Best War Memorial I Know

There's an old war memorial in our town that I like to stop and look at now and then.

Back in 1865, folks gathered up all the bitter relics of battle and put them in a pile: cannon, battered rifles, broken swords, and rusted bayonets. Some of them from our side, some captured from the enemy.

They melted them down, and from this litter of war sprung a monument to friendship, tolerance and understanding—a promise that the bitterness and hatred were forgotten.

Since then, there've been all kinds of disagreements in this country, big and little. Prohibition was one—and there was plenty of bloodshed, misery and grief until the problem was resolved.

But from where I sit, it's part of the greatness of America that we remain a united country. We may disagree as individuals—but, accepting that difference of opinion, we can live in tolerance and mutual respect.

Looking for a place to live?
Southern Pacific Track Workers are furnished housing
Southern Pacific urgently needs track workers. On this job you help lay track and ties, ballast roadbed, repair storm damage and keep the line in good condition at all times. It's healthful, outdoor work. No experience required.
If you work with a section gang (stay in one locality and maintain one section of track) the company furnishes housing, including fuel, light and water, without cost.
If you work with an extra gang out on the line, you'll have outfit cars to live in. You'll get board at reasonable prices, too.
As a railroad worker you get these valuable extras: medical and hospital care, insurance, railroad pass privileges, and a fine retirement pension plan.
Remember, you need no experience to be a track worker. You'll catch on quickly. Remember, too, that Southern Pacific is a good outfit to be with—a permanent company with plenty of work ahead.
