

Spaceless spurts: Look alike — Dick Wenner of the Salems and Newie Harv Storey of the Beavers. Only the Beavers can keep Brother Storey—we'll stick with Dick It must be catching in British Columbia, for now it's a wealthy hotel and restaurant man named Morgan in aspiring New Westminster (19 miles this side of Vancouver) who "definitely wants a Western International league franchise in 1947." The reason? No, not to make more money but because (and get this): "I saw Montreal Royals and Syracuse go through a doubleheader last summer in the East and it was sure something. There's nothing like sitting with a bag of peanuts between your knees watching a first class ball game." A guy with that slant on baseball club-owning wouldn't miss being a dandy Those nine homers biffed in the Vancouver-Yakima game the other night constitute a new record for Bob Owen's historic Caplaine ball yard, all right, but they do not make for a new mark in all organized ball. At least on two occasions major league teams have whacked 10 homers in one game and on a number of other occasions minor league teams have exceeded nine in a single game Unlucky Joe Kravich in his first mound appearance at Vancouver, his old alma mater, they just finished giving him a p.a. bulldip when Vancouver Outfielder Earl Silverthorn ups and knocks Joe's first pitch out of the park for a homer!

SPORTS LIGHTNER

Meet the Senators: WILLIAM (BILL) CARNEY, outfielder. Twenty-five-year-old Bill joined the nine just before it commenced firing in WIL play and came on option from Portland.

BILL CARNEY
He's 6-1, weighs 180 and lives in Portland. Fresh out of the navy, in which he served as a lieutenant (jg). Carney is the former U of Oregon slugger of 1939-40-41-42. Following graduation he joined the Beavers (and in 64 games waffled an acceptable .378. Then came the navy and not much baseball until spring training again with the Bevos this year. Bill is married but has no children. To date he has been having a tough time getting started with the Salems and has played only against right handed pitching. But the Beavers think a lot of the long lean gardener and insist he'll regain his prewar stride soon. A slight leg muscle strain has also been hampering Carney in his first appearance with the Senator crew

Speaking of the Beavers (and they've been spoken about lately), despite the holes in their stockings and the lousiest hitting club in the PCL. Both Oakland and Sacramento are below the Portlands in latest averages. But Oakland is in second place. So the Beaver pitching has something to do with the club's lethargy too. But then we'd best not be popping off re the Portland pitching class one Lar Gregory decides the Marv Owen crew should have one or two of our Senator slingers. He's already trying to write the Bevos into plucking off George Vico, the so-and-so — Gregory.

that is The AP boys in Seattle are already convinced on Frisco Edwards, witness their Tuesday morn release: "The way ex-Umpire Frisco Edwards' club is going, the other club owners are beginning to ease the umpire field to see if they can find somebody else among the bandits in blue who can manage a team into eleven straight victories." Wonder if they were looking for Bill Skiff's way when they wrote that? Morrie Peterson, brother of former state champ Buddie, would be a natural for the local fistic carpenters, but they'll have to wait awhile. Morrie is in the merchant marine and is available only now and then

This may be so much space wasted time Wednesday's scores are in, but have you noticed how both the Boston Red Sox and our Senators have paralleled one another with respective win binges? Right Hand Man Bob Keucher has been insisting for a week that the Red Soxers are setting the tone and the Salems are following it nightly. The streaks started about the same time, went through a pair of Sunday doubleheaders and, up to Wednesday's games, were neck and neck at 12 Keucher maintains the Frisco Edwards flock will last just as long as the Red Soxers do come on you Beavtowners! Incidentally, the Salems are making like the Boston in another route also. Both clubs have been using the all-conquering home run as a convincer

Hoag Wins Wild Brawl From Paul in Eighth

Bedlam Breaks Up Armory Scuffle as Duane Notches 23rd; Brown KO Winner in Semi Go

The rascals have nothing on the box-fighters when it comes to wild and unpredictable endings. That was proved to a $1075 house at the Ferry Street Garden last night.

In one of the roughest of his many bar-roomers, Duane (The Durable) Hoag got up off his sagging silk panties to clout out what will technically be called an eighth round TKO over Los Angelino Jackie Paul in their mainer scrap.

But the heckle-buster right hand showed with his double-fisted rally he waded into the fray. Paul all through the heat and had the Los Angeles 128-pounder on the run at the end. No. 8 was more of the same and when Hoag finally floored the visitor for a nine count after swatting him with a corking right following it with another flurry that saw Paul no down for three, somebody from Paul's corner hopped into the ring. Paul's manager vowed he had nothing to do with it, but that technically lost Paul the match. And while Referee Packy McFarland was arguing it over in Paul's corner, both Hoag and Paul went at it again—and how! They both slugged toe to toe until the bell finally ended the round that is surely one of the most riot-spurring ever seen in the armory arena.

McFarland wouldn't let the fight continue in the ninth, which made Mr. Paul and the customers very unhappy. But rules are rules.

Chuck (Kid) Brown, 137, Portland caught hold of Johnny Archuleta, 133, Denver, when the latter was visibly out of shape and worked him over for a knock-out in 2:20 of the fourth round of their semi-windup. Archuleta was helpless in ring center when McFarland stopped it. Eddie Wharton, a main eventer in Portland, but last night a sub for Kelly Jackson, took an easy decision over Dave Arndt, Portland. In their middleweight four-master, Dick Abney, 148, Jefferson, knocked out Okey Wilson, 155, Salem, in the second. Wilson being a sub for a sub for a sub for Peterson. Matthew Mack, 152, Turner, won a four round decision over Wild Bill Daniels, 159, Portland. In the good opener.

And if they're worrying about who to match who with for their next show here they wouldn't have to look farther than Hoag and Paul for a super-natural.

Rocks, Millers In Softy Wins

Campbell's Rock Woolers, paced by Percy Crofoot's 2-hit pitching, and the Papermillers, led by Henry Singer's shutout serving, last night grabbed wins in the City Softball league, the Woolers over Barb's Sportsters, 4-0, and the Papermen over VFW, 10-0. Both winning teams are undefeated.

Ken Manning and Phil Salstrom helped the Rock Woolers along with homers. Highlight of the Papermill-VFW game was a circus catch in left field by Ivan Lowe of the winners. Singer allowed three hits.

Fishin' Forum

May 11 is the opening date for angling in many of the lakes and streams excepted from the general opening in April, according to the game commission office. This applies particularly to the Cascade area, and some of the major fishing waters that will open then include the lakes in the national forest in Linn and Marion counties; Square, Long, Round, Booth, Wasco and Cabot lakes in Jefferson county; Klamath and Deschutes county lakes with the exception of Davis, Toad, North and South Twin; and a number of lakes in Lane county.

Other openings this month include May 4 for Harney county; May 20 for most of Lake county waters; May 1 for that part of the Deschutes river between Wicklup dam to Sheep bridge. The official angling synopsis should be consulted for waters closed to all angling or having still later openings.

Count is still being kept by biologists of the fish and game commissions of the salmon catches in the Willamette river. A total number of salmon reported caught to date by anglers is 10,800. Catches, however, are beginning to taper off.

The first trip of the season of the game commission's spawning crew into Diamond lake was made through the deep snow without mishap, according to the report just received from Milt O'Brien, former m.a. Eight men travelled from Union creek to the lake on two sno-cats, arriving at their destination within a few hours. Formerly the journey has taken two days when travelling was by skis and snowshoes. The snow still was eight or nine feet deep in places, while the total snowfall this winter at the lake is reported to have been 21 1/2 feet. The crew went in early to make preparations for the taking of rainbow trout eggs this spring. It is hoped that about 6,000,000 eggs will be obtained, part of which will be hatched at the Diamond Lake hatchery and the rest distributed to other stations in the state.

Wednesday Sports Briefs

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 8 (AP)—The outright release of four San Diego Padre players and the option of another was announced today by President Bill Starg. Released were Johnny Hill, Joe Gedrus, Giles Knowles and Kirby Jordan. Pitcher Joe Faria was sent to Spokane of the Western International league on option.

BOSTON, May 8 (AP)—The Braves tonight released Lefty Larry Powell, a pitcher, who was signed last week one day after he had been released by the Red Sox. The Braves also announced option of left handed

Oregon Nears Division Title

SEATTLE, May 8 (AP)—The University of Oregon took a run-away lead in the northern division baseball pennant race today by crushing second place Washington 8 to 3. Lehl of Oregon was touched for 11 hits by the losers but kept them scattered except for the fifth inning.

Leslies Defeat Parrish Again

Leslie's Missionaries, with eighth graders predominant in the lineup, scored their second straight victory over Parrish on the Leslie field last night, rolling to a lopsided 12-4 win behind the 5-hit, 12-strikeout hurrying of Jim Moore. The southenders blasted Parrish ace Frank Osborn for six runs in the first frame and were never in danger. The two teams wind up their series Friday at Leslie.

New Record! Win-Wacky Solons Notch 13th Straight With 8-5 Nod Over Foe

ROCKY ROAD: The World Champion Detroit Tigers were depending on these four hurlers for a repeat this year, but to date the quartet is having trouble all along the line. Paul (Dixie) Trout, Virgil (Fire) Trucks and Al Benton (left to right) have been in and out with performances, and Hal Newhouse has been shelved by a bad elbow.

Red Sox Rack No. 13 As Pesky Sets Record

BOSTON, May 8 (AP)—The American league leading Red Sox set a new club record of 13 consecutive victories today by outscoring the Chicago White Sox, 14-10, in a game which also saw Johnny Pesky, star shortstop, set a new league record of six runs scored in a single contest. Pesky erased a mark Lou Gehrig set in 1936 and equalled the National league mark set by Mel Ott in 1934. Pesky, pinch hitter, batted in five official times up.

At Philadelphia Bobby Feller coasted behind a five-run Cleveland third inning to beat the Athletics with six hits, 5-2. At Washington Lefty Hal Newhouse pitched anything but like a man with a chipped elbow in beating the Senators for Detroit, 1-0, on two hits. Roger Wolf allowed four for Washington. The Tigers turned in the league's first triple play of the season for Newhouse. And at New York Spud Chandler pitched himself a fine game before 14,095 by setting the Browns down with three hits for a 5-1 victory. It was Chandler's fifth straight win.

In the National league Brooklyn bounced Cincinnati, 8-5, on Don Padgett's pinch homer in the tenth; Hank Wasy twirled Chicago to a 10-5 nod over Boston; Steve Kolo of the Giants handcuffed the Pirates for a 1-0 victory, and the St. Louis Cards kayoted the Phillies, 5-3, at St. Louis in a night game.

Vikings Play Albany Today

Boasting a 2-2 record in Big-6 league play, Salem high's Vikings will try to make it three wins today in a three o'clock baseball game with Albany's Bulldogs at Waters park. Catch Harold Hauk will shoot either Bud Craig or Red Province at the visitors, the latter having rejoined the team this week. The balance of the team will find Dick Allison behind the plate, Ed Kleen, Dick Hendrie, Roger Daach and either Craig or Carlos Houck in the infield, and Warren Valdes, Bud McKinney and Bob Funk in the outfield. The Vikings dropped a close 4-3 decision to the unbeaten Bulldogs at Albany earlier this spring.

Action Slated For Linksman

Starting with today's 18-hole Roodies outing, both men and women at Salem golf course face a full weekend of play. Today's 18-hole will be the first of the season for the Men's club Thursday outings. A 2-ball mixed foursome tournament is set for Sunday afternoon, partners to be drawn by lot. Reservations for both the tournament and the dinner which is to follow in the clubhouse afterward should be made not later than Friday with Mrs. R. I. McLaughlin (9553, morning). It will be the first social outing of the summer season for the mixed mashie wavers.

Tenth Inning Rally Does It

Gerkin Wins Sixth! Vico Clouts Homer.

WENATCHEE, May 8 (Special) It was the same story for the Salem Senators tonight—only it took longer.

A three-run rally in the ninth inning to tie the score and another three-run blast in the tenth won the ball game for Manager Frisco Edwards' flock, 8 to 5, over the Wenatchee Chiefs. And with it went Sam With consecutive Western International league victory without a single defeat for a new league record. Yakima won 12 at the outset of the 1938 season.

The Chiefs had a 5-2 lead going into the ninth and had scored all their runs off Rookie Claude Janeway. But George Vico then slammed one of Gene Babbitt's serves for a home run with one man aboard, Bob Caviness walked and Al Kubiak doubled him home to tie the score!

In the tenth, with two out, two singles and four consecutive walks gave the Senators their winning margin.

The Chiefs were able to get but one man off base in the last two innings after Thin Man Steve Gerkin had replaced Janeway for Salem. Gerkin got credit for the win, his sixth straight.

Salem has already clinched the three-game series here, which winds up tomorrow night. Vico's homer was his third of the season.

SILVER FOXES WIN

SILVERTON, May 8 (Special) Silvertown's Silver Foxes scored a run in the ninth here today to nip the Woodburn Bulldogs, 6-5, in a Willamette Valley league game. Carl Wickam of the winners allowed six hits and was aided by a four-run blast by his mates in the first inning off Woodburn's Andrew.
