Prospects for a record-smashing crowd of perhaps 6000 at the Monday night Tommy Edwards benefit game between Salem's Senators and the parent Portland Beavers were better than ever today as the ticket sale for the contest was reported in high gear. Handling the tickets are Maple-Keene, the Elks club, Stevens and Son jewelers, Bligh Billiards, Noble's tavern, Cliff Parker and his Boosters, and the ball park office. For persons who have delayed buying ducats it is emphasized there are still seats to be had. But get 'em quick for they're going fast!
