

Water Rights Suit Features Legal Sparring

The city of Salem yesterday passed the second round of legalities in defending its use of North Santiam river water in the face of the water rights suit brought by Gardner Bennett of the Stayton Power canal to enjoin the city from using its present low-water emergency source. Circuit Judge Charles Combs of Lakeview heard arguments in the Marion-county circuit court, allowing one city motion for more definite description of certain land at the Stayton island and denying other motions including several to strike certain parts of the complaint. Motions to make more definite and certain included those parts of the complaint dealing with amounts of water which plaintiff alleged to be insufficient to supply him his water requirements, as to amounts of water in excess of 22 cubic feet per second and amounts used in furnishing power to the city of Stayton. Bennett's suit was filed September 21 and seeks to restrain the city from diverting water from the Santiam river. It was filed after the city refused to comply with a letter from Bennett to the city water commission asking that the city stop diverting water from the Santiam during the seasonal low period this summer.

Board to Aid Scout Program

Salem's scouting program will be made more coherent and stable by an organizational extension committee appointed this week to work in the Cherry City district, Lyle Leighton, scout executive, said Thursday. Irvin Bryan was appointed chairman of the new committee by Roy Harland, Cherry City district chairman. Wednesday night along with Ralph Eggstaff and John Garrin to assist in formation of the committee. Thursday Peery Buren, Leroy Johnson and Claire Palmer were named to the committee at a meeting with Leighton. While the main purpose of the new committee is to improve the quality of work being done by the different scout troops and cub packs in Salem, other duties will be the review of charters of existing troops, the assistance of civic groups in establishing new troops, and the helping of existing scout groups with organizational problems.

Alaska Relief Ship Sails, 2 More Needed

SEATTLE, Nov. 21.—(AP)—One relief ship sailed for Alaska today but urgent requests for immediate clearance of "at least two more" were made to AFL maritime unions here as the west coast maritime tieup dragged into its 32nd day. Lt. Cmdr. E. P. Chester, Jr., aide to Gov. Ernest Gruening of Alaska, and Volney Richmond, Jr., head of a chamber of commerce relief committee, asked that more ships be given clearance and relief cargo restrictions be broadened to include other essentials besides food, clothing and medicine. Chester said supplies aboard the Grummett Reser, which sailed this morning, will be "a drop in the bucket" toward meeting the territory's essential needs. Unions Feder Requests

Scouts Plan Annual Dinner Meet Jan. 8

Plans for an annual election dinner-meeting on the night of Jan. 8, 1947, were laid out Wednesday night's meeting of Cherry City district boy scout committee at the Rotary scout hut. Chairman Roy Harland appointed Chester Pickens, Chester Luther and William Dolf as a nominating committee for next year's officers to be voted on at the election banquet. Norman Fries, who was appointed chairman of the district's advancement committee, announced a board of review at Pringle park cabin on December 2 to be followed by a district court of honor December 4 at Waller hall on the Willamette university campus. He also reported that the district badge examiners list is now complete. Martin Mockford, assistant scout executive, announced that the district Eagle scout board of review would be held in the state supreme court chambers with Justice Arthur Hay presiding. It was reported at the meeting that Cherry city district, largest of the Cascade council area's five districts, now had a registered membership of 1246 cubs, scouts and senior scouts and 210 adult scouters. Included in the district's 41 scout units are 25 scout troops, 10 cub packs and 6 senior scout units.

Zena Entertained By Talkie Movie

ZENA—A diversified talkie movie entertainment was presented by Max and Mark Gehlhar of West Salem, at the meeting of Spring Valley Farmer's union at the Zena school house Friday night. Patriotic and musical numbers were followed by group singing and motion pictures.

State Payroll Declines from Wartime Peak

Oregon's 1946 payroll will be only about 10 per cent less than last year's $704,000,000 payroll, and will be the largest peacetime payroll on record, the state unemployment compensation commission predicted yesterday. While the shipbuilding payroll dropped $178,000,000 last year to an estimated $28,000,000 this year, this drop will largely be offset by gains in other industries. Lumber and logging will be up $25,000,000, food processing $6,000,000, construction $8,000,000, other manufacturing $20,000,000, trade $25,000,000, finance and realty $5,000,000, service $10,000,000, transportation and utilities $10,000,000, and agriculture, fishing and mining $8,000,000. There now are about 275,000 persons employed in industries subject to the unemployment law, compared with the wartime peak of 339,000 in June, 1943. Of the 5119 persons drawing unemployment compensation, 59 per cent are former shipyard workers.

Adair Building Sale Delayed

PORTLAND, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The war assets administration reported today that dates have not yet been set for sale to the general public of several hundred surplus Camp Adair buildings. Earlier it was believed that the sale could be arranged for this week, but the WAA property office said today that the dates would not be set until advertisements had been scheduled in a number of newspapers. It was believed that this would be some time next week.

Money to Burn

LIVINGSTON, Mont., Nov. 21.—(AP)—Dr. R. A. Hamilton received a letter today from Dude Rancher Bob Hart, asking the optometrist to send a check duplicating one mailed earlier. Hart explained that while on a mountain goat hunting trip it became necessary to build a fire to keep warm during a cold night, and the only paper he had was in the form of uncashed checks.

Institutions to Get Surplus Army Blankets

Among 31,000 surplus army blankets recently purchased for $135,000 by state institutions and educational institutions of the Northwest, some were obtained by the Oregon state school for the deaf, and Oregon state tuberculosis hospital, both in Salem, and the Mt. Angel college of Mt. Angel.

Last of Finnish Generals Held

HELSINKI, Nov. 21.—(AP)—The state police today arrested Gen. Ilmarinen Karhu, chief of the Finnish general staff, in connection with hiding weapons. With his arrest all the consecutive chiefs of the Finnish general staff since the armistice with Russia have been arrested for the same reason. The trail of all of them will start after parliament passes special legislation now under discussion. Authorities alleged that the more than 200 persons arrested had hidden the weapons and ammunition with a view of using them against the present Finnish government.

Salem Aero Club Gets Special Flight Cards

Backing Car Sans Lights Ends in $50 Fine

Charles L. Dusenberry, Portland, stated he was backing his car toward downtown Salem to have the throttle, which was disconnected, fixed Wednesday night when city police questioned him about backing the car along South Commercial street with the lights out, police reported Thursday. He was arrested on a charge of reckless driving, liquor involved, and was fined $50 in municipal court Thursday.

Boy Forced from Car By 2 Youths Police Told

Two boys jumped from another car, attacked him and forced him from his car at Hoyt and Commercial sts. at about 11:15 p. m. Wednesday, Dick Hathaway, 16, of 1695 N. 4th st., told city police yesterday. Hathaway said that he broke away from the two boys, whom he described as about 17 or 18 years old, regained his car and drove away. They followed, he said, but he finally lost them in the Hollywood area.
