TECHNICITY HALTS SENTENCE

SEATTLE, June 28 (AP)—Superior Judge Matthew W. Hill's sentencing of Richard C. Britton to death was halted when defense counsel John M. Schermer challenged Hill's right to sit on the bench.

Hill was appointed by ex-Governor Arthur B. Langlie to fill in for Judge Malcolm Douglas, who was absent on military leave. Judge Douglas was re-elected in absence. Schermer argued that the Langlie appointment was invalid for a term of office which did not begin until after the governor's tenure of office expired. Britton was condemned to death by a jury which convicted him of participating in a store robbery in which a cashier was killed.

Federal Controls, Limitations Worry State's Real Estate Men

The real estate business, fast becoming the largest single business in volume of sale in Oregon, is currently worried over the federal debt and federal bureaucrats, according to Claude Murphy, state real estate commissioner from Portland.

Speaking at the Salem board of Realtors' luncheon Friday noon that "we are ruled by a bunch of new dealers and bureaucrats in Washington who never made a success of private business."

Branding the OPA as "no good" and federal subsidies as "class legislation," Murphy remarked that "controls on prices should be lifted to allow the old law of supply and demand to function."

"If this nation does not produce a George Washington, a Benjamin Franklin or a Thomas Jefferson soon, then private enterprise will become a thing of the past and democracy will not survive," Murphy stated.

Against Federal Housing
"Communism in politics and labor can only be combated by private ownership," he said. "The present building of federal housing crackerboxes to take the place of privately owned homes is wrecking our economy," he declared. In Oregon, he said, only about half the property is privately owned and tax-bearing.

On the bright side of the picture, Murphy stressed the prosperity, business opportunities and natural resources of the west coast and particularly in Oregon and the Willamette valley.

3806 Real Estate Men
Murphy also reported to the Salem board that at present in Oregon there was a total of 3806 licensed real estate operators, including brokers, partnerships, corporations and salesmen. The current average number of applications received for licenses per day is about eight per day. At present, he said, the number of licenses granted to brokers and salesmen during the first six months of this year has been 212 times the total for the entire year of 1940.

The Friday meeting was the last meeting the Salem board will hold until the first meeting in September, William Bliven, secretary, announced.

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—With the redeployment program of wartime units virtually completed, the Associated Press will terminate tomorrow its daily listing of service personnel returning from the European and Pacific theaters.

Since the service was started last July 20, more than 2,000,000 names were sent by commercial telegraph facilities and by mail to more than 400 newspapers and radio stations, the greatest mass distribution of names ever undertaken by a press association.

RULES ON CITY EXPANSION
When a city extends its boundaries, the added territory automatically is included in the city's school district, Attorney General George Neuner ruled today for District Attorney William W. Bartle of Lane county.

Third Party Threatened

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—There will be a third political party if the democrats continue on "the road to reaction," C. B. Baldwin, executive vice chairman of the National Citizens' Political Action committee, said today.

Speaking to students at an NCPAC School of Politics here, Baldwin, former farm security administrator, said such a party may arise whether Mr. Truman likes it, whether Mr. Hannagan likes it or whether Mr. Wallace likes it.

Baldwin took issue with speeches previously made to the school by Secretary of Commerce Wallace and Senator Morse (R-Ore.), each declaring his party was the hope of progressive forces.

"A party that contains Secretary Wallace and Bilbo," Baldwin said, "or a party that contains Senator Taft and Senator Morse, seems to me to be faced with almost insuperable obstacles."

Cattle Rating Schedule Set

The schedule for classification of Jersey cattle has been set by the Marion County Jersey Cattle club. Workers Ask Soviet Break With Franco

MOSCOW, June 28 (AP)—Calling for a diplomatic break with the present Spanish regime, the executive committee of the World Federation of Trade unions today asked the United Nations to declare Generalissimo Franco an outlaw and to recognize the Giral government-in-exile as the real government of Spain.

Sir Walter Citrine of Britain, chairman of the committee, also announced the organization would press its claims for a stronger voice in the councils of the United Nations.

Speaking at a press conference at the end of the 11-day Moscow meeting, Sir Walter said the committee recommended organization demonstrations beginning July 18—anniversary of Franco "aggression"—and lasting until August 15 in various countries.

Fred Neal to Tell African Experiences

The Rev. Fred W. Neal, who has spent more than 30 years as a Presbyterian missionary at Cameroun, Africa, will speak at both services of the First Presbyterian church Sunday, Dr. Neal was born at Turner, Ore., and attended Willamette university; was graduated from Albany college, which is now Lewis and Clark college.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal were first given charge of the Edea district and station. After the first World War the German-Swiss members of the Bible mission were allowed to return to West Africa, and the work was taken over by the Presbyterian mission and put under Neal's charge. At the beginning of the second World War, Dr. Neal returned alone to Africa after a leave here and he stayed in Oregon because of difficult travel conditions and to be near one of their three children. She died shortly after he arrived at their mission station.

Most of Neal's time has been spent in the field, but he is visiting mostly on foot. At each outpost he stays for several days, meeting with the different sessions, preaching and holding conferences with elders and teachers. The central stations are inspected and the children, both boys and girls, are schooled, but their progress in the Christian life noted.

In 1935 the Eeska work was added to that of Edea and Dr. and Mrs. Neal removed to the former station, which is four miles outside of Eeska at Ilanga, where a small school had been started in 1931. When Dr. Neal has been several days at home he is busy translating Sunday school lessons to be used throughout the field.

During the years he has been in Africa he has helped to build chapels in many different centers, native people providing funds and labor, and he has seen thousands of people turn to Christianity.

The Rev. Chester W. Hamblin, pastor, will conduct the worship at both services. Mrs. Neal, who will play "Adagio" by Corelli and "Westminster Bell" by Vierne. The choir will sing "Holy Art Thou" by Handel. The evening service will be a youth night service with special music.

Centennial Message To Be Given Sunday At Turner Convention

TURNER—Sunday morning the message of the centennial convention of Christian churches on the tabernacle grounds will be delivered by Delbert W. Daniels, who will speak on the subject "It Is Possible to Know Him." A communion service will follow, directed by W. H. Lyman of the Court Street Christian church, Salem.

Sunday school will begin at 9:45 a.m. Ralph L. Putnam is superintendent.

Program Serves 3,500 Handicapped

The state vocational rehabilitation program has served 3500 physically handicapped Oregon residents in the past three years, the vocational rehabilitation division announced today.

It has found jobs for 890 of those persons. The division provides counseling, medical, training and job placement service.

Stricter Rules Laid Down for Housing Units

PORTLAND, Ore., June 28 (AP)—Stricter rules on occupancy of Portland, Clackamas county, and Vancouver, Wash., housing projects were laid down today by the regional federal public housing authority.

The Portland housing authority was advised by letter that only veterans, and servicemen's families, or persons "essential to the prosecution of the veterans' housing program" could be accepted as new tenants.

The letter also said that no further applications could be taken for the Guild's Lake project, which is being slowly vacated for use as an industrial site.

Reason for permitting only certain groups to enter the projects is to make available as many units as possible for transfer to other areas.

Next week's deadline for the filing of signatures on six initiative petitions may or may not see many of them ready for certification (24,000 signatures), but work on separate Knox-law amendment petitions apparently will go forward regardless.

The Knox (liquor) law initiatives, for which signatures are being sought in several communities, need not be turned in for certification until 60 days prior to the November election. And but 10 per cent of the voters at the last general election are required in whatever cities or counties would be affected.

The other six petitions call for a basic school support fund, a 3 per cent gross income tax for old-age benefits, lowering the voting age to 18, compulsory car insurance, elimination of horse and dog racing, and $50 minimum pensions.
