Communists' Schools Cited By VFW Chief

PORTLAND, March 19 -(AP)- Louis E. Starr, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, asserted here today that two communist schools have been operating in Oregon for about six months.

Repeating a charge made earlier on a speaking tour, Starr declared that the schools were teaching converts to become leaders. "One of communism's great leaders has moved here since the war," he said. He declined to identify the "leader" or the schools' location.

Mark Haller, state secretary of the communist party, retorted that "we have no schools such as Mr. Starr mentions." Haller said the party has social science classes, "but these are not new, and they are taught by local people. They teach nothing not to be found in books sold at communist headquarters."

Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., told the committee that a guaranteed market for building trade labor for 10 years" would curtail union "restrictive practices."
