

Willamette U. Infirmary Rising Scout Parade

Saturday to Precede Circus

Approximately 1,700 Boy Scouts from Marion, Linn and Polk counties—making up the Cascade council area—will take part in a parade through Salem streets Saturday morning in connection with the annual Boy Scout circus at the fairgrounds Saturday night.

Members and leaders from over 75 scout and cub units from the council's five districts will be divided into four sections. Floats, bands, banners and scout displays will also be included in the line of march.

The parade will form and start from Marion square at 11 o'clock. Its route will take it south on Commercial street to State; east on State to Liberty, north on Liberty to Court street, east on Court street to High, south on High to State; east on State street to Cottage and north on Cottage street into Willson park where the lines will disband.

Leading the marchers will be a color guard of sea scouts followed by the Parrish junior high school band. The first section will be the Cherry City district scouts followed by the second section of cub scouts from all districts. The Leslie junior high school band will precede the third section of scouts from Calapooya, Polk, Marion and Silver Falls district. The fourth and last section will be made up of Sweet Home scouts and cubs led by the Sweet Home scout band.

R. O. Lewis, member of the Salep Lions club, sponsoring the circus, is chairman of the parade program.

MEN SLEEP ON CITY DUMP
SEATTLE, April 10—(AP)—Police admitted tonight Seattle's housing situation must be acute when they found four men living in a city garbage dump.

Mules were extensively used in ancient Rome.

Section by section, reconstruction of two surplus Camp Adair infirmary buildings now on the Willamette university campus was nearing completion this week. Sections, hauled to the campus by truck, are put into place by cranes (see cut). Reconstruction of the two 25 by 33-foot buildings will provide the wings for the "H" shaped college infirmary which is expected to be completed this spring. The wings, to be joined by a 17 by 35-foot new building for reception rooms and office, will provide a ward for men, a ward for women and an isolation ward, with total capacity of 20 beds. Matron's quarters, kitchen, boiler room, examination and laboratory rooms also are planned. Willamette at present has health offices but no campus infirmary. The infirmary site on the east campus is behind the present excavation operations for the new men's dormitory on 12th street. (Statesman photo by Eric Bergman.)

State Tax Office to Keep Late Hours As Deadline Nears

Warning that the deadline for filing state income tax returns, based on 1946 incomes, expires next Tuesday night, April 15, was issued Wednesday by Earl Fisher, in charge of the income tax division of the state tax commission. Both the Salem and Portland offices of the commission will remain open until midnight Tuesday for the convenience of eleventh hour taxpayers. Fisher estimated that more than 370,000 returns would be filed with the commission this year, including 250,000 from individuals, 5,000 from corporations and 15,999 from partnerships and fiduciaries. Collections of income taxes during 1947 were expected to exceed $25,000,000.
