With every night a sellout, and all reserve seats already sold, the horse show being held this week in the fairgrounds stadium has drawn the largest crowd in the show's history. The exhibition has been held over for Sunday night by popular demand.

Favorite rider at last night's show was young Carol Fraser of Billings, Mont., who received a round of applause at every appearance in the ring. Mr. Flash, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simmons of Salem, again took first place in his class, and several Salem horses won in other events.

UN Concludes Ukraine Case Preliminaries

By Larry Hauck
NEW YORK, Sept. 6—(AP)—With hours of preliminary oratory out of the way, the United Nations security council today faced the problem of making an early decision on what to do about the Soviet Ukraine's bitter charge against Greece and Great Britain.

Delegates gained time to consult home governments on the demand of Australia for adjournment until Monday and most of the council members awaited these orders before formulating plans.

Two of the possibilities appeared to be for the council to: 1—Order a full investigation into the complaint, perhaps taking in the whole turbulent situation in the Balkans. 2—Drop the case as "unsubstantiated."

US Position Indefinite
The United States position still was undecided, and there was the possibility that delegate Herschel V. Johnson would remain silent for a time and await more specific Russian demands on how the council should act.

Johnson has said only that the case should be examined with "rigid objectivity" and that if the council found the charges unsubstantiated or motivated by considerations extraneous to the issue, it should be "summarily dismissed without regard to the feelings or pride" of the complainant.

RUSSIA, Britain Opposed
Russia and Great Britain stood directly opposed, with the Soviet fully supporting the complaint that Greece, with the presence of British troops as a principal factor, threatened peace in the Balkans and the United Kingdom being on record with the flat statements that there was no case and the whole complaint was "unbridled propaganda."
