

State Board Votes $65,750 To Aid Budgets

(Story also on page 1)
The state emergency board, at an all-day meeting here Wednesday, has voted $65,750 to aid budgets aggregating $65,750. Requests totaled $298,750.

Most discussion centered on the $30,000 sought for the national school lunch program. The board approved $10,990 to carry the program until the next legislative session. The University of Oregon Tuberculosis hospital $25,000 to carry on the program. The board also approved a request for $57,000 to provide funds for the institution until the 1947 legislature convenes in January.

Another appropriation of $15,000 was approved for the state vocational education department to cover part of the cost of the veterans' on-the-job training program. The vocational department had requested $50,000. O. I. Paulson, director of the state vocational department, said 6319 veterans already had taken advantage of the program and that approximately 45 coordinators and supervisors would be required at a salary of $300 a month each.

The emergency board urged Paulson to fix salaries of the supervisors and coordinators at not to exceed $250.

Appropriations Include
The emergency appropriations approved included $1250 for the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis $8000 for the state board of health $2500 for printing the final report of the state tax study commission $4000 for the auditing division of the secretary of state's office, and $2000 as the state's contribution for district attorneys under the state retirement law. Two requests by the state board of higher education, one involving $38,570 for the Doernbecher hospital and the other $10,850 for the hospital's out-patient clinic, were disallowed with the idea that they would receive relief when the legislature meets.

Other requests disallowed included $1800 for the Oregon Historical Society and $5000 for the military order of the Purple Heart. The former appropriation was requested by L. Pollard, who said the money was necessary to complete civilian defense files.

Thomas A. Sweeney, Portland, who presented the request for the military order of the Purple Heart said this money would help pay costs of his national convention in Portland. The emergency board said such an appropriation was not an emergency under Oregon laws. Members of the emergency board are state senators Dean Walker, Independence; Howard Belton, Canby, and Ernest Faltland, Condon, and representatives Henry Semon, Klamath Falls; Eugene Marsh, McMinnville; Stanhope Pier, Portland, and Burt Snyder, Lakeview.

Slaughterers' Restriction Set

Only those class 2 slaughterers who have licenses issued by the OPA may slaughter at this time for resale, H. P. Maddison, price specialist, emphasized Tuesday, upon hearing reports that many butchers and cattle-buyers are slaughtering cattle, calves and hogs for resale without an OPA license number.

He added that custom slaughterers may not slaughter for anyone except: (a) a bona-fide farmer for his own consumption; (b) a bona-fide farmer for resale in an amount of not more than 3000 pounds total dressed weight of all species in any six consecutive months; and (c) a registered class 2 slaughterer whose license and quota base is specifically assigned by the OPA to that custom slaughterer.

Group to Talk Of Auditorium

Representatives of more than 30 Salem civic organizations have been called to a meeting in Salem Chamber of Commerce rooms tonight to discuss feasibility of construction of an all-purpose civic auditorium in Salem as a memorial to the dead of two world wars. Douglas McKay is scheduled to be keynote speaker at the meeting, called and presided over by R. S. (Spec) Keene as representative of a committee of citizens, veterans and non-veterans, interested in the project.

Although Bush's pasture has been talked to site for such building, no definite location is to be recommended at tonight's meeting, it is understood.

President Recalls Palestine Envoys

WASHINGTON, July 31—(AP)—President Truman today summoned American experts on Palestine to return home from London and there were reports he was dissatisfied with a British-approved plan to divide Palestine into four federal provinces. The president directed the American cabinet meeting in London to return for review of the whole Palestine problem in detail.

Knife Found in Heirens Case

CHICAGO, July 31—(AP)—Investigators studied a possible new clue today in the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan as the state announced it was going ahead with plans to try William Heirens for that and the "lipstick" slaying of Francis Brown.

Pen to Erect New Laundry

Construction of a new $10,000 laundry at the state prison has been approved by the civilian production administration and building will get under way as soon as possible, Deputy Warden E. C. Halley said last night.

The new plant will be built inside the prison enclosure near the east wall where the old pump house stood, Halley said. It will replace the old laundry building which has already been cleared out, he stated.

Halley said building would begin as soon as materials were available.

George White Pleads Guilty

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 31—(AP)—George White, girl show "scandals" producer of Hollywood and New York, pleaded guilty here tonight to felonious failure to stop and give aid to a couple he struck and killed with a borrowed automobile on their wedding day.

Two manslaughter charges were dropped on motion of District Attorney Thomas Whelan.

Bail was continued at $2000 pending his appearance, at a date to be set, in superior court for sentence.

FCC Told of Planned Radio, Movie Building

The federal communications commission today was nearing the end of its hearings to determine whether a Salem or an Oregon City applicant should be issued a radio station license on 1490 kilocycles.

Heard Wednesday at the statehouse was the petition of B. Loring Schmidt, former theatre operator, who said he proposed to erect a building in Salem to house both a radio station and theatre.

Scheduled to be heard today was Temple V. Elmsen who seeks a license for a station at Oregon City.

Five Johnsons On Fire Force

Civil service acceptance of Gerald Waldo Johnson and Jack Douglas Johnson, both of 532 State Street, for the Salem fire department increases the number of Johnsons on the force to five.

Dooley Johnson, father of the two firefighters whose appointment was announced Wednesday, has seen about 25 years service with the city fire department. A third son, Robert, also is in the force.

Emmert Johnson, 454 N. Church st., brother of Dooley, has been a member of the department for approximately 20 years. He is now on duty at the East Salem station.

Officers Tell Of Detention

BERLIN, July 31—(AP)—Two U. S. army officers just released by the Russians said today they had been held for 27 days while the soviet questioned them as suspected spies and refused to notify American authorities of their detention.

They said they were held most of the time at soviet headquarters in Potsdam—during a time when the Russians officially told the U. S. command that they did not know where the pair was.

The officers, Capt. Harold Coble, 53, of New York, and Lt. George Wyatt, 23, of Oklahoma City, were turned back to the American command early this morning.

SHIP SUNK BY COLLISION

Salem Building Boom Exceeds Previous Peak

The $2,477,883 issued in building permits during the first six months of 1946 already marks a record year in the city building inspector's office. Runner up is 1936 with a total of $1,893,244 issued in permits, according to a survey of Salem building permits being conducted by J. H. Davis, city engineer and building inspector.

In response to federal requests for a compilation of building permits the building inspector's office is making a graph showing the trend of Salem building since the office opening in 1929.

A total of $16,419,551 has been issued in permits by the office in the 17-year-period, the figures show. In the first year of the department the state office building permit totaled $500,000 and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company building permit came to $133,000.

A banner year came in 1936 when permits were issued to the high school building for $575,818, Montgomery Ward building for $115,438 and Bush and Leslie schools for $305,621.

Salem Meeting Of Alcoholics Anonymous Set

The Salem group identified with Alcoholics Anonymous announces that it will have an open meeting at the chamber of commerce at 8 p.m. Friday when representatives of the Portland AA group will explain the purposes of the organization. Those interested in the program of the body are invited to attend.

Alcoholics Anonymous is a nationwide organization composed of those who have reformed by stopping the drinking habit and are eager to assist others with a similar desire. Its membership and work are kept strictly private, and that is where the word "anonymous" comes into the title. The record it has made in saving for sober citizenship those who have become victims of the drinking habit has brought the group into some prominence as an organization, but not as individuals.

Trial Dates Set in Cases

Justice of the Peace Joseph B. Felton Wednesday set trial and preliminary examination dates for three cases which have been pending in the Salem justice court docket.

Al Bennett and Alice Hunter Loveless, who already have been bound over to the grand jury on assault charges growing out of an alleged brawl in which John W. Unruh, 2635 Center st., was badly beaten, will face disorderly conduct charges in the justice court at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. The latter charge was made by the district attorney, growing out of circumstances of their arrest by the Marion county sheriff's office.

John Schneider, who was charged July 13 with assault with intent to rape, will appear for preliminary examination before Judge Felton at 1:30 p.m. today. Scott James Bremmer, 2400 State st., will be tried at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday on charges of driving while intoxicated.

'Paul Bunyan' Visits Rotary

Paul Bunyan, red-checked shirt, broad-brimmed hat, beard and all—strode into the mirror room of Hotel Marion where local Rotarians were lunching yesterday noon.

Closer scrutiny and his visitor's introduction, however, proved the "legendary figure" to be Dave Hoss, former Salem resident and now production manager of a Klamath Falls radio station. Beard and costume, he explained, go with his role as Paul Bunyan in the forthcoming Klamath Falls centennial celebration to commemorate opening of the "Southern Route," otherwise known as the Applegate Trail.

Planes to Be Shown at Fair

Manager Leo Spitzbart announced Wednesday that plans had been completed for the first commercial airplane exhibit in the 85-year history of the Oregon State fair.

Roy Burnett Motors, Portland, have contracted exhibit space for demonstrating the light plane Cessna. Craig Povey, sales manager, will land the plane on the infield of the fair race track several days prior to the fair opening.

Are Your GLASSES UP-TO-DATE?

Eyes change. Glasses don't. Unless you've had your eyes examined recently, it may be that further correction is indicated. Only way to make sure is to come in for a check-up. Modern eyewear is so flattering that new glasses, if needed, will pay you generous dividends in good looks—as well as correct vision.
