

My image in my heart
is sweet
as the lovely little Marguerite.

Take my fragrant Valentine
And let it speak for me
It breathes love in every line,
Love true and pure for thee.

Good old-fashioned sentiment is fairly bursting from our society pages today. Delving into the past, we pulled out a bagful of Valentines of yesteryear and brought them strictly up to date with pretty sweethearts of today. Every young girl is someone's sweetheart but we had to be content with only a half dozen.

Up in the left-hand picture little Letty Diane, daughter of the Harry Carsons of Silverton temporarily takes the place of a pretty little maid with offerings of flowers, who has stood before the trolley car for many years. The old Valentine was one belonging to the late Mrs. Henry Meyers and now the property of Mrs. Donald Young. (Letty's photo is by Josten-Miller).

At her feet is another of Mrs. Meyers' Valentines, now the property of Mrs. Louis Lachmund. It sports a beautiful red fringe and spray of marguerites.

The valentine in the upper right hand corner belongs to Mrs. Reuben P. Boise and was her mother's many years ago. It is mostly gold and gray on lace paper. The valentine girl is Roberta Tuss, daughter of the Aubrey Tussings.

Below, right, is a sentimental valentine of the sweet old, many-layered type. The proud ship of love stands upright on a blue sea, "manned" by two beautiful sailor boys. The sails are gold. (Pity ignore the rent in the ship's side, caused, no doubt by a battle with the elements which every ship of love must encounter in its voyage). This and those framing the four girls are from the collection of Mrs. James Hutchinson, Vancouver, B. C., and loaned by her mother, Mrs. George Rodgers.

Sweethearts at the left are Barbara King (upper) daughter of the Sidney Kings and Betty Jo Beardsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judd Beardsley. Lower right are Beverly Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nelson and Marianne Bonesteel, daughter of the Wallace Bonesteel's. (Photos by Kennell-Ellis. Art work and comments by Maxine Buren).

Legislative Social Whirl...

By Jerome English

Stateman Society Editor

Social affairs among members of the legislative contingent continue to hold the spotlight.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Harrison W. Ellis, Jr. will be hostess for an informal tea at Lee Rogers' Heights home on Union Lane in compliment to her mother, Mrs. George Washlow of Edinboro, here with Senator Washlow during the session.

A group of mothers and daughters have been invited to call February 23rd 5 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Ross will preside at the affair, and seating names Mrs. Neuman Washlow and Mrs. Wayne Douglas.

A Buffet Supper

Rep. and Mrs. Robert A. Bennett and Rep. and Mrs. Robert E. Roway of Portland will be hosts for a buffet supper Monday night at 7 o'clock at the Marion street home of Miss Muriel Ellis.

Covers will be placed for Stocker of the House and Mrs. John Hall, Rep. and Mrs. Ralph Moore of Coos Bay, Miss Muriel Blair, Rep. Stanley Pier of Portland, Sen. and Mrs. Allen Carson of Salem, Sen. and Mrs. W. A. Burtess of Grants Pass, Sen. and Mrs. Eugene Marsh of Astoria and the hosts.

Invitations were in the mail Friday for the tea for which Mrs. Earl Snell, Mrs. Robert F. Snell, Mrs. Marshall Cornett and Mrs. John Hall will be hostesses on February 18 at the Farrell home between 3 and 5 o'clock in honor of the legislators' wives.

Wisteria Dance

Wisteria club will entertain with a valentine dance Friday night at the Veteran's hall. Many parties are being arranged to precede and follow the affair. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bale will be hosts for a dessert supper before the dance at their Singson street home. The Bales will entertain with another pre-dance party in March.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Klaus have invited guests to a dessert supper before the dance and to a midnight supper party following the affair at their home in compliment to their dance guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dotson of Portland.

Rep. and Mrs. Douglas Yeater and Mr. and Mrs. John Stark have invited 35 couples to a party at the Yeater home on Virginia street preceding the dance. Capt. and Mrs. William Haskins will assist the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Parker Lanberry and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Craig of Corvallis will entertain with a supper party following the dance at the former's home on Kingwood Heights. Guests will be Messrs. and Mesdames Eric Allen, E. T. Barnett, Edward Miek, Walter Snyder, Paul Hale, David Cameron, John Taylor and Frederick Klaus.

Town Club Dinner

The Town club's valentine dinner dance will be Saturday night in the Mirror room of the Marion hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Harold Tomlinson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sears will be hosts for a party preceding the dance at the former's home in Morningside for 40 of their friends between 8 and 9 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Collins will entertain with a pre-dance party at their Market street home between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Coming from out-of-town for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. William Graper of Portland, who will be guests of the Robert Needhams, and the Thorne Hammonds of Portland, who will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler English.

Reserve Officers Ball

Highlighting the formal dances for the month will be the Marion county chapter, Reserve Officers' association ball on February 22 at the armory. This will be the first ball for the chapter in five years. The affair is strictly invitational. Claude Bird's orchestra will play with the grand march slated for 10 o'clock. All officers will attend in uniform.

Lt. Col. Eugene Laird, chairman of distinguished guests and patrons, has announced the complete list as follows: Governor and Mrs. Earl Snell, Secretary of State and Mrs. Robert S. Farrell, Jr., State Treasurer and Mrs. Leslie Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, Mayor and Mrs. Robert L. Elfstrom, Chief Justice and Mrs. George Rossman, President of the Senate and Marshall Cornett, Speaker of the House and Mrs. John Hall, Colonel and Mrs. Carl Abrams, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Raymond Olson, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. T. E. Rilea, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Ralph Cowgill, Col. and Mrs. George Wahl, Col. and Mrs. H. G. Maisen, Col. and Mrs. John D. McCammon, Eugene, Col. and Mrs. Kern Crandall, Corvallis, and the following United States congressmen and their wives, Guy Cordon, Wayne L. Morse, Harris Ellsworth, Lowell Stockman, Homer D. Angell and Walter Norblad.

