

A Garden Wedding

In the garden at the Wallace Road home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Forrest Sunday morning at ten o'clock their daughter, Miss Polly Forrest, will become the bride of Corporal Kenneth Conley, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Conley of Loveland, Ohio. The couple will exchange vows before the garden pool with the Rev. George Martin officiating. Miss Elva Moyer of Springfield will sing and Miss Susan Stuller will be the accompanist.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a gown of white nylon marquisette fashioned with a peasant neckline edged in a wide ruffle. The sleeves are three-quarter length and the full, floor-length skirt is designed with a panel of ruffles in back. From a Dutch crochet lace cap will cascade her full length veil, which is edged in lace. She will carry a bouquet of Cecile Brunner roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. James Harold Forrest will be her sister-in-law's only attendant and will wear peach taffeta trimmed in robin's egg blue. Mr. Forrest will stand with the groom as best man. Both are stationed at Camp Stoneman, Calif.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Forrest will wear a black dress with embroidery embellishing the bodice and a draped skirt. Her corsage will be of gardenias. The groom's parents were unable to come west for the nuptials.

The newlyweds will greet guests at a reception in the garden. The couple will spend their honeymoon at the Forrest summer place at Agate Beach and will make their home in Salem. Mr. Conley will receive his discharge from the army on May 1.

Picnic Honors Wyoming Couple

Over forty persons, formerly of Wyoming, gathered April 20 at Legion hall in Sheridan, for an indoor picnic honoring Mr. and Mrs. John Crowe of Cheyenne, visiting the Harry Crowe and Nellie Crowe families. Luncheon was served and games played during the day.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Schmoker, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Steinke, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Steinke, Lynda and Jill Marie of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Throneberry and Sharon of Waconda, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crowe and children, Mrs. Nellie Crowe, and Nellie Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crowe and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baller and children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dickey and children, Mr. and Mrs.

Don't Look Now...

but... Mrs. Norton Pearl of Detroit, Mich., national president of the American Legion auxiliary, visiting the state capitol and hearing the glowing tributes to Oregon given by our efficient super salesman-guide, admired the beautiful table made from rich and rare Oregon woods in the governor's office but was gratified to note that it was made in Grand Rapids.

Time and again... The students of Willamette have a new idea, they are thinking of having men assist girls in the Maypole dance. Now some years ago, too remote of course for this young generation to remember, men did dance with the girls around the Maypole. But we remember a day even before this was condoned, and also recall the first year when a daring thing was done--THE MEN DANCED WITH THE GIRLS IN PUBLIC ON THE CAMPUS--but things were more discreet than one might think, for when the dance routine decreed that hand clasped hand, a handkerchief, dexterously held in her palm, kept the young lady's fingers from really touching those of her partner. But it was a step anyway kids, and we were pioneers.

Modern methods... If a newspaper functioned like a radio network our Statesman's front page would be like this: Mr. Sprague in "It Seems to Me" would give his version of the arrival of Secretary of State George Marshall in the US yesterday. In columns two through seven, would be signed stories by local reporters, clipped from an AP news dispatch about the arrival of Secretary of State George Marshall in the US yesterday. They'd be the same except that one would call him "George", because the reporter served in the army when "George" was a general and knows him showing new talent as a magician. Trend toward colorful dance themes reached high pitch Saturday night at the Independent's all-school costume ball. A prize was given for the best student interpretation of night-marish costume... Among the sarongs and patched slacks at last Saturday's Beta Theta Pi Shipwreck dance, Louise Hibbard's print dress looked comfortable. In defense of her costume she claimed, "I rowed to shore in a life boat." Preparation for next weekend's May Court festivities include, "tending the all-night barbecue pit, for which the living organizations will rotate standing watch. Coeds will enjoy almost unprecedented hours as some of the watches are in the wee hours..."

Members of the Monday study club will meet at the East Nob Hill home of Mrs. L. V. Benson. Seniors breathe more freely this weekend and walk with an almost sprightly step... Comprehensive, the dreaded tests covering all work in their major subjects, were held Thursday. A senior class meeting immediately followed to plan a beach trip as celebration... May Queen Margaret Allen, one of the happy seniors majoring in drama already has a schedule mapped out for the year, including trying out for radio work.

Bridal Plans Revealed

Two May brides-elect are revealing plans for their weddings. Miss Elvira Behrens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Behrens of Portland, will be married to J. Harold Neuswanger, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Neuswanger of Silverton, on Saturday, May 3, at the First Evangelical United Brethren church. The 8 o'clock nuptials will be performed by the Rev. J. E. Campbell, former pastor, now of Lafayette, Indiana.

George Millen will sing and William Fawk will be the organist. Lighting the tapers will be Mrs. Marjorie Behrens of Portland and Mrs. William Fawk.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, has asked Mrs. Ivan Osterman to be her matron of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Dorothy Neuswanger, sister of the groom, and Miss Evelyn Halvorson. Delbert Lovry of Silverton will serve as best man and ushers will be Ivan Osterman, Norman Paulson and Calvin and Leo Behrens, brothers of the bride from Portland. The wedding reception will be held at the Ivan Osterman home on Court street.

High Noon Rites

At a high noon wedding on Saturday, May 10, Miss Muriel Lindstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom, sr., will become the bride of Donald B. Eshelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Eshelman. The rites will be performed at the First Congregational church with the Rev. Seth Huntington officiating. Mrs. Mabel Powers will be the organist and Mrs. Craig Coyner will be the soloist.

Mr. Lindstrom will give his daughter in marriage. She has asked her sister-in-law, Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom, jr., to be her only attendant. Samuel Eshelman will be his brother's best man. The couple will leave immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to British Columbia. They will live in Salem.

Miss Rund A Bride

Miss Mary Jo Rund, daughter of Mrs. M. Dale Hilborn, and David Doughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard E. Doughton, were quietly married Saturday afternoon at one o'clock at the Jason Lee Methodist parsonage. The Rev. S. Raynor Smith officiated before members of the immediate family.

For her wedding the bride chose a grey suit fashioned with cut-away jacket, a pink straw hat and pink gloves. Her accessories were black and pinned to her suit was a corsage of gardenias and pink roses. The couple was unattended. Additional guests were invited to the reception at the Doughton home, which immediately followed the ceremony. Mrs. William Nicholson presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. Preston Doughton cut the bride's cake. Assisting were Mrs. Tom Bryant and Mrs. M. Dale Hilborn.

For her daughter's wedding

Mrs. Hilborn wore a navy blue gabardine suit with pastel blue and navy accessories. Mrs. Doughton attended her son's marriage in a sage green afternoon dress with rose accessories. Their corsages were of pink roses.

After a wedding trip to the coast the couple will be at home in Salem.

Founders Day to Be Observed

Pi Beta Phi will observe Founder's day at the State street chapter house Monday night at a dessert supper at 8 o'clock. Actives, pledges and alumnae have been invited to the affair.

A program will include musical numbers, a review of the founding of national women's fraternity, and the traditional candlelighting ceremony. Miss Dona Adams is chairman and assisting are Misses Betsy Lyon, Winona Dillard, Mary Phyllis Gerth and Kathleen Se-cord.
