

WOMEN'S SECTION

It's Their Day...

The years of high school are important to mothers as well as daughters, for it is during this time that the girls, now adult, find companionship with their mothers. Pictured for our Mother's Day page today is a group of mother-daughter duos, in the family gardens. Several of the girls are seniors and at Salem high and next year will leave for college. Eastward Bound...

Travelers have chosen the spring months for trips east and south. Miss Elizabeth Lord is leaving by plane Thursday for a six weeks trip east to Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Baltimore and New York. She is primarily going east to visit Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lord in Pottstown, Pennsylvania. In New York Miss Lord will be the guest of an old friend and former Oregonian, Mrs. Florence Hockenberry of Bronxville, who has often visited here at the Lord home. Miss Lord and Miss Edith Seayver are spending this weekend at their summer place at Seal Rocks.

Four Salem matrons, Mrs. Frank G. Myers, Mrs. Carl Webb, Mrs. Tom Galloway and Mrs. U. Scott Page are entraining on the Empire Builder May 28 for a month's trip east. Their itinerary includes Chicago, a boat trip on Lake Erie, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, New York City, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C. Enroute home they will stop in Hutchinson, Kansas, where Mrs. Galloway will visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Chamberlain. From there they will go south to Los Angeles and then home.

Membership Dinner...

Some 70 workers, who will solicit membership in the Community Concert series for next winter, will meet Monday night at Nohlgren's for dinner at 6:30 o'clock. Joe Kimball, representative from the New York office of the community concert branch of Columbia Concerts Inc. will be here and will speak following the dinner. He will tell what artists are available for next year's booking, and will discuss with the workers, preferences of the public in Salem.

Present memberships may be renewed until 5:30 o'clock Thursday, May 15 after which time vacancies will be filled by new subscribers. Membership is limited by the seating capacity of the Salem high school auditorium, Salem's largest available place for concerts.

To Wed in South Today...

Miss Marjorie Irma Wells, who formerly lived in Salem, and Neil P. Witting, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil P. Witting of Salem, will exchange marriage vows this afternoon at the Arlington Methodist church in Arlington, Calif., at 3:30 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells of Arlington.

The Rev. Richard K. Reigart will officiate and the bride's sister, Mrs. George Fitzgerald, will be the organist. Mrs. Richard Bridenstine will be the soloist.

Mr. Wells will give his daughter in marriage and for her wedding will wear her mother's bridal gown of ivory satin fashioned with a chiffon yoke adorned with wide lace and seed pearls. Her fingertip length veil is held in place with a tiara trimmed in orange blossoms. She will carry a bouquet of gardenias centered with an orchid.

Miss Nancy Witting, sister of the groom, will be the bride's only attendant. She will wear a powder blue chiffon gown and carry a bouquet of delphinium and pink and white sweetpeas. She will have a coronet of the same flowers in her hair.

John W. Wells, brother of the bride, will be best man and ushers will be F. Norman Smith, Merle Harbach and Harrie Snelling.

For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Wells will wear a pastel blue print gown with black accessories and orchid corsage. Mrs. Witting will attend her son's marriage in a yellow print dress with black accessories and orchid corsage.

The wedding reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple will go to Laguna Beach, on their honeymoon and for going away the bride has chosen an aqua silk print with brown trim and brown and white accessories. Her three-quarter length top coat is of honey maple to which will be pinned an orchid. Mr. Witting and his bride will live in Stockton, Calif., where he is with the Production Credit association. Miss Wells served as program director for young adults at the Salem YWCA.
