are expected to be occupied by holders who will establish an all-time record for Waters park single-game attendance. Many cash contributions by those who will be unable to see the game have also been assured that the goal of $3000 for the fund will be reached easily. Tickets will still be on sale Monday at the ball park, by Chairman Cliff Parker and his boosters and at the following local business establishments: Magie & Keenan, The Pioneer Club, Noble's Tavern, Stevens & Son Jewelers, Elks club and Hugh Billiards.

A large bloc of tickets has been taken up by Portlanders who will be present to help put the benefit over the top and to root for their Coast league pets.

Master Tommy, whose baseball antics even in his tender years stamp him as possibly a player of note when he reaches maturity, will occupy the seat of honor in a special box near the Salem dugout. He will be accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Edwards.

The game itself has attracted widespread interest, for the class B Senators in years gone by trumped the Coast leaguers five times in six tries. Only a wild 18 to 15 Waters party on Monday belongs to the big brothers from Managements of both clubs have vowed they will "shoot the works" in Monday's mix. Most generally such exhibition games find the teams throwing patched lineups and secondary pitchers at one another. But not so in the Salem-Portland clashes; past games both sides used lineups at full strength and called upon their very best pitchers available. And now that Portland and Salem have become so closely related in baseball, the rivalry is expected to be so much the keener.

Mgr. Mary Owen's Senators could throw at the Salems off of the former Senator whizzes who before the war took much delight in hurling against, and beating the Coast leaguers. He would be Southern Roy Helser, right; now owner of the best won-lost record on the Portland club. But instead the Bevo skipper has nominated a rather left-handed for Monday's chore, highly respected Wendell Mossler. And if it isn't Mossler it will be right-handed acquisition from the New York Yankees.

Skipper Gullic has named Ed Kowalski for Salem, with Long Lee Fallin as relief. Should Fallin be "on" the Beavers are sure to find victory hard to get.
