

Mrs. F. R. Wain Dies Following Long Illness

Mrs. Fannie Rebecca Wain, 71, native of Illinois and resident of Salem and vicinity for 53 years, died Monday in a Salem hospital. She had been ill since summer. The funeral is set for 2 p.m. Thursday in Clough-Barrick chapel, with the Rev. Chester Hamblin to officiate. Interment will be in City View cemetery.

Mrs. Wain, the daughter of the late Louis and Margaret Scholl Kehne, was married in Dallas in 1899 to Alonzo (Lon) K. Wain, formerly associated with the Salem Water Co., who preceded her in death 10 years ago. Mrs. Wain was a member of First Presbyterian church of Salem.

Surviving are a son, Kehne Wain of Salem; three sisters, Mrs. Rosa Cooper and Mrs. Sue Doerr, both of East Alton, Ill., and Miss Flora Kehne of Bethalto, Ill.; a brother, Dennis Kehne of Bethalto, Ill.; and a granddaughter, Lou Anne of Salem.

Separate Graduate Schools for University, OSC Established

PORTLAND, Oct. 22.—The state board of higher education and Oregon State college today following recommendations of Chancellor Paul C. Packer, the board also voted to eliminate 18 jobs, now largely inoperative.

Because expected enrollments were 4600 and 5500 for the university and college respectively, but action registrations were 5700 and 7100, the board established reserve funds of $75,000 for OSC and $50,000 for the university.

The college experiment station was authorized to construct a $10,700 brooder unit as a start toward a turkey industry research unit.

Approval was given a university request to establish a separate department of speech and drama, headed by W. A. Dahlberg, associate professor.

Long List of Public Agencies Find Homes in 'Old High School'

By Ed Lewis
 Staff Writer, The Statesman

Center of activity for the office work of 14 assorted public agencies, large and small, is the public school administration building at North High and Marion streets—known also as the public school office building and even more commonly and simply "the old high school."

The building which served for many years as Salem's public senior high school until the new high school was opened in 1937 now houses the administrative offices for Salem school district and 13 offices which rent space in the building from the school district. These rentals net only about $2,887 annual profit after operating costs of $14,575 are subtracted from total rent receipts of $17,462. It was explained by Connell C. Ward, business manager for Salem public schools.

He added that the addition of four new offices would boost total rental receipts to about $21,000. These latest additions, on the third floor, are occupied by the civil aeronautics administration, district veterans' administration and training office, O. & C. land administrative and the Salem OPA headquarters.

Largest office space is that of the state unemployment compensation office and also parts of the first and third floors.

The auditorium was partitioned into offices and the stage is being used for storage.

Offices in the building also include those of the Marion county agricultural conservation association, a division of the county agent's office; the 4-H club agent; county professor of English and literature.

General Extension — Appointments of J. Edwin Arnold as news editor and announcer; radio station KOAC; and Joseph V. Holland as athletic director and men's adviser of Vanport extension center.

TO MARION COUNTY VOTERS OUTSIDE SALEM: Ask This Man About PUD's!

Christ C. Strohm, lumber yard operator at Florence, Ore., has to crank this gasoline generator when the PUD power fails—which it does almost every day. Besides the inconvenience, Mr. Strohm was put to heavy expense for his standby equipment, and still has to pay the PUD one of the highest electric rates in Oregon! Anybody who says "cheap PUD electricity" to him had better smile.

● Bilked by PUDeal promoters, citizens of Central Lincoln County found out too late that election promises mean nothing.

These Oregon taxpayers found to their sorrow that the PUDeal taxed their property repeatedly, provided them with what they claim is the worst electric service in the Pacific Northwest, and—worst of all—charged them just about the highest electric rates in Oregon! (For 500 kwh., approximate monthly use by an all-electric home, the PUD charges $11.00—PGE customers in Marion County get the same quantity for $5.70.)

These citizens are anxious to warn the people of

THE CARDS ARE STACKED

- Examine the "five cards" below which the PUDeal promoters are trying to slip the public from the bottom of the deck. And remember, in this sort of game, you can't draw new cards for ONCE YOU'RE IN A PUD YOU CAN'T GET OUT!
- 1. Creation of a New Tax-Laying Body. The PUD sets up a new tax-leaving agency with power to assess new taxes without your further vote.
 - 2. Political Mis-management. Promoters are in the gravy when they get the public to bite on their PUD schemes. In the State of Washington PUDs have public $2,552,809 of taxes from the suffering public.
 - 3. Bond Liens on Your Property. Under the law, PUD can use its taxing power to electioneer for general obligation bonds up to $2,720,000—liens on your property.
 - 4. Bond Liens on Your Electric Bills. The PUD can tax you, and then electioneer for any amount of revenue bonds—liens on your electric bills.
 - 5. Higher PUDeal Electric Bills. Only two PUDs now sell electricity in Oregon. Both charge higher rates than Marion County citizens now pay for PGE-Bonneville electricity.

KEEP WHAT YOU HAVE

1. Low-cost Bonneville Power.
2. Local, non-political management of your electric system.
3. Regulation of electric rates and limitation of profits by your own state government.
