advertised only by word of mouth

It might be a good idea to remember these little postwar incidents, it won't be long before we'll be saying, "Wait in line for nylons? No. I never would."

Ruth Tracy Will Marry Lt. Orton Mrs. L. C. Tracy is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Ruth, to Lt. L. C. Orton, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Orton of Seattle. The wedding will be an event of the near future.
