Swegle Host
To Servicemen
For Holidays

SWEGLE — There were many service men home for the Christmas holidays, some for the first time in several years. PFC Kenneth R. Morris, son of Mrs. E. A. Terrill of 390 Fisher road, was home after many months service in the south Pacific and later with the army of occupation at Seoul, Korea. He enlisted in 1941.

Ensign Louis Neumann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Neumann of Garden road, spent his first Christmas at home in five years. Lester Bolton has received his discharge from the navy and is at home with his wife and two children.

Captain Dalke was at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Menno Dalke.

John J. Brennan, PHM 3/c and Mrs. Brennan were up from Oceanside, Calif. to spend the holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brennan.
Roger Wicklander, a gunner's mate, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Wicklander, was expected home from the Marshall Islands for the holidays.

Ensign George Everett Russell, USNR, 2325 Maple ave., Salem, is shown "shooting the sun" as assistant navigator aboard the Atlantic destroyer USS Gyatt, now on duty in the Gulf of Mexico. Ensign Russell attended Willamette university before entering the navy. (Official U. S. navy photograph.)

Maj. Clemens
Returns From European Duty

News has been received that Maj. Arthur Clemens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Clemens of Wasco, Calif., formerly of the Hazel Green district here, has returned from a year of duty in Europe. He served in France, Belgium, Germany and Holland in the ordnance department of the late Gen. George Patton's Third Army.

Excerpts from a Wasco, Calif. newspaper tells of Major Clemens' experiences, related as a guest speaker at the Wasco Exchange club luncheon. He indicated that it was generally conceded that the great success of the army in the European campaign could be traced largely to the efficiency of ordnance department operations. One of the features that amazed the Germans, Major Clemens indicated, was the efficiency with which the Americans maintained their supply lines, the breakthrough of Patton at St. Lo and the speed in which France was crossed. Another feature of the ordnance department was the maintenance of repair depots behind the fighting lines.

Major Clemens is now in the contracting business in Wasco with his father where his wife and children reside. He took his ROTC training at Oregon State college and his officer's training at Fort Benning. He is a graduate of Salem schools.

Dan Young, recently discharged veteran, cousin of R. R. Magarell, has reenlisted for three years' service, and is back again on the arranged furlough based on his former army service of over three years.

Navy Officers to Take Employment
On Terminal Leave

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 —(AP) Reserve officers released from active duty in the navy, marine corps and coast guard since Nov. 21 may enter civil employment immediately without surrendering their terminal leave pay.

Under a ruling made public yesterday by the navy, such officers are now entitled to receive the pay of their civil position concurrently with their terminal leave pay from the navy.

Also, the navy said, officers who waived their terminal leave prior to Nov. 21 in order to accept immediate federal civil employment, may now submit a claim for a lump sum settlement of leave pay.

Airlines to Buy
100 Jet Planes

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 —(AP) American Airlines system announced last night it has contracted to purchase approximately 100 jet exhaust propulsion type planes, the first to be used by commercial passenger airlines.

Used as an auxiliary to propeller drive, the jet propulsion will utilize formerly wasted exhaust gas heat and will add 20 miles an hour to cruising speed of the twin-engine, 40-passenger planes, made by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corp.
