Luncheon at Spaulding's

Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding presided at a one o'clock luncheon Monday afternoon at her Court street home for the pleasure of members of her club and a group of additional guests. The affair was arranged in compliment to Mrs. J. H. Lauterman, a member of the club, who has returned to Salem after a two years stay in the south.

The luncheon table was centered with a bouquet of sweet peas flanked by pink tapers. The individual tables were centered with sweet pea and blue forget-me-not nosegays. Mrs. James Benning assisted her mother informally.

Additional guests were Miss Estampes, E. J. Scellars, Fred Stump, Edgar Linden, Jr., L. O. Arens, J. N. Chambers, Homer Goulet, Roy H. Mills and Percy R. Kelly.

Lt. Pillette Weds Nurse

Of interest to the groom's many Salem friends is announcement of the marriage of Lt. Mary Eleanor Bergen, USN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Bergen of Derby, Conn., to Lt. Charles Vincent Pillette, USNR, son of Mrs. Eva Pillette of Salem, which took place at the Floyd Bennett naval air station chapel, Brooklyn, N. Y., on June 15 at a high noon ceremony. Lt. Comdr. Joseph Conway, navy chaplain, officiated.

For her wedding the bride wore an afternoon frock of blue crepe fashioned with sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and short sleeves, with long white gloves. Her hat was white straw with white roses, and she carried a white prayerbook topped with a white orchid and streamers of begonia.

Lt. Betty Schwartz, USN, of Derby, Conn., is a graduate of honor, and Lt. Comdr. John Morrissey, USNR of Bell Harbor, N. Y., was best man.

The maid of honor wore a white and blue print dress with a white Juliet cap and a corsage of gardenias.

A reception was held following the wedding at the Officers' club at the air station. The newlyweds left by car on a wedding trip to be spent touring the east coast, after which they will stop at Alliance, Ohio, to take delivery on a new flying plane in which they will fly to Oregon, to be at home in Salem after August 1.

The bride, a graduate of the Derby high school and St. Francis hospital school of nursing in Hartford, Conn., attached to VR-3, US naval air station at Patuxent River, Md. She has been in the service since February, 1943, serving as flight nurse evacuating wounded in the Pacific theater. She has served in Guam, Okinawa, Manus Island and Kwajalein and expects her discharge shortly.

Lt. Pillette graduated from Salem high school and the Oregon Institute of Technology and has been in the navy since January, 1943. He is based at Floyd Bennett air station. He expects his discharge in July and will be associated here with the Salem Air Service, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Gordon and son, Douglas Allen, have returned to their home in Santa Monica, Calif. after a fortnight's stay here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Craig.

Mrs. Raymond Walsh, her son, Raymond, and daughter, Jane, have returned from San Mateo, Calif. Mrs. Walsh and her son went south to attend Jane's graduation at San Mateo Junior college, where she received her junior certificate. She will complete her college work at the University of Oregon this fall. They returned home by way of Lake Tahoe and Reno.

Are Your GLASSES UP-TO-DATE?

Eye change. Glasses don't. Unless you've had your eyes examined recently, it may be that further correction is indicated. Only way to make sure is to come in for a check-up. Modern eyewear is so different that new glasses, if needed, will pay you generous dividends in good looks—as well as correct vision.

Miss Grant Now Mrs. Krueger

Miss Elizabeth Mae Grant became Gordon A. Krueger's bride at a beautiful ceremony Monday night at the First Methodist church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Grant and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold A. Krueger. Dr. Joseph N. Adams officiated at 8:30 rites.

The altar was banked with bouquets of blue delphinium, pink snapdragons and white gladioli, the pews were marked with white satin ribbon bows and the aisle was lighted with candles. Miss Charlotte Reeves, wearing pink, and Miss Ruth Hughlett, in blue, lighted the tapers. Mrs. Gene Cooksey was the soloist and Mrs. James Smart the organist.

Of white satin and marquisette was the bridal gown. The satin bodice was designed with a scalloped peplum and long sleeves with points over the wrists. Buttons extended down the back and the high rounded neckline was fashioned with a marquisette yoke edged in a ruffle of handmade lace. The full marquisette skirt over satin terminated in a train.

Her fingertip length tulle veil cascaded from a braided satin coronet and was caught at the sides with clusters of stephanotis. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible marked with white orchids and streamers of Cecile brunner roses. Mr. Grant gave his daughter in marriage.

Immediately preceding the bride walked the matron of honor, Mrs. James Overlook of Seattle, and before her the two bridesmaids, Miss Amanda Hargis and Miss Betty Ann Dutton. The matron wore a white marquisette frock with lace basque bodice, short sleeves and a full skirt. She wore long blue jersey gloves and carried a nosegay of sweet peas centered with pink roses.

The bridesmaids' dresses were of white marquisette, with short sleeves and full skirts. They had elbow length pink jersey gloves and carried nosegays of sweet peas centered with blue delphinium and tied with pink streamers. The girls all wore matching satin bands in their hair caught with clusters of sweet peas at the side.

James S. Smart stood with the groom as best man. Seating the guests were Victor J. Collins, James Newcomb, Robert Victor and Malcolm Leo Page.

For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Grant selected an aqua blue crepe gown fashioned with a draped skirt. She wore long American Beauty Jersey gloves and her flowers were American Beauty roses. Mrs. Krueger attended her son's marriage in an ice blue satin gown designed with a draped skirt on each side, where it was caught with matching satin bows. She wore long black gloves and pink roses in her hair.

After a wedding trip to Victoria, B. C., the couple will be at home in Salem at 1875 North Capitol st. For traveling the bride wore a grey dressmaker suit with dolman sleeves and a matching beret. Her shoes and purse were lizard and she wore Kolinsky furs, to which were pinned white orchids. Mr. Krueger is now in business here with his father. The couple received their diplomas from the University of Oregon on June 15.

Mrs. Joseph Felton and son, Billy, have left for Pacific City to spend the summer months.

Betrothal of Couple Told

Miss Marcella Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gardner, Salem, is announcing her engagement to John F. Curtis, son of Mrs. J. E. Curtis, also of Salem. He was recently discharged from the navy and is at present employed by Keith Brown company.

Miss Gardner, a graduate of Salem high school, has since graduation been employed at state industrial accident commission offices.

No date has been set for the wedding.
