

Miss Ball Now Mrs. Brown

In a setting of white chrysanthemums and tapers at the First Congregational church Friday night Miss Frances Alberta Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Ball of Raymond, Wash., became the bride of Warren Blaine Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Brown.

The Rev. Daniel Taylor, pastor of the First Methodist church, Vancouver, Wash., performed the nuptials at 8 o'clock. Miss Betty Louise Sinkola was the soloist and Miss Alice Rose the organist. Lighting the tapers were Miss Marjorie Wentzell and Miss Verne Stocks, who wore pastel blue gowns.

Mr. Ball gave his daughter in marriage and her bridal gown was of white satin with a full train of lace. The bodice was fitted with a high, pointed neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip length veil cascaded from a coronet of bouvardia and she carried a white Bible with a shower of bouvardia.

Miss Patricia Brown, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Ella Louise Ball, sister of the
