

Vikings Taper Drills, Ready Starting Eleven

Coach Harold Hauk hustled his Salem high Viking charges through their final heavy drill last night at Olinger in preparation for the ultra-important date with Klamath Falls Pelican on Sweetland field Friday night. The Red and Blacks, hot to bring to an end the long and unbroken skin of Pelicans wins over Viking eleven, will wind up their pre-game work with light signal drills this afternoon.

Still insisting the Pelis are one of the toughest teams in the state to be reckoned with, Hauk announced his tentative starting lineup following last night's practice as follows: Ends—Bill Hill and Carlos Houck. Tackles

—Don Gettiss and either Chuck Baker or Bob Wiper. Guards—either Bob Karn or George Zurlinden and Wayne Houser. Center—Bob Goffrier. Quarterback—Charles Robbins. Halfbacks—Dick Allison and Bud Michaels. Fullbacks—Roger Dasch. Such a lineup will give Salem a 179-pound line, and a 160-pound backfield, both approximately eight pounds per man lighter than the starting Pelican eleven. Friday's eight o'clock, first game of the season for Sweetland, will likely draw around 6000 fans. Additional bleacher seats are expected to be erected on the north side of the arena to accommodate customers.

Tom Wallace, national president of the Isaac Walton league who speaks at the state convention here last week, is one of those typical soft-spoken products of old Kentucky. Dapper, polished, the gentleman from the Blue Grass country has had a varied and colorful career behind him. For 25 years he's been connected with Isaac Walton—been interested in conservation of the country's natural resources. Noted editor of the Louisville Times, Wallace first achieved national recognition in the Battle of Cumberland Falls. Remember Sam Insull, the notorious investment magnate of the early '20s? Insull and Wallace were the principal characters in the Cumberland Falls fracas. "Insull was termed the Great Developer," laughingly recalls the Kentuckian.

Insull, desiring to expand his vast holdings, wanted to destroy Cumberland Falls, a beautiful feature of the Kentucky countryside. Wallace was just as insistent on preserving this gem of nature. For a time the fate of Cumberland Falls was in jeopardy. But in the end Wallace won his case, which had attracted newspaper headlines throughout the nation. As his reward Wallace received a medal from the American Scenic and Historic Society.

DUROCHER

One of the foremost projects of the Isaac Walton, says Wallace, is the abatement of pollution in United States rivers and streams. "Fish destruction," he asserts, is tremendous due to pollution, especially in the East. The Isaac Walton leader revealed that an anti-pollution bill has already been approved by the Senate Rivers and Harbors committee. "The one obstacle," he advised, "is opposition from states who fear they may lose lucrative industries."

In his initial trip through the northwest, Wallace said he thought the scenery grand but "you haven't the horses we have down in Kentucky."

Yankees Face-Lift

The newspapers are filled with the query, "Who's going to manage the Yankees next season—Larry McPhail, being as non-committal as he is. And the consensus? Well, it seems to point to a fortyish appearing guy with thinning hair and a heavy lower lip. Yep, you hit it—"The Lip!"

Now the "Lip" is brusque and he'll fight at the drop of a hat. Why Durocher even makes the umpires writhe and turn in bed at night. Be that as it may, the Dodger skipper has his Bums up there knocking at the pennant door. And so, McPhail, who has done a face-lifting job on Yankee Stadium that is just jumptin', is evidently going to run the threads out of the long-established Yankee managerial policy.

Compare Durocher to Dickey and McCarthy. No one can doubt the baseball no-how of those two former Bronx pilots but in other aspects it's like comparing a sphygmograph and a hurricane. But, ah, the press that boy Durocher can pull. It is related that several years past, in the heyday of the Bombers' knock-out doubleheader in a crucial series before 65,000 to "ice" the flag. Across town in Brooklyn the Bums, settled well down in the stands, were merely playing out the schedule. However, Loquacious Leo had a beast of a row with the ump. That did it. Next day the papers headlined Leo's beef and dropped the stellar accomplishment of the Yankees well down on the page. No wonder McPhail wants the Brooklyn Baritone, only he'll have to dish out better than $65,000 a year.

Hot Race: The major league bowling loop, with all eight of the teams tied for first place as of last week. That's something for the books! . . . Humm, who said Hank Fankus Greenberg was through? . . . which denotes giving the game every year. Why? Well, for the ultimate in grid pep and enthusiasm we'll drop out to Leslie and Parrish and watch the kids go through their paces.

Golf's Greats Ready to Go

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 25—(AP)—Golf's greatest stars of the moment tackle the nightmarish Brook Hollow course here tomorrow in the first round of the $10,000 Dallas open and Sam Snead's pre-tournament practice rounds here tabbed him as a frail favorite. Besides Snead, the field embraces Dallas-reared Lloyd Mangrum, national open champion; Ben Hogan, PGA titlist; George Fazio, winner of the Canadian open, and Herman Keiser, who copped the masters title at Augusta, Ga.

Robinson Kayos Sidney Miller

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 25—(AP)—Ray (Sugar) Robinson, regarded as the uncrowned welterweight champion, knocked out chunky Sidney Miller of Youngstown, O., in the third round of a scheduled ten-round boxing match before 1,500 at Twin City bowl tonight. Robinson weighed 149, Miller 161.

Truman Gets Pass

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25—(AP)—No president of the United States ever has attended a professional football game, but George Preston Marshall hatched a scheme today that may change all that.

Feller Risks Future For Whiffs Says Hank

CLEVELAND, Sept. 24—(AP)—Hank Greenberg, Detroit's slugging first baseman, believes Bob Feller, Cleveland's great right-hander, is doing himself more harm than good with his self-imposed "iron man" mound schedule in an effort to set a new major league strikeout record. The Bronx-born batter, who has wrested the American league home run and runs-batted-in leadership from the Boston Red Sox' Ted Williams, says Feller, whose strikeout total is 337, would regret his back-breaking efforts.

"I hope I'm wrong," said

10 Vets Counted At St. Paul High

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Ten lettermen were in the turnout of 17 this week as St. Paul's high school football team went to work for its Marion County league schedule. The Saints open October 4 at Gervais. Jefferson plays here October 11 and St. Paul goes to Aumsville October 18. Hubbard is here October 25, November 1 is open, the team plays Chemawa November 8 and Mill City plays here the following week.

Another Disciple Joins 'Old Jawn'

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 25—(AP)—Charles M. (Jeff) Tesreau, 58, Dartmouth baseball coach for the past 27 years and a pitching ace for the late John McGraw's championship New York Giants teams, died tonight after suffering a stroke four days ago. During his career with the Giants, Tesreau, one of the major league's outstanding spitball pitchers, played in three world series before quitting professional baseball in 1919 to coach the sport at Dartmouth.

Bearcat Team Departs For San Jose Opener

Twenty-eight strong and loaded with plans of upsetting an already heavily-favored Spartan dream team, Willamette university's football party pulled out on the 6:30 p.m. southbound SP yesterday. The 33-man party will arrive in San Francisco this afternoon, will take off for San Jose immediately afterward and will take to Spartan Field tonight for a final tuneup for the season's opener Friday night with the highly-rated Staters.

O'Douls, Oaks Playoff Victors

The Pacific Coast league's Governor's Cup playoffs started off last night in the pattern of season-long play as the champion San Francisco Seals and the runner-up Oakland Oaks chalked up wins. The Seals, behind the pitching of 30-game winner Larry Jansen, stopped the fourth-place Hollywood Stars, 3 to 0, while the Oaks knocked over the third-spot Los Angeles Angels, 3 to 1. Jansen was never in trouble as he permitted the Stars only six hits while the O'Doulsmen were getting eight off two Hollywood hurlers. Frank Shea went all the way for the Oaks, allowing the Angels six blows.

Match Vs. Par SGC Feature

Knee deep in the business of qualifying for the club championships, Salem Golf clubbers will nevertheless have time tonight for their weekly men's club session, with nine-hole Match vs. Par tourney holding top billing on the menu.

Club Manager John Varley says the majority of those who have not yet completed their 36 holes of qualifying play will probably wait till the week-end to finish up.

Dads in Rally Meet Tonight

Members of the Salem Dad's club will hold a special meeting tonight at the high school, eight o'clock, to organize cheering for the Salem-Klamath Falls game here Friday night. A full turnout of members is urged and those attending are also requested to bring along a prospective club member. The Dads will have a special section roped off in the Sweetland field grandstand Friday night, 300 seats having been reserved. Tickets will be on sale at tonight's session.

Rocket Mentor Hanley Fired

CHICAGO, Sept. 25—(AP)—Richard E. (Dick) Hanley said tonight he was "fired" as mentor of the Chicago Rockets in the All-American Football conference after a dispute with Club Owner J. L. Keeshin. Hanley and two assistants, Ernie Nevers and Pat Boland, were spectators as the Rockets encountered the Buffalo Bisons in a league game at Soldier field.

Hoag vs. Paul Boxing Opener

Salkeld Sets Main Event for Oct. 9

It'll be a retake of the slambang battle that stooped the armory on its last spring—Duke (The Durable) Hoag vs. Jackie Paul—as the main event fare when Matchmaker Tex Salkeld and the Veterans of Foreign Wars present their pro fistie revival at the army Wednesday night, October 9.

Salkeld announced yesterday he had lined up the two feather-weight bellies.

Hoag and Paul wafted off one of the most blistering brawls seen here in years during their last meeting, Hoag winning via knockout finally but only after being battered brutally in the earlier rounds. The scrap was loaded with knockdowns and after-bell action, and at one time the bitterness between the gladiators became so rugged they continued flailing away long after Referee Packy McFarland had called time.

"It's a natural," beamed Salkeld yesterday, "and anyone who saw it before will agree. I'll have the supporting card lined up in a few days. And please remind all those fighters around here to get in touch with me, as I want to use as much local talent as I can."

Injury Forces Servo to Quit

NEW YORK (Sept. 25—AP)—Baby-faced Marty Servo, who couldn't get the New York state athletic commission to believe his nose was badly injured, was forced today to abdicate his world welterweight championship and retire from the ring because of the injury. Immediately, the National Boxing association, which refused to go along with the New York commission, in vacating the New York half of the title when Marty pleaded for his aching prognosis a few weeks ago, announced it would sanction a bout between the string-bean swatter, Ray Robinson, and former Lightweight Champion Beau Jack for the crown.

Tony Zale's Stock Goes Up

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 25—(AP)—The smart-money boys, who were offering 3 to 1 against Champion Tony Zale in his Friday nose-mashing party with Rocky Graziano, have taken another look these last few days and immediately turned to take their white whiskers and red flannels and quit playing Santa Claus. Bookmakers were falling all over themselves to day rearranging their betting lines because of the classy way the Gary, Ind., champion looked in his final workouts.

Forests Open To Huntsmen

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25—(AP)—Hunters will be able to enter all national forests except the Fremont national forest, acting U. S. regional forester John Kuhns announced tonight. He said the forest closure rule, which had lifted Friday night tonight, some district in the Fremont area, the silver lake area, will be opened, however, he added.

Frenzied Nat League Race Unchanged As Leaders Lose

Walters Blanks Cards; Brooks Toss Away Phils; Tilt; Feller Near Whiff Mark; 42 For Greenberg

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 25—(AP)—The frenzied National league race went into its final three days with the St. Louis Cardinals still holding their one-game lead over the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers as results of today's hectic play. After the Brooks had dropped a wild game to Philadelphia earlier in the day the Cardinals missed an opportunity to practically "ice" the flag tonight when Bucky Walters and the Cincinnati Reds shut them out, 6 to 0. Walters allowed the Cards but seven hits.

The Dodgers after having appeared to cinch their game with the Phils threw the tilt away in the fourth when, with a three run lead, they permitted the Phillies to score five runs to win 11-9. The Bums used eight hurriers during the fray to break a National league mark and tie the American loop record. The Cardinals can win two of their remaining three games to assure themselves a tie for the flag—if the Brooks take their three. The Boston Braves edged the New York Giants 6 to 5, and Pittsburgh dropped Chicago, 6 to 5, in 16 innings.

In the American league Cleveland's Bobby Feller pulled close to Rube Waddell's whiff mark of 343 as he struck out 10 Chicago White Sox hitters to run his season's mark to 337—but he lost the ball game, 4 to 1, though allowing but four hits. The St. Louis Browns beat the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 7, snapping the Tigers' 10-game winning streak. Hank Greenberg belted his 42d home run and took over the circuit RBI lead with 123. Washington took two from Philadelphia, 6 to 3 and 7 to 4, while Boston stopped the New York Yankees, 5 to 2.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 25—(AP)—Mrs. Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Denver, Colo., was the lone survivor among the favorites as the other hot shots bowed out of the reviewed national women's amateur golf tournament in the opening rounds of play today. The hard-hitting Babe played sensationally in eliminating game Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, 4 and 3, in the final session over the Southern Hills Country club 6,232-yard course and came back for another 4 and 3 win over Betty Jean Rucker, Spokane, Wash., in the afternoon. Mrs. Zaharias is scheduled to meet the veteran Maureen Orcutt, Hawthorn, N. J., in the quarter finals tomorrow afternoon.

The tournament, first since 1941, lost two of its name stars as medalist Dorothy Kirby and Louise Suggs, both of Atlanta, Ga., suffered first round whippings. Beverly Hanson, Fargo, N. D., who conquered Patricia McPhee, San Mateo, Calif., 3 and 2, and Carol Greenberg, Portland, Ore., 3 and 2, will meet Mrs. Clara Sherman, Miss Freese beat Jean Hopkins, Rocky River, Ohio, 2 and one in the first round.

Petra Downed By Schroeder

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25—(AP)—Ted Schroeder of Los Angeles, former national men's singles champion, today upset Sylvia Petra, Wimbledon champion from France, 7-5, 6-3, as the third round feature of the 20th annual Pacific southwest tennis tournament. National Champion Jack Kramer, top-seeded in the domestic bracket, breezed through Philippe Washer, Belgian champion, 6-1, 6-4.

Gardnar Mulloy, Miami, Fla., ousted Bill Reedy, Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-3, while second-seeded Frankie Parker, defending tournament champion, defeated Willis Anderson, Santa Monica, 6-3, 6-3.

Bless Da Bums

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—(AP)—The Rev. Benney J. F. Benson, pastor of the Brooklyn Dutch reformed church, knelt bareheaded on the steps of Brooklyn Borough hall today and prayed for victory for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league baseball pennant race. "We're praying for those Dodgers," he intoned while about 200 persons gaped. "Their chances don't look so good right now but everyone is praying for the Bums to win. We ask you not to give the Anheusers out there in St. Louis any better break than you give us and we ask this in all sincerity."

Salt Lake Park Ruined by Fire

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 25—(AP)—Derks field, home of the Salt Lake City Bees of the Pioneer baseball league, was all but destroyed tonight by a fire which started in the empty grandstand. The blaze was brought under control after most of the bleachers were destroyed as flames shot 100 feet high and scorching trees fronting homes opposite the park. Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.
