That's the advice of a department store survey conducted among more than 1000 college men, most of them returned veterans, on the campuses of 12 universities. The survey disclosed: Young men still like sweater girls. They chose sweaters for daytime - particularly campus wear by a majority of 65 per cent. They want their girls to be sirens at night, wearing blacklow-necked and streamlined-by a vote of almost two to one. Ninety-six per cent want to see long evening dresses again, with the choice divided between the slinky type and the swirly vari-

Their favorite color is blue, with red and black second and third, respectively.

As for high heels-by all means. Twenty-two per cent haven't attained a broad viewpoint. They arbitrarily turned thumbs down on slacks - but 74 per cent approved them for sports and picnic wear. A miraculous four per cent okayed them for general daytime

To the question "What stands out in your mind as the best looking costume you have ever seen" the replies overwhelmingly favored strapless evening gowns and bathing suits.
