

Tree Resources Are Discussed

LEBANON — Conservation of forest resources and utilization of waste were the matters stressed by speakers Monday night when the Lebanon chamber of commerce entertained representatives of government and industry in this section. The principal address by W. H. Hornung, regional manager of the land management division of the department of the interior for this section traced the relation between the communities, business and social activities and the wise use of the timber resource. George Gerlinger predicted that within ten years mills having waste burners will be penalized or closed down. Carl Crow of the Pacific Coast Lumber Digest was master of ceremonies and other special guests were city officials of the communities in this part of the valley, members of the county court, state officials Governor Earl Snell and members of the state legislature.

NOBLE GRANDS MEET
JEFFERSON — The Past Noble Grand club served a covered dish dinner followed by a business meeting. Mrs. Ida Hartley read the scripture. Mrs. Nettie Hawk was installed as secretary, in place of Neva Kester. Plans were discussed for the celebration of Mother's Day. Members will visit two members of the club: Mrs. Grace Thurston in the Odd Fellows Home and Mrs. G. W. Humphrey in a convalescent home. Members sewed blocks for the club quilt.

VFW Groups Have Public Installation

MT. ANGEL — Fellowship post and auxiliary of the VFW held color dedication and installation of officers at St. Mary's auditorium April 21. The post colors were dedicated by past department commander, George E. Watts. The district auxiliary president, Mrs. Leon Hanson and past district president, Mrs. Arvin Strayer and the Salem degree team installed auxiliary officers. Officers include Miss Florence Hassing, president; Mrs. Al Saalfeld, senior vice-president; Mrs. Ernest Crowder, junior vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Kehoe, secretary; Miss Frances Hassing, treasurer; Miss Peggy Skonetani, chaplain; Miss Margaret Traeger, conductress; Mrs. Luke Schmidt, guard; Miss Evelyn Froemel, patriotic instructor; Miss Mary Traeger, Miss Regina Hoffer, Miss Helen Froemel; Miss Mildred Duda, color bearers; Miss Mary Traeger, Miss Regina Hoffer and Mrs. Frank Walker, trustees. Past department commander, Watts, and his degree team from Oregon City officiated at the post installation of Leo A. Traeger, commander; Gilvert Hoffer, senior vice-president; Anthony Schultz, junior vice-president; Kenneth Kehoe, quartermaster; Ira Herford, trustee; Alvin Saalfeld, post advocate; E. I. Berni, surgeon; Vincent Smith, chaplain.
