Linksmen in 'World' Battle

CHICAGO, Sept. 6-(P)-Byron Nelson steps into George May's $10,000 "World Championship" golf tourney as a substitute with the miseries, but statistics cast him a slight favorite in the unique four-man showdwon at Tam O'Shanter course tomorrow and Sunday. The 36-hole, winner-take-all battle brings together Nelson: U.S. open champion Lloyd Mangrum; British open titlist Sammy Snead; andd Herman Barron, winner of the year's biggest jackpot, the $10,500 All-American purse, also contributed by pro-

May's "world" contest originally had the winner of the PGA meet booked to appear, but the newly-crowned titlist, moneygrabbing Ben Hogan, declined the bid because of a jammed schedule. Nelson, the 1945 PGA king, agreed to emerge from the tranquility of his Denton, Tex., farm and-weary, aching back and all -take a shot at the $10,000 plum as Hogan's substitute.

The medal play caper-for-cash will open tomorrow at noon with 18 holes, the four professional holshots teeing off in twosomes. The final 18 will be played Sunday afternoon. In the event of a tie, another 18-hole session will be played Monday,

As one fellow to another Hi Haman, the bowling impressario epines that this is going to be one of Salem's biggest pin seasons ever. The 1946-47 campaign will boast a record number of leagues, with most everyone but the Old People's home signing for play in one loop or another. One circuit that ought to provide plenty of competition and rivalry is a projected Civic club legge. It hasn't crystalized as yet-but, oh boy, can't you just see the Kiwanis and the Lions and the Rotarians mixing it up. Hi says that five or My teams are definitely planning on competing in the NBC championships at Los Angeles in February -something that was impossible because of travel conditions in the war years. "Any team can enter the NBC", says Haman, "The only condition is expenses; each outfit has to foot its own." Data from Los Angeles reveals that 2000 teams have already signed for the kegling event which goes to show that bowling has got something. Wilman Deadly

It is surprising how this sport has grown. And it's been a boon for some of the guys who maybe were too undersizedd to ever get anyplace in foothall or some of the rougher sports. Take this guy Joe Wilman, for instance. Joe's national match play champ. We had the privilege (Here's the army again) while at Ft.

Lewis to be on hand when Joe whiled away some of his army time trundling. Now Joe is a guy that you'd take on visual impression as ker, some nice quiet little guy, maybe an accourant, who spent all his off champion, 6-3, 6-4, 6-8, 3-6, 6-1, September hours buried in a book. Well, Joe is nice enough, and he's not overly in a gruelling match in the natalkative but then and there any kinship with Mr. Milquetoast ends. tional championships. The guy's as deadly as a rattlesnake once he wheels that right arm back and runs for the foul line. Being a spot pinman, he rivets his eye with cold intensity on that imaginary X and let's 'er go. As you would call Byron Nelson a machine, you would also apply the term

Good News, Lefties

Well, hip-hip hooray! Ethan Grant can now enjoy the sweet composure of a man whose aim is accomplished. Jim Russell, the local pro, says he's considering a club lefthanders' tournament in conjunction with the regular club championship at the Salem golf club the latter part of the month. So, Ethan and Joe Felton and the rest of 'em had better practice like mad for the glory that can be theirs.

Kenny Wyatt, finishing up the season with 16 wins for the Senafors would quite possibly have been in the magic 20 victory class if he had been with the locals from scratch. Kenny didn't report to the Solons until a month of the campaign had passed. Scouts are cool on Wanderl Messer. Portland southpaw, because they say he can't Earl Harrill, the Fair meet's racing secretary, is now in the Bing Crosby organization. Harrill says Crosby's purse strings are always open as far as the turf port goes. Bing now contreis the Lansdowne track in Vancouver B. C. and dished out $250,000 for "The Willows" on Victoria island.

The grid campaigns this year ought to be rip-roarers from start to finish. Note the huge turn-outs at all the coast schools, add the unusually high percentage of lettermen, mix in the fact that a lot of the boys have the leg conditioning that only climbing in and out of fox holes and over all types of terrain can bring and you're going to have a concoction that spells MAYHEM in the pigskin arenas. And, as Willamette's Walt Erickson mentioned, there's going to be a changed attitude noticeable among the lads. You might call it less a rah-rah and more an adultish viewpoint.

Of Bulldog Bopped In Rough Fair Brawl

The old Klondike Kid himself - yes none other than Bulldog Jackson - found to his chagrin Thursday night that the area between the ropes isn't the only spot when a guy can get an unsuspecting rabbit punch or a knee under the jaw. The veteran wrestler, at present member of a side-show unit at the fairgrounds, was knocked cold when involved in a free-for-ail with several other unidentified men at the fair police reported, Jackson's injuries were minor.
