

Laborites Vote To Nationalize British Trains

LONDON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The house of commons voted 362 to 204 tonight for nationalization of British railway system, giving a decisive second reading to the far-reaching transport bill which had been under fire from conservative members in three days of debate. The debate reached a climax tonight when Herbert Morrison, president of the council, declared that nationalization would permit "a bold and considered program of transport development." Concluding the case for the opposition, former foreign secretary Anthony Eden said that passage of the bill "will be nothing less than a major national disaster." He added that "the only economic justification for this bill is greater efficiency and lower costs and we should like to be shown how this is going to be brought about." Parliamentary observers reported that tonight's vote showed the heaviest participation of commons members in several years and marked the first time in this parliament the opposition had totaled more than 200 votes.

Baruch Notes Wallace Error

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch for the second time in recent months accused Henry A. Wallace today of responsibility for an error—this time in an article on the coal controversy in the New Republic magazine, of which Wallace just became editor. In a letter to Wallace, Baruch termed "wholly false and deliberately so" a New Republic article which said that President Truman "delegated the leadership in the legal battle against John L. Lewis to the toughest men around him: General Counsel Clark Clifford and the ubiquitous George Allen, both reinforced by Conservative Bernard Baruch." Baruch declared "I never communicated with the president on this subject," and added: "I expect you to correct this error which, I should think, is an unfortunate way to begin a new job depending on public confidence."

Clayton Given Fish Problem

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—A delegation of west coast fishing men said today it had been assured that Will L. Clayton, undersecretary of state, or a committee directly under him would handle international fishing problems. The delegation, named by a conference of west coast governors and headed by Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington, yesterday asked Secretary of State Byrnes for "highest level" consideration of problems they said might ruin the billion dollar yearly North Pacific fishing industry. Members told reporters they pointed out that Russian fishermen are plying rich fishing grounds where in former years activities by Japanese fishermen had caused long controversies.

TEHRAN, Dec. 18 (AP)—Prime Minister Ahmed Qavam said in an interview today he would keep his promise to Russia to submit to parliament a proposal for oil concessions in five northern provinces, and expressed the hope that national elections could begin Sunday. Expressing the view that his recently organized national democratic party was "growing stronger every day," that the leftist Tudeh party was "getting weaker and weaker" and that the Azerbaijan democrat party no longer exists, Qavam said however the election of the new parliament might not be completed before three months. He explained that it would take time to select election commissions and organize the voting machinery.
