

Mayors Fear Vet Units May Be Permanent

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21—(AP)—Mayors of western states said today temporary housing hastily built for veterans, may become blighted areas a few years from now.

The American Municipal association, holding its western conference at Timberline Lodge, heard William Devins of Seattle appeal for improved coordination between federal agencies to provide housing. People can understand strike and reconversion delays, he said, but are puzzled because 1,000,000 pounds of metal needed on the Pacific coast was shipped from Camp Farago, Idaho, to the east. "We also cannot understand why we cannot get materials when war houses in Seattle are reputed to be bulging with them, why we cannot get nails when naval warehouses are full of them," he declared.

Mayor Earl J. Glade of Salt Lake City said the veterans' housing problem in his city would be solved "if the government would bear down on materials that we can't get"— lumber, glass and pipe— "so we can do the job under local control."

Anderson Hotel Changes Hands

SILVERTON, June 21—The Anderson hotel, operated for 37 years by Mrs. Ed Gunderson has been sold first to Leo Childs of Salem and by him to Mrs. Nellie Althus of Silverton who will take possession July 1. Announcement was made here today.

Mrs. Gunderson, and her late husband bought the hotel in 1909. She will retire to a small place across from the hotel, Oak at Second street.

Authorities to Evade Federal Rent Order

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21—(AP)—Housing authorities in this metropolitan region said today they would not comply with a federal public housing authority order to fix housing project rents according to renters' income.

Commissioners of the Portland Clackamas county and Vancouver, Wash., housing authorities declared the plan was unfair to low-income families not in housing projects and might tend to convert temporary war housing into permanent low-rent projects.

The group also demanded that FPHA rescind a ruling that all housing units be certified as "not of a temporary character." The ruling was designed to permit transfer of units to housing-short communities, but the commissioners feared it might lead to selling units to individuals and creation of new slums.

Membership Drive Planned At DAV Meet

PENDLETON, June 21—(AP)—The Disabled American Veterans expect to expand their 100,000 membership to 150,000 before the national convention in Portland next September, the national commander said today.

Dow V. Walker, Newport, told the state convention that President Truman might attend the national confab.

He told delegates the DAV had enabled amputees to obtain a new type of metal crutch, which does not require using the hands, and which is available without charge from the veterans administration.

The DAV is now concentrating on finding jobs for disabled veterans, Walker said.

Temporary Freight Rate Rise Granted

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today authorized emergency freight rate increases estimated to yield rail and water carriers about $300,000,000 more in gross revenue on an annual basis.

As temporary measure the commission granted a general five percent increase with exceptions for certain basic commodities. Eastern railroads received an additional five percent hike to equalize their earnings with other carriers.

The new rates can become effective July 1 on three days' notice. They are much the same as the emergency freight rate increases authorized on March 2, 1942 and suspended by the commission on July 1, 1944. There are certain modifications, however.

The increases will remain in effect until the commission can hold a full hearing and make a decision on the carriers' request for a general 25 percent boost with exceptions for certain basic commodities.

Chiang Orders Extension of China Truce

NANKING, June 21—(AP)—An eight-day extension of the Manchurian truce was ordered by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today, but prospects of a permanent settlement of China's civil strife began to dim by an apparent deadlock in peace negotiations here.

New differences developing during the recent peace talks appeared to have left the rival factions further apart than when the truce began June 7. While an agreement was reported near restoration of communications, the overall picture was far from encouraging.

The chief communist negotiator, Chou En-Lai, told a press conference that his party saw no way to accept the government's demand that red forces evacuate certain north China areas. The government's proposal for division of central Manchuria likewise was unacceptable, he said.

Congressmen Continue Work On OPA Bill

WASHINGTON, June 21—(AP)—Congress members working the OPA bill into final shape approved a provision today revising price ceilings to cover higher manufacturing costs and then took up the question of removing certain controls entirely.

The senate-house conference committee adopted with some modification the amendment by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) which requires that price ceilings for manufacturers must be high enough to cover their 1941 price plus the average cost increases in their industry since then.

The modification stipulates that the resulting price increases passed along to wholesalers, retailers and consumers shall be only the actual money increase, not the percentage increase.

GI Defendant Fined $60 at Lichfield Trial

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany, June 21—(AP)—A sixth defendant in the Lichfield cruelty trials was convicted and fined $60 today, while in a concurrent trial the prosecution charged that the detention camp in England commanded by Col. James A. Kilian was worse than the dungeons of the dark ages.

A military court fined Corp. Louis L. Robson of Kansas City, $60 after he admitted striking prisoners at Lichfield. He insisted he was acting on orders from officers.

Robson, Kilian and Lt. Leonard Ennis were tried simultaneously today by separate courts martial. A special court martial meanwhile sentenced PFC Joseph Defelice of Brooklyn, to six months imprisonment and a $240 fine for showing disrespect of an officer and breaking restrictions to quarters while waiting to testify against Robson and other Lichfield guards.

War Waif Saved From Deportation

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21—Michael Stuart, 16 (center), enjoys breakfast with his future adopted parents, Dr. and Mrs. William Treatle of Tacoma, Wash. A war waif since he was nine, Michael was about to be deported to his former home in Shanghai, China, when he developed a toothache. He was taken to the marine hospital and Dr. Treatle, who treated the boy and took a liking to him, posted a bond with immigration authorities. The Treatles said they will adopt the boy. Wealth, Narcotics Captured in Chinese Smuggling Ring Raid

VANOUVER, B. C., June 21—(CP)—Fabulous gems of the orient of untold value, precious jade and diamonds, a fortune in Canadian and United States gold coins were held tonight by police after the smashing of a Canada-wide lottery, smuggling and narcotics ring in a pre-dawn raid today on Chinatown.

In Market alley, a dingy section of Vancouver's Chinatown, law enforcement agencies swooped down to uncover the existence of the ring after months of intensive investigation, and finally overpowered four Chinese armed with meat cleavers who guarded a house doorway.

Strike Halts Operations at Rubber Plant

AKRON, O., June 21—(AP)—Production was resumed in the No. 1 plant of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. today, but a strike of 2,400 CIO-United Rubber Workers kept operations at a standstill at the General Tire & Rubber Co.

The Firestone walkout, which began Sunday with eight men and later expanded to 6,800, virtually ended at noon when 6,500 workers began returning to their jobs.

I. H. Watson, president of the Firestone local of the CIO-URW, said the company had violated its contract, but the employers would resume work and the dispute would be arbitrated. The 300 still idle are employed in the company's synthetic plant.

Meanwhile, Paul W. Fuller, resident conciliator for the rubber industry, who recently aided in settling the soft coal strike, met with union members in an effort to end the General Tire company strike. The workers quit at 12:01 a.m. today after the local's executive board invoked strike action voted by the membership May 29.

Quislings Vary Approach at Yugoslav Trial

BELGRADE, June 21—(AP)—One former minister in the quisling regime of the late Premier Milan Nedjc belligerently protested his innocence while another calmly stated he wanted to die in testimony today before a Yugoslav military court on charges of treason.

Veljko Jonic, 54, former minister of education, by far the most aggressive of all the defendants to testify thus far in the trial of Gen. Draja Mihailovic and 23 others, told the court:

Clear Conscience
"I admit making some mistakes, but my conscience is clear."
His demeanor was in sharp contrast to that of Tanasiji-Tasa Dinic, Nedjc's one-time interior minister, who admitted collaboration with the Germans and declared "I do not want to live after the great crimes I have committed."
Jonic Reprimanded
Jonic, who continually shook his finger at the court president during his testimony, was admonished by the jurist to "lower your voice and be polite or I'll order you from the court and you can submit your statement in writing."
He denied that fascism was taught in Yugoslav schools while he was minister of education and that the Germans tried to dictate educational policies.

Unity Asked in Mosquito War

PORTLAND, Ore., June 21—(AP)—A group of civic officials declared today effective war against the mosquito can be waged only if Oregon and Washington pass laws for cooperative control of the pesky insect.

Federal and state entomologists, county and city officials held a special meeting on the mosquito problem, which for years has bothered Multnomah and adjoining Oregon counties and Clark and Skamania counties, Wash. Frank L. Shull, chairman of the board of Multnomah county commissioners, asserted control ef-
