Shower Given for Scotch Bride

SILVERTON — A miscellaneous shower was given Saturday night for Miss Nan Dowling at the home of Mrs. W. R. Tomson with Miss Nellie Cavendar co-hostess. Miss Dowling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dowling, bride-elect of Albert Rasmussen arrived January 26 from her home at Dundee, Scotland.

Twenty guests were greeted at the Tomson home and presented with corsages of Scotch heather. A heart bearing the names of the couple with ribbon streamers leading to the pictures of the two, centered the mantle.

A bowl of Scotch heather and acacia centered the dining room

AAUW Speaker to Be Miss Thomson

Miss Elnora Thomson, until recently director of nursing education at the University of Oregon Medical school and one of those who established the Marion county health unit here in 1924, will be the luncheon speaker at the Salem branch of the American Association of University Women Saturday, February 15, at the Marion hotel.

Miss Thomson recently visited Haiti while on leave from the medical school faculty, and will use that as her topic at the luncheon meeting. Miss Thomson is a popular and capable speaker, and well known in Salem.

The AAUW afternoon literature group will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Raymond Walsh, 606 S. High street for a 1:15 dessert luncheon. Mrs. Arthur Bone will be the assisting hostess. Mrs. J. Vinton Scott will review "The Pavilion of Women" by Pearl Buck.

Gardening Today

Mrs. C. A. Kells of the Salem Camellia and Rhododendron society sends a nice bit of information on camellias gathered from the information committee which she tells me, is composed of Walter A. Barcus, C. L. McDonald and Ernest Inger. What they tell us will, I know, be useful to all who have a camellia, and who doesn't have at least one?

Now is the time (the information says) to disbud camellias. Some early varieties could have been disbudded a month or two earlier.

Mulching is one of the most important things for rhododendrons and camellias. Rotten logs and stumps, especially alder and oak, of course, peat moss is one mulch you can always rely upon.

Go Slow
You think your plants need a little fertilizer, you should use well decayed cow or horse manure, but go slow on fertilizer products, especially commercial mixtures.

In the past, the camellia has been in most people's minds, a tender plant and many have asked how much will it stand without injury. Although some varieties, especially the singles and semi-doubles, will stand a little more than others, experimentation over the past 12 years shows there has been much to be learned to have been killed by frost. Camellias will very well stand six above zero and probably would stand zero temperatures under certain conditions. Remember, do not put your rooted cuttings out of doors in the fall as there might be some injury if they are not well hardened. This is the moist climate in which camellias seem to thrive.

Now is the time to protect a few of your choice camellias, such as Lotus, Villa de Nantes, or Diagonia, which are showing color buds. In fact, some are blooming. The rain and wind is what does the injury to these flowers. Take some quarter inch rods and bend around in tent form and place ends in the ground, then cover with whatever material you have.

With Stayton planting petunias, Salem putting out more camellias and Portland having a regular rose-planting fever, Silverton has decided to plant iris. Not that there aren't quite a few irises growing there already, but a campaign is going to be put on to have at least one iris in every garden. The campaign is started by the Silverton Women's Business and Professional club. Dr. R. E. Kleinsorge, member of the state board of higher education, whose home is at Silverton, is one of the nation's foremost hybridizers. The national society is meeting in the Willamette valley in May of 1949, only the second time it has ever come to the Pacific coast.

Questions and Answers
S. E. sends a yellowed stem of a Christmas cactus and asks why that color.

Ans. It could be that the plant has had too much water. While some water is necessary during the blooming season, the Christmas cactus does not like to stand in water. Also, it might need fresh soil and a little fertilizer. This should be given in early fall. The plant naturally grows a little more yellow as it goes into its rest period, too.

R. S. asks how to go about selling primroses. She wants to start a commercial primrose garden.

Ans. Write the state department of agriculture, or call in there at its 12th street office. I believe a license is required.

M. M. wants to top dress his lawn. Asks if he should hoe or dig it up any first.

Ans. -- It is a good thing to rake off moss and run over the lawn with a perforator but it is not absolutely necessary. February care of the lawn is one of the most important ones the lawn gets, if you would have a nice summer turf. If you have a good compost which can be screened you have the best top dressing you can get. This may be used two parts (in bulk) compost to one part builders' sand. Sheep guano or commercial fertilizer may be mixed with top soil and sand to form a substitute for the compost if the latter is not available.

F. M. asks if bonemeal will help lilacs now.

Ans: Lilacs respond to bone-meal, but would have done better had the bonemeal been given in October or November.
