Brides-Elect Reveal Plans . . .

Two April brides-elect are announcing plans for their marriages. Miss Helen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith, will be married on Sunday, April 14 to William Beckwith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Beckwith of Indianapolis, Indiana. The ceremony will be performed at the St. Mark Evangelical Lutheran church with the Rev. M. A. Getzendaner officiating at 4 o'clock.

Max Alfard will sing "Until" and "At Dawning" and Maurice Brennen will be the accompanist. Mrs. Floyd Smith, the bride's sister-in-law, will light the tapers.

Mr. Smith will give his daughter in marriage. She has asked Miss Ernestine Fredrickson to be her honor attendant. Floyd Smith will stand with Mr. Beckwith as best man.

A wedding reception will be held in the church parlors after the nuptials. The couple will go east to Indianapolis to make their home.

Miss Smith will be the honor guest at a pre-nuptial shower Wednesday night when Mrs. Frank Shater and Mrs. Floyd Smith entertain at the former's home on South Liberty street.

Ritchey-Taylor Vows

Wednesday, April 24 has been set as the date for the coming marriage of Miss Betty Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Taylor, to Thomas B. Ritchey of Independence.

The wedding will take place at the First Congregational church at 8 o'clock with Dr. Daniel Schulze officiating. Singing before the nuptials will be Carolyn Gaskin Sullivan of Corvallis and J. P. Smart. Mrs. James Smart will be the accompanist.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, has asked her sister, Mrs. Lloyd D. Reilly, to be her matron of honor. Paul Carey of Independence will be best man.

A wedding reception will be held in the fireplace room of the church after the rites.

Welcomed back to Salem are Mrs. Ward Davis and daughter, Linda, who have been residing in San Francisco during the war years, while Mr. Davis was stationed there with the army. Until they find living accommodations they are at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex W. Davis. Mr. Davis, an accountant, is now in business here. (Kennell-Ellis photo.)

Mrs. Harold A. Rosebraugh, above, who was Isabel Childs before her marriage, Saturday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Childs and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rosebraugh, at whose home the ceremony was performed.

Mr. Rosebraugh, a retired minister, officiated at his son's marriage. The couple exchanged vows before the fireplace which was banked with laurel and spirea. On the mantle was an arrangement of pink camellias flanked by white tapers. Only members of the immediate family were present.

For her marriage the bride chose a handsome dove grey gabardine dressmaker suit fashioned with dolman sleeves. She wore a mist pink blouse and black accessories. Her small black straw hat was wreathed in pink roses and black horsehair. Her corsage of pink roses was pinned to her suit with a French enamel pin of turquoise which had belonged to her mother. The couple was unattended.

Mrs. Rosebraugh attended her son's marriage in a black silk crepe gown with matching sequin trim and her flowers were red roses.

The newlyweds were honored at a wedding luncheon at the Quella immediately after the ceremony. Later in the day Mr. Rosebraugh and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria, B. C. They will return to Salem to live and will be at home at the Hazel-dorf apartments.

The new Mrs. Rosebraugh is city editor on The Oregon Statesman and her husband is associated in business with his father.

Mrs. Ron F. Buick, the former Muriel Joy White, who was married on March 16 at the Episcopal church in Masterton, New Zealand. The bride, who left the states in February, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert White of Salem. The couple will live in New Zealand on the groom's sheep ranch "Burnside." (Kennell-Ellis photo.)
