GI Shrank to 55 lbs. Before Prison Death

YOKOHAMA, Friday, Dec. 28. —(AP)—An American Marine Cpl. James G. Pavlokos shrank from 170 to only 55 pounds before he died of starvation in a Japanese prison camp guardhouse, said affidavits introduced today into the war crimes trial of Lt. Kel Yuri. Yuri, on trial before a U. S. military commission, is charged with responsibility for Pavlokos' death by torture and starvation and with having ordered guards to beat Pvt. Noah C. Heard before he was bayoneted to death May 31, 1944.

Yuri, former commandant of Omuta camp on Kyushu, is the second Japanese tried on atrocity charges in Japan. The first, Tetsuo Tsuchiya, was convicted yesterday and sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor.

Blind Italian Boy Sees Lights Of New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—(AP)—The blind eyes of an 8-year-old Italian boy, brought from Italy to America, responded tonight to the blinding brightness of New York City.

The little boy walked along a street near Times Square, counting the number of the lights in soft Italian until the number grew so great that he lost count. Although he is blind, his eyes detect very intense lights.

Holding tightly to the hand of PFC. Howard W. Gorgas, combat infantryman who escorted him to the United States for an operation to restore his vision, Giuliano Cabria cried out:

"This must be America. It is very bright!"

Gorgas, a member of the 88th (Blue Devil) division, who identified himself as "a blind boy's GI daddy," took Giuliano to a restaurant for a quiet dinner. The boy was wearing new brown shoes, which he obtained today through the aid of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia.

More than 3,000,000 troops moved overseas through the New York port of embarkation during World war II.
