

Dorothy Hardie, John Hay Married at St. Paul's

The aisle of St. Paul's Episcopal church was lighted with cathedral candles which cast a soft glow over masses of calla lilies, snapdragons and stock as Miss Dorothy Hardie stepped to the altar to wed John R. Hay Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The Rev. George H. Swift performed the nuptials before a large gathering of friends and relatives. Mrs. Bob Napier of Corvallis sang for her brother's wedding and Miss Ruth Bedford was the organist.

Pews were marked with satin bows tied with flowers. Lighting the tapers were Mrs. Gervaise Elliott, in pearl grey chiffon and Mrs. Robert Pickens in white. They wore white flowers in their hair.

The petite, blonde bride entered on the arm of her father, W. J. Hardie. Her quaint bridal gown was of white satin fashioned with papiers and a full skirt ending in a court train. The gathered bodice was embellished with beading and pearls. The sleeves were Gibson girl style. From a crown of orange blossoms cascaded her fingertip length tulle veil, which was edged in lace and tiered. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried her great-grandmother's prayer book, marked with a white orchid.

Preceding her to the altar was her cousin, Mrs. Richard Harmond of Tacoma, who wore a lilac flowered moire taffeta gown. Before her walked the bridesmaids, Mrs. Richard L. Cooley and Mrs. Byron C. Mennis, who wore dresses of moon blue moire taffeta. The frocks were designed identical with elbow length sleeves, full skirts with small papiers. The attendants wore lace mitts and headresses of lilacs and tulle. They carried bouquets of lilacs shading from lavender to violet.

Douglas Hay of Eugene stood with his brother and seating guests were Jack Dunn of Myrtle Point, Claybourne Dyer, Harvey Quistad, Joseph M. Devers, jr., Bob Napier of Corvallis and Robert DeArmond.

For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Hardie selected a grey chiffon gown with matching lace yoke shot with silver and grey lace mitts. In her hair was a wreath of flowers and pinned to the shoulder of her gown was an orchid. The groom is the son of Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. Arthur Hay. The latter wore a turquoise crepe gown with panel of flame color from shoulder to hemline. Her flowers were flame colored wasonias.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception at the Hay home. Mrs. A. L. McCafferty was in charge of the dining room. Pouring were Mrs. J. B. W. Lawson and Mrs. James Cormack of Portland, aunts of the groom, and Mrs. O. G. Noland of Portland and Mrs. G. M. Yeager, Salem, aunts of the bride. Mrs. W. Ludd Read and Mrs. Duane Gibson cut the bride's cake. Assisting were Mesdames Douglas Hay, Eugene, Fred A. Davis, Robert Cannon, Claybourne Dyer, Wallace Hug and Joseph Devers, jr. Also assisting were Mrs. Glenn McCarthy of Portland, Mrs. James H. Nicholson, jr., Mrs. Harvey Quistad, Mrs. Robert DeArmond, Richard Cooley and Emory Hobbs.

Mr. Hay and his bride are driving to San Francisco on their honeymoon. For traveling Mrs. Hay wore a water lily blue wool suit, the long, fitted jacket enhanced with silver and blue bugle beads. Her open crown draped pillbox was of the same material as her suit. She wore Balencaga accessories and carried mink furs. A white orchid was pinned to her suit. The couple will be at home at 170 West Wilson street after May 1.

Mrs. Burton Myers was installed at a ceremony in Portland as state president of the medical auxiliary.
