Prof. Frank R. Strong

WU Engages Ohio Professor For Summer

Prof. Frank R. Strong, full professor of law at the Ohio State university law school, will teach a course in regulation of business this summer as a visiting professor at Willamette university's college of law.

Addition of Strong to the summer faculty was announced today by Dean Seward P. Reese of the local law college, who noted that the appointee is an outstanding authority on trade regulations. The professor is a son of the late Dr. Frank Strong who was president of University of Oregon from 1899 to 1902 and subsequently until his death in 1934 was chancellor of the University of Kansas and constitutional law professor at Kansas school of law.

Prof. Strong will offer his course here during the first summer session, June 23 to July 26. A second law course given that term will be one in labor law, offered by Prof. Kenneth H. York of the regular Willamette law faculty.

Prof. Strong, at Yale law graduate who was admitted to the Iowa bar in 1926, has since then been on the Ohio State law faculty. He has conducted summer courses as a visiting professor at Duke, Northwestern, Michigan and Texas universities. While at Duke as a visiting professor in the regular 1940-41 school year, he edited the noted professional monthly, "Law and Contemporary Problems."

Congress Seeks Ford's Advice

WASHINGTON, April 17-(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) disclosed Wednesday that Henry Ford II, grandson of the late industrial wizard, will be asked on counsel congress on what to do about high prices.

Taft, as chairman of the joint committee on the economic report, said that Ford and Fowler McCormick of the International Harvester Company will be called to testify. They have recently cut some prices.

Among the first portable watches were round forms called "Nuerberg eggs."

Albert Fern Rites Tuesday

HAZEL GREEN—Funeral services will be held Sunday for Albert Fern, 46, who was killed accidentally in a sawmill accident at his place here Tuesday. The Rev. Fred Towne will conduct rites at 2 p. m. in Dallas Christian church, to be followed by interment at Salem mausoleum. Henkle-Bollman company is in charge.

Mr. Fern was proprietor of the Hazel Green Logging Co. Formerly a resident of Dallas, he was a member of the Dallas IOOF lodge and was a member of the Salem First Christian church.

He leaves a widow, Mary, and two children, Alberta and Marcia, at home; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fern, Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Esther Weins of Fall City and Mrs. Emma Bartel, Dallas; six brothers, William of Rickreall, Edward of Eugene and John, Emil, Walter and Fred, all of Dallas.

MINISTERS BAN WOMEN PORTLAND, April 17-(AP)—The Portland Presbytery has voted against admitting women to the ministry. Dr. W. L. Killian, clerk of the Presbyterian-synod of Oregon reports.

Hardman's plea came in the middle of a jury trial, following his earlier plea of innocent to a charge of assault with intent to kill. He was arrested by city police February 16, reportedly in connection with the stabbing of his wife on a downtown street.

Byron Randall, son of the Kenneth Randalls of Mehama, formerly of Salem, has returned to the United States after eight months as an employee of the World News service, painting a series of pictures of Yugoslavia and Poland.

The paintings and some etchings in a new technique on Warsaw scenes, will be exhibited at the Ricardo Galleries from June 15 to August 1 at the ACA galleries in New York following that, and later at the ACG Galleries in Hollywood.

Randall, who received his education in Salem and his early art training here, has been doing professional painting for the past several years. During the war he was in the merchant marines. Randall maintained his studio in San Francisco and has returned there to be with his wife, the former Helen Nelson, and their daughter, Gale.

His parents have returned to Mehama from a motor trip to San Francisco to greet him.

Pleads Guilty to Charge Of Assault with Weapon

Glenn Lawrence Hardman, Hanson avenue, pleaded guilty in Marion county circuit court Thursday to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Sen-ence was continued until Tuesday.

Hardman's plea came in the middle of a jury trial, following his earlier plea of innocent to a charge of assault with intent to kill. He was arrested by city police February 16, reportedly in connection with the stabbing of his wife on a downtown street.

Cannery Union Plans Social

Cannery workers union, local 670, of Salem and vicinity, will hold its second annual social for all cannery workers and families at the local labor temple auditorium Tuesday, April 22, at 8 p. m.

The program will open with community singing, followed by an amateur program of vocals, instrumentals, dancing and music by members and their families. Dancing with music provided by Ray Weidner's orchestra of Portland and a floor show under the direction of the Faye Broadwell school of dance will follow the program. Mrs. Theresa Hasseptab is chairman of the entertainment committee.
