

Auxiliary to the VFW post, which has already been formed, will be organized on Wednesday night, April 10 at the VFW hall at 8 o'clock. The group will be known as Meadowlark auxiliary, No. 6102. All mothers, wives, widows, sisters and daughters of enlisted men and officers of all armed forces who served overseas are eligible for membership. All those interested are asked to attend the organization meeting.

The Salem Oratorio society will commence practicing on Monday night for a music week concert. The rehearsal, first this season, will be at Waller hall at 7 o'clock. Several choral numbers and a special Grieg composition will be sung, also solos are to be included in the program.

Don't Look Now.

but... I wonder if the fellows who are trying out those buzz bombs etc. over New Mexico aren't the very same boys who just would take the alarm clock apart or hit the dynamite cop with a hammer no matter what the consequences.

Good neighbors... Well, all success to our friends to the south. Evidently, "Spring Came to Maiden Lane," even though it came from the fields of Oregon. Reminds us of the Californians turning on or off Yosemite Falls, according to whether a chamber of commerce delegation was going sightseeing or not.

No corn... There were no hay seeds in the hair of Marjorie Tye's ladies at the Homemakers Festival on Thursday. Some mighty stylish women attended, and most of them from rural districts. That's one product of the farm that gets little publicity — stylish women.

Tut tut... The persons who wear dark glasses all year are the very ones who complain about Oregon's dull weather.

Don't tell me... about women drivers. I've run up against more crazy men drivers this week — most women can drive better with one hand than those men were doing with both.
