Washington State Highway Officials Here

Mutual engineering problems were discussed Thursday by officials of the Oregon state highway commission and five visiting leaders of the Washington state highway department.

The men who came from Olympia are Clarence B. Shain, director of highways; James Davis, assistant director; Ray Dismoor, construction engineer; E. C. Simpson, engineer, and Harold Kenyon, in charge of contracts and plans.

R. H. Baldock, chief engineer for the Oregon highway commission, said that "Oregon and Washington have cooperated more closely in highway problems than any other two states in union, because their problems are so identical."

City Bicycle Plates Issued

Joan Schroeder, 1525 State st., holds the first 1946 bicycle license issued by the city police department, Wednesday, under provisions of the new bicycle ordinance adopted by the city council Monday.

The ordinance calls for a 50 cent registration fee for bicycle owners who must obtain a combined permit and certificate of ownership each year before January 10. After January 10, the fee is $1 to cover the current year, police announced. The $1 fee goes into effect April 1.

When a person buys a registered bicycle during the year he must obtain a reinsurance certificate at a fee of 25 cents. The person who sells a bicycle must surrender his certificate to the new owner.

County Lacks Spraying Fund

Marion county has no legal way to provide the $1000 asked for assistance in the state agriculture department cherry fruit fly control program, Grant Murphy, county judge, advised Frank McKinnon, chief of the division of plant industry, Thursday.

The department has placed rigid spraying and dusting rules on cherry trees in Marion, Yamhill, Polk and Linn counties.

No item had been budgeted for that purpose, Murphy said, and only fund available was the emergency fund, which the district attorney says can not be used. He stated that funds were given to the department for the control and that the control act did not contemplate assistance from the counties.

Tuberculosis Units Will Visit Salem

The Oregon Tuberculosis association's mobile chest x-ray unit is scheduled to appear in Salem next week—at the Oregon Pulp and Paper company from 9 to 5 on Wednesday, March 27, and at the American Legion hall March 28-30 inclusive.

Anyone may obtain free chest x-rays. Funds for the unit come from the annual Christmas sale. Persons who used the service last year are being urged to have-ex-rays again, as they should be taken yearly. Registration may be made by calling the Marion county public health association, telephone 4775. Mrs. Ruby Bergsvik is in charge of arrangements in Salem.

Airmail From Japan Moving by Ocean Ship

Irregularity of mail coming from service personnel in Japan may be at least partially explained by a cabled message received this week by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gilkey, route 1, Dayton. "Air mail" from Japan is now moving by regular ocean ship. It said. Their son, Lt. James Gilkey, AAF, recently transferred from elsewhere in Japan to Tokyo, sent the cable in response to a wire from his father after a long period without any sort of word from the young airman.

WU Reception Slated Friday

All new students, returning students, and new faculty members of Willamette university will be honored at a reception in University House, the home of President and Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Friday evening from 8 to 10.

Introducing the guests to the receiving line will be Coach Walter Erickson. Those in the line will be the Smiths, Dean and Mrs. Chester Luther, Dean and Mrs. Daniel Schulze, Dean and Mrs. Melvin Geist and Dean Olive M. Dahl.

Assisting in welcoming the students will be Dr. and Mrs. R. Ivan Lovell, Dr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lantz, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Riggs, Prof. and Mrs. Maurice Brennen, Prof. and Mrs. Leslie Sparks, Harold Malde, Earl Fedje and representatives from each of the campus living organizations.

County to Halt $75 OPA Rent

The county will no longer pay the $75 monthly share of the rent of the local OPA office, County Judge Grant Murphy told L. J. Bronaugh, Portland, OPA operations executive, by letter. Murphy said that the county was unable to carry the item in the new budget, now being prepared, because it was more than the budget could bear. The county agreed, at the solicitation of the OPA, to pay the monthly share until July 1.

Alpha Psi Delta Elects Officers

Willamette university's chapter of Alpha Psi Delta fraternity this week elected officers and completed plans for initiation of pledges later this week.
