

Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Dickson (Patricia Lee) snapped by the photographer leaving on their honeymoon following their marriage on June 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Owen in Oakland, Calif. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lee of Salem and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dickson of Monmouth. After a wedding trip in the south the couple will return to Salem. (Ames Studio, San Francisco).

Miss Betty Randall a Bride

In a setting of calla lilies, pink and white gladioluses and many white tapers, Miss Betty Randall, brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randall, became the bride of Charles Strong, son of the Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Strong of Chehalis, Wash., Thursday night at the First Congregational church.

It was at 8 o'clock that the groom's father officiated at his son's marriage. Reid Shelton sang "I Love Thee" and "I'll Walk Beside You." Miss Alice Rose was the organist. Lighting the tapers were Miss Jean Fries and Miss Vicky Jones who wore pastel summer frocks and wore wristlets of summer flowers.

Of white marquisette was the bridal gown. The full skirt, which terminated in a train, was designed with insets of scallops forming a redingote effect. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a high rounded neckline and a scalloped bertha. The sleeves were long. Her fingertip length veil cascaded from a Mary Stuart headress and she carried a fan shaped bouquet of white tuberous begonias. Mr. Randall gave his daughter in marriage.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Miss Margaret Hughlett, the maid of honor, Miss Janice Patterson and Miss Virginia Case, bridesmaids. The honor attendant wore a blue marquisette frock made with a high neckline, lace bertha, three-quarter length sleeves and a full skirt. Miss Case wore rose and Miss Patterson's dress was of lime green. Their dresses were made of marquisette with V necklines, short sleeves and full skirts. They carried bouquets of salmon pink tuberous begonias. The girls wore tiered net halos to match their frocks.

Attending the Groom
Stanley Boyd of Portland stood with the groom as best man. Seating the guests were Richard Mallett, Crestman, Stanley Rousseau, Corvallis, Frank Bennett and George Hanauka.

For her daughter's nuptials, Mrs. Randall selected a gown of rose chiffon designed with gold scrolling and a flowered hat. Her flowers were roses. Mrs. Strong wore a navy blue gown with white accessories for her son's marriage. Her corsage was of roses.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the fireplace room immediately after the service. Mrs. Bess Wolt cut the bride's cake and Mrs. C. S. Rousseau of Corvallis presided at the punch bowl. Scarlet Skill and Joyce Randall, sister of the bride, passed the dream cakes. Serving were Miss Mary Nims, Mrs. George Luthy, Portland, Miss Vicky Jones and Miss Jean Fries. Mrs. George Hanauka passed the guest book.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride donned a navy blue faille suit with white straw hat with navy trim and white accessories. Pinned to the shoulder of her suit was a white orchid. Mr. Strong and his bride are motoring east to Minneapolis where they will be at home at 507 Oak street S. E. The groom is attending the University of Minnesota medical school.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hadley and daughter, Eileen Patricia, are spending the week at Neskowin at the beach home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McKay.

Mrs. Clyde McClung, who will preside at the 30th annual convention of the auxiliary to the United Spanish War Veterans convening in Salem June 23 to 26th. Mrs. McClung is state president of the auxiliary.

Guests Play Bridge

Mrs. Alan Siewert was a bridge hostess Thursday night at the Siewert's cabin on the Liberty road for a group of her friends. After several hours of contract a late supper was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Siewert's guests were Mesdames Orville South, William Whitmore, Dean Trumbo, Paul Harrison, George Kellogg, Miss Beth Siewert, Miss Bernice Elgin and Miss Enid Nelson.

Soroptimists Install

To install new officers and to "officially" close spring, Salem Soroptimists and their guests gathered at Hillcrest school Wednesday night.

A buffet dinner was served on the tennis court and later the group of approximately 40, including a group of Portland Soroptimists, were entertained by girls of the school, toured the two main buildings, and participated in the installation ceremonies at which a Hillcrest student sang.

Retiring president, Mrs. Winifred Pettijohn, told of the many pounds of food and clothing Soroptimists of Salem have shipped to sister club members in Holland and England. She reported also on the organization's interest in the child guidance clinic for Salem, of its interest in Hillcrest school, its main project and of its civic efforts.

Mrs. Marie Lang was installed as president at brief installation ceremonies. Mrs. Ethel Lau and Mrs. Walter Barsch became first and second vice president; Mrs. L. M. Ramage and Mrs. R. D. Barton recording and corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Charles C. Gabriel treasurer and Mrs. Harold A. Rosebraugh director. Hostesses were Mrs. Kathryn Louisa, Hillcrest superintendent; Mrs. J. B. Bywater, Hillcrest counselor; Mrs. George Barnes and Mrs. L. D. Idleman.

The American War Mothers will discontinue their sewing meetings until the first Tuesday in September.

“WHOA.. Nellie!”

“Hey—what the heck! Imagine this old car acting like this! Must be monkey-glands or somethin’!”

No, brother—they’ve just treated her to a crankcase full of this Amazing New Sears ALLSTATE Compounded Motor Oil. The oil that runs toward heat—instead of away from it. Gets in to one-tenth-thousandth of an inch space between pistons and cylinder walls. Dissolves gum and sludge and floats ‘em away. Frees pistons, locked in their grooves by baked carbon deposits—and starts ‘em doing their stuff again. That’s where all this new power is coming from!

Drain out the old stuff—and fill ‘er up with ALLSTATE Compounded Motor Oil.

Boy—will you notice the difference!
