Miss Rice Now Mrs. Burr

The Carrier Room of the First Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Ramona Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rice, to Bert A. Burr, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Burr of Newport, Wednesday night at 6 o'clock. Dr. Joseph Adams officiated at the nuptials and Miss Elaine Bamre played the wedding music.

For her wedding the bride chose a white cable net afternoon dress with draped skirt and flowered hat of bouvardia. She carried a white Bible marked with a white orchid.

Miss Kolleen Kroner was the bride's only attendant and wore a green dress with corsage of yellow roses. Lois Burr, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Henry Burr stood with his brother as best man.

Mrs. Rice chose a grey jersey dress with corsage of purple baby orchids for the rites and Mrs. Burr wore a pink dress and corsage of white baby orchids.

The wedding reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rolow. Assisting were Mesdames Raymond Rolow, Gladys Croner, Maurice Heater, Joseph Cathcart, Miss Ruth David, Miss Vonne Haugen and Miss Helen Brokke.

When the newlyweds left on their honeymoon the bride wore a brown chalk stripe suit with chartreuse accessories and orchid corsage. The couple will live in McMinnville while he is attending Linfield college.

Anniversary Dinner For Kiwanians

Twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the founding of the Salem Kiwanis club was an event of Tuesday night at the Marion hotel. Over two hundred Kiwanis members and their wives were present and were seated in the Mirror room at long tables decorated with bouquets of fall flowers in brilliant hues.

The Rev. Charles Durden was toastmaster and the Rev. George H. Swift gave the invocation. Four old time waiters performing during the evening were Wendell Webb, Russell Frost, William Braun and Ted Medford. A decorated birthday cake was cut during the evening.

Visitors from ten clubs outside of Salem were present for the occasion. At the speakers table were William H. Baillie, president of Rotary, and Mrs. Baillie, Edward M. Madsen, president of the Lions club, and Mrs. Majek, Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Frank Bennett and Lt. Gov. and Mrs. William H. Hammond of Oregon City.

William McKinney, 25th president of the Salem club, introduced the past presidents. Four charter members were present and Judge Arnie Walker of McMinnville presented a gift from the Salem club to Dr. Henry Morris, a charter member and past president, for his perfect attendance record during the 25 years. A clever comedy skit concerning the district convention held in Vancouver was given by Mr. McKinney and Guy Hickok.

Judge James T. Brand introduced the speaker, Roy Shields of Portland, first president of the Salem club, who reminisced about the club. Phil Schnell was chairman of the banquet.
