Viks, Silverton Clash In District 11 Crucial

Win for Salems Clinches Berth in Tourney; Silverton Victory Causes Saturday Finale

District eleven's rapidly fading fight to determine its representative in the state hoop classic here next week reaches nearer the championship finish line tonight when Leslie's Southern Missionaries do-or-die stage tonight at Mt. Angel college gym when Salem's go against Parrish's Northern Pioneers in a 7:30 o'clock Junior Vikings tangle with Silverton's Silver Foxes in an eight o'clock high school playoff game on neutral Salem senior high floor. Eighth game. A win for the favored Salems drops the curtain on the playoffs, grade teams from both schools scrap off a preliminary at 6:15 o'clock, for the Vikings have yet to be beaten. But a win for the surging but this will be king's X as far as a title is concerned. The Leslie Silvertons, victims of Salem 46-21 in their first meeting, will extend the tourney to Saturday night for a final game.

Since bowing to Salem at the outset of the meet, Coach Ray Boe's band had waded through opposition handily. The Foxes eliminated Mt. Angel earlier this week with a 49-31 setback. The same night the Salems were absorbing a 45-32 beating at Oregon City which, along with handing the Vikings a surprising jolt, bolstered the Silverton chances for an upset win tonight. Salem had been bouncing along In championship style until the Oregon City mix.

Boe will probably start highscoring Dale Bennett and Carl Wickham at forwards, Glen Nado at center and Hartman and Trimble at guards tonight. Regular Guard Alan Terp was lost to the navy early this week. Coach Harold Hauk, hoping to have Captain Al Bellinger back in suit after the illness which kept him from playing at Oregon City, will likely start Jack Fitzmaurice, Gene (Bunny) Mason, Dick Hendrie and Al Chamberlain along with Bellinger. Calos Houck will be up front if Bellinger isn't ready.

Coach Bob Keuscher's Southerners, only by virtue of the fact that they downed Parrish by a larger margin last week than Parrish downed them the week before, will be favored to waltz to the title tonight. The Bob Metzger club nailed the Southern boys 26-25 in the opening game two weeks back, but Keuscher's clan came back last week to take a more lopsided 29-21 decision.

A throng second to none ever to witness a junior high championship game in Salem is fully expected to jam the arena. Record crowds have witnessed both the previous games played at Leslie and an all-time high in attendance for the series is due tonight.

For the Keuscher clan, which will be battling for something it hardly ever takes away from Parrish - a city hoop crown - it will likely be Bill Sproule and Jim Moore at forwards, tall Tom Paulus at center and sharpshooters Don Ray and Benny Pitzer at guards. Ed Baker and Dean Paulus, forwards, Keith Farnum, center, and Bud DuVal and Frank Osborn, guards, will probably form Metzger's opening five. Sparks Relieved---Tournament Tickets All Gone

Les Sparks, business director of the 27th annual state high school basketball tournament which begins at Willamette university Tuesday, breathed a bit easier here Thursday. The tickets were all assigned and only a few general admission ducats to individual morning and afternoon consolation series were available.

Sparks announced that more than 1000 written applications had been received by his office exclusive of the telephone and written applications from the city of Salem. The demand is the heaviest by far in tournament history.

The Oregon State High School Activities association, under whose authority the tournament is staged, allotted tickets, both season and general admission, on the following priority ratings.

1. Players participating. 2. Parents of participating

3. Student body of participating teams, for the games in which their schools are playing. Rulings of the fire marshal have further curtailed the available seating of the Willamette gymnasium, which at best runs rsix more first round tilts, startclose to 3000. The floor has been completely sanded and the gymnasium recleaned in preparation for one of the best tournaments in history. Initial games will be played Tuesday night, with the strong Medford Black Tornado meeting the hottest team in Portland's city league at the end of the season - - Roosevelt's Teddies. Rainier will meet the still unselected entrant from district three in the second contest on that eveing at 1 o'clock and running through the afternoon and evening. Thursday consolation competition will take up the morning and one afternoon game with the quarter-finals slated for afternoon and evening shows that day, Friday's program will follow a similar pattern, with the semi - finals scheduled for Friday evening. Consolation play winds up Saturday morning, the afternoon that day will find the gym quiet, and the finals are set for 8:45 p. m. Saturday night,
