

Don't Look Now . . .

but . . . We see by the paper that allergies for bubble gum are thought to be the reason for ulcers in mouths of San Diego children. We've never had ulcers, but bubble gum certainly gives us a pain in the neck.

It was told to me . . . as the truth by the one who heard it. Two men, who didn't look too smart standing on the corner of the courthouse block were examining carefully a parking meter post. "Well," said one, "they've had to set 'em in cement. Them horses must pull back awful hard."

Speaking of the weather . . . No matter what the weather man says, it is going to rain. My car is going to get its annual spring bath the first of the week, and that never fails to bring raindrops.

Nuptials at Church

Miss Shirley Joan Langford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Langford, became the bride of Paul Carl Schwertmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schwertmann of Portland, Saturday night at 8 o'clock. The nuptials took place in the Carrier Room of the First Methodist church with Dr. Joseph Adams officiating.

Mrs. Jack Finden sang before the ceremony and Mrs. Agnes Callaghan of Portland was the accompanist. The fireplace was banked with pink snapdragons and blue delphinium. Mrs. Donald Largent, sister of the bride, lighted the candles. She wore a turquoise crepe frock with white elbow length gloves, white hat and accessories and corsage of baby white gladioluses and sweet peas.

Mr. Langford gave his daughter in marriage. For her wedding she selected a navy blue faille costume suit with cutaway jacket, and pink button trim. Her navy straw bonnet hat was adorned with pink and lavender flowers and she wore pink gloves and navy accessories. Pinned to the shoulders of her suit was a purple orchid.

Miss Joyce Langford was her sister's honor maid. She wore a pink sardine suit with cutaway jacket and a black straw bonnet with pink flower trim. Her accessories were black and her corsage was of pink rosebuds. Wesley Hodson of Portland was best man and ushers were Willis Pyle, Jr., of Corvallis and Lyle McKinstry of Portland.

For her daughter's nuptials Mrs. Langford wore a rose beige dress with draped skirt, black straw hat with violet trim and black accessories. Her flowers were pink rosebuds and gardenias. Mrs. Schwertmann was unable to attend her son's marriage due to illness.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony. Mrs. Everett Wilson of Portland cut the cake and Miss Ruth Gettman presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. A. S. Harvey assisted and Mrs. Keith Pyle passed the guest book. After a trip to the coast the newlyweds will be at home in Portland, where he is in business.

Wards Serves All America

Every dot on this map is a Montgomery Ward Store, Mail Order House, or Catalog Office. More than 800 . . . too many to count, on a map as small as this. Cities and towns of every size, in every state . . . from the mountains of Maine, to Washington's Puget Sound . . . from Florida's palm trees, to California's redwoods . . . from northern Minnesota's iron mines, to the Rio Grande Valley of Texas. And in all the surrounding countryside, too, Wards and "the folks" are old friends, through the millions of catalogs Wards sends them every year. All this has been going on, remember, for 75 years! For 4 generations, men and women in every part of America have learned to know Montgomery Ward as a name they can trust. They have learned that Wards means good, reliable quality . . . at a price that saves them money.

Written by A. Montgomery Ward and still the guiding principle of our Company in this 75th Anniversary year.

"We desire to so conduct our affairs that all who deal with us will feel satisfied with their trade; will be pleased with our methods and retain a feeling of friendliness for us; will trade with us repeatedly and will be pleased to express their satisfaction to others."
