British Loan Held Key to U.S. Prestige

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Russia loomed large in the closing house debate tonight on the $3,750,000,000 British loan, as proponents declared the crucial vote tomorrow will determine whether the world will look to America or Moscow for leadership.

The long debate ended with Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.) declaring that Britain is "America's natural buffer state" against aggression, that "she is the oldest and most-to-be-trusted ally."

Previously, the Democratic leader, Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, had told the house the whole world would be watching its vote and if America turns to isolationism, most nations will enter the orbit of the Soviet Union.

Mrs. Luce quoted from a previous speech to the house in which she said Britain serves as a buffer against Russia because Russia could not reach American soil without first passing through or above British territory.

Many house members applauded when Rep. Wadsworth (R-N.Y.) called for approval of the huge credit as a boon to foreign commerce, free enterprise and world peace.

"We have an opportunity to lead a free world," Wadsworth declared before the largest audience in the house since the debate began four days ago. "Most of the world is looking to us for leadership."

Act Strongly Now

"Let us act here in a way that our children and our grandchildren will know that we were strong in righteousness."

Speaking for the opposition, Rep. Landis (R-Ind.) declared that "this loan is more likely to promote war than it is to preserve peace." He voiced confidence, after a poll of republican members, that it will be defeated.

Gear Goes to Vets' Hospitals

Hundreds of items of surplus athletic and recreational equipment from army and navy stocks are now being distributed to veterans' hospitals in the northwest, James Harris, veterans administration representative in Salem, has been advised.

The equipment will be set up immediately where space is available and the remainder will be stored until funds for building have been allocated. Equipment includes complete volleyball sets, football, basketball, baseball and hockey paraphernalia, exercisers, horseshoe pitching sets, horizontal ladders, bars, ping pong, pool and billiard tables, bowling alleys and boxing gear.
