Scout Officials At Camporee

Scoutmasters, scout commissioners and senior troop leaders in three Marion county districts will return to their homes this evening after two day camporees spent learning the finer points of campcraft.
More than 75 men and youths participated in the camporee held on Martin Johnson's ranch in Polk county. Two troops headed by Sam Randle and Elmer Kleinke as scoutmasters were made up of the Salem scouts, and Dick Alverson, district commissioner, directed the camporee.
Cherry City district scouts were taught how to properly set up camps with housing, cooking and sanitation exhibits demonstrated by Lou Amort, district committee camp chairman.
Scouters in the Silverton area of the Silver Falls district, and the Marion district including Idanha-North Santiam area, held their respective training camporees in preparation for the district camporees to be held in May.
Almost 20 million American homes have no central heating plants.

Logs Take Tumble at Silverton

SILVERTON—A lot of potential lumber lost its footing when a reach broke and the trailer slid out from under this truck-load of logs near the bridge over Silver creek here. Policeman J. C. Fowler is shown keeping traffic from jamming while the logs are slowly dragged away. They were en route to Salem with Truck Driver Dick Hamblen. (Globe photo.)

Quacking Callers Visit Homes Along Local Mill Creek's Banks

By Don Dill
Staff Writer, The Statesman

Many cities and towns have mill creeks and streams, but few have the distinction of having ducks and swans gracefully cruising up and down the swift flowing streams or waddling up lawns vociferously quacking for a bit to eat. Salem has that distinction.
From time to time there have been lone ducks stop over on the creek, but it wasn't until about six years ago that a mallard hen decided to make Salem her home and took up a nesting claim in the back yard of Miss Ella Deyce, 806 N. Cottage st. For a time the little brown mottled hen was alone until a wood duck dropped by and decided to settle. Since that time the ducks have multiplied, and today there are the vari-colored mallards, white domestics, and even swans.
On Mill Creek
Many New Yorkers know of ducks as only a course in a restaurant dinner, and have to go to Central Park or the Bronx zoological gardens to see the birds in the feather. Salem persons along the Mill creek have but to step to the back porch with a bit of bread and quacking callers fill the yard.
Most of the webfooted amphibians range from the State street bridge to the 23rd street bridge, and Parrish to Broadway streets. The one swan keeps to the creek from N. 21st street to Center street. There used to be two swans, but small boys killed one with stones some years ago.
Ducks Stay Year Round
The ducks stay on the mill stream all year long and right now are nesting. Soon little-fleets of ducklings will be sailing the creek, playing tag with sun spark-on miniature waves, and old mother duck will cruise along like a ship's tender keeping a watchful eye for real or fancied danger to her charges. Salem persons will find pleasure during sunny spring and summer days watching and feeding their feathered friends.

Irregularity in Stock Market

NEW YORK, April 26—(AP)—In one of the slowest sessions for the past three years the stock market today emerged from a somewhat spotty week with mild irregularity persisting.
The list rallied selectively in the forepart of the week but subsequently lost ground.
On the day Chrysler was up 1 1/2 at 91, Montgomery Ward 1/2 at 50 1/2, Schenley 3/4 at 29 3/4, American Woolen 1/2 at 33 1/4, and American Telephone 3/4 at 164 1/2. Modest improvement was shown for Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, North American, Kennecott, International Paper, Southern Pacific and Illinois Central.
Norfolk & Western dropped 2-1/2 at 226 and U. S. Rubber preferred 6 at 147. Losers included Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodyear, Anaconda, American Smelting, American Can, General Electric, Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio and International Harvester.
Transfers of 290,000 shares were a low since April 5. The week's volume of 4,379,670 shares compared with 6,956,480 in the preceding week.
The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .1 of a point at $1.6 and for the week showed a net advance of .3 after three successive weekly declines. The Saturday gain was due to the presence of a few key stocks in the index. Actually, there were more declines than advances.

UAL Begins Hawaii Flights

Gov. Earl Snell's personal greetings to the governor of Hawaii are en route to Honolulu today on a special United Air Lines flight heralding the start of San Francisco to Honolulu plane service May 1.
The Oregon governor's letter is carried on the four-engined DC-6 by UAL President W. A. Patterson, who will present it to the Hawaiian official. Gov. Snell's message follows:
"With the inauguration of United Air Lines service from the mainland to Hawaii, our state of Oregon is brought closer to your beautiful islands, giving us for the first time a one-carrier, daily transportation service! It is my earnest hope that this new facility for commerce and intercourse will bring us closer in neighborliness, friendship and prosperity.
"Please accept greetings to the people of the Territory of Hawaii from the people of Oregon, and my warmest personal greetings to you."

Mrs. Klosterman, 47, Succumbs to Cancer Saturday

Minnette E. Klosterman, 47, wife of W. E. Klosterman, of the Bishop-Moderne studios, died of cancer Saturday at her home route 8, box 330, Salem, in Kingwood heights.
Mrs. Klosterman was a member of the Sojourners, was a pianist and interested in music and the arts and was active in various charitable organizations in both Salem and Seattle, where the Klostermans made their residence for eight years before coming to Salem two years ago. They had previously resided for eight years in Minneapolis, Minn. A Red Cross member, she was one of the "Gray Ladies" in Seattle. She was educated in St. Louis, Mo., and at Berkeley, Calif.

She was born at St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 29, 1899, the daughter of Charles and Emma Sabor.
Surviving are the husband, three sons, Elliot, Jr., of Mt. Vernon, Wash., and Edward and Robert Klosterman, both of Salem; three brothers, Russell Sabor, Minneapolis, Minn., Sam of Los Angeles and Chawntey of Phoenix, Ariz., and an aunt, Mathilda Hohn of St. Louis.
The funeral arrangements will be made by the W. T. Rigdon company.

PICKETS WITHDRAWN
PORTLAND, April 27—(AP) Pickets withdrew from the Pacific Fruit & Produce company plant today, allowing operations to resume after a one-day halt when salesmen called a strike in a dispute over pay, vacations and automobile allowances.

If all the harvested cropland in the United States were equally divided between each man, woman and child, each would have approximately two and one-half acres.
This is about the size of an average city block.
It is 330 feet square.
From this small area each of us gets his wheat, cotton, corn, rice, tobacco, vegetables, fruit and similar crops.
In Western Europe (including Germany) cropland per person amounts to only .7 of an acre. In Asia it is only .5 per acre.
Thus, though the American figure seems small, the comparison emphasizes the richness of our agricultural production as compared to that of the rest of the world. It also highlights the importance of productive land.
Since we started farming in the United States we have ruined around 1/2 acre per person—based on present day population.
Another 3/4 of an acre of the 2 1/2 acres is in serious condition.
We need the whole 2 1/2 acres. It has to produce efficiently to do its job. There's one sure way of getting efficient production . . . and that's through conservation farming. Conservation can save what we have and build much of the land ruined in years past.
The farm service of the First National Bank of Portland is working with farmers throughout the state in the interests of soil conservation and better farming methods. First National farm field men work closely with your county agent and your local Agricultural Conservation Committee to the end that the latest and the most modern methods be made available to you.
