

High Noon Nuptials

High noon rites at the First Congregational church Saturday united in marriage Miss Muriel Lindstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom, sr., and Donald B. Eshleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Eshleman. The Rev. Seth Huntington officiated at the nuptials before a setting of spring flowers. Mrs. Craig Coyner was the soloist and Mrs. Mabel S. Powers the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a water lily blue dressmaker suit of wool gabardine. She wore pink accessories with a pink felt hat with flowers at one side. She carried a white bible marked with a white orchid.

Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom, jr. was her sister-in-law's only attendant. She wore a pearl grey suit with black and white accessories and corsage of pink roses. Samuel Eshleman stood with his brother as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lindstrom chose a pastel blue dress with navy blue accessories and Mrs. Eshleman wore a pink dress. Their corsages were of roses. After a wedding trip to British Columbia the newlyweds will be at home in Salem.

MOTHER'S DAY....

No need to remind you about Mother's Day; we know you have that about it several times lately, but HAVE YOU DONE ANYTHING ABOUT IT? We do not mean "have you bought her a piece of jewelry?" We have not that mercenary... we do mean have you sent her a message, have you written her a letter or if she is here, have you secured a remembrance for her? ... a card, a flower or anything to carry with it those few words that mean so much to mother?

If you have neglected until now, any one of the above, you better get on the phone right now. The human voice is always best and mother will be pleased to hear you...

maybe she does live in New York or Los Angeles or Florida so what, you can't afford it? Brother, if you can't afford it you can't afford to smoke, you can't afford a spring suit; in fact, YOU CAN NOT AFFORD TO EAT.
